Y-TEEN BANQUET

The Y-Teens are sponsoring a Mother and Daughter banquet Wednesday, May 4 in the high school cafeteria.

Co-chairmen are Virginia Talbert and Betty Moshofsky, seniors. Arden Armfield, senior, is in charge of ticket sales. Kathleen Ackerman and Carol Rhodes of table decorations. Margaret Powne and Kathleen McClure, table favors.

Donna Harvey is head of programs. Lois Peterkort and Kathleen Ackerman, entertainment and Donna Burt, publicity.

Marilyn Brewster heads the home economics style show.

Boys from the senior class will serve.

All high school girls and their mothers are invited to the banquet.

BLACK MAGIC LIGHT

Black light was defined as a trade name applied to invisible ultra-violet radiations by Owen Hoffman, southern minister, in his demonstration last Monday at Beaverton high school.

Mr. Hoffman says that there will be many positions open in black light in the near future. It can be used to detect fresh foods from stale, or even find the worm in a nut. It has unlimited uses in the field of advertising as things treated with substances that can be activated by black light glow with a beautiful iridescence.

To illustrate this he had a display of minerals that looked commonplace in ordinary physical light, but when the invisible black light radiations were turned on them, they changed to brilliant hues, admitting "cold light."

As an amusing ending he turned the ray on the audience making teeth and eyes glow white while flesh turned black.

RATES ALL-AMERICAN

The Beaverton high school Hummer received All-American rating in the 40th All-American Newspaper and Magazine Critical Service conducted by the National Scholastic Press Association for the first semester issues of the 1948-49 school year. This is the sixth time since 1944 rating has been achieved.

The Hummer was entered as a monthly paper of a senior high school of from 500 to 699 enrollment and earned 960 points.

MAKE-UP, NEWS STYLE

The beginning journalism class, under the direction of Miss Amarette Barnes, has been studying the make-up, or content, of newspapers.

Students must learn how to balance a page, such as contrasting light heads, with darker ones. They may balance a "cut", or picture, in the upper left hand corner by placing another cut or a dark head, in the lower right hand corner of the page.

FLORALS THAT BLOOM

Biology students of Mrs. Kathryn Ward are carrying corsages to class as they study and draw the parts of a flower.

GRADES TALK TOURNAMENT

Saturday, May 7, is the date set for a grade school speech tournament to be held at the Beaverton grade school under the direction of E. G. Webb, forensic coach at Beaverton high school and William Moore, program chairman and senior at Beaverton high.

All the grade schools in the Beaverton union high school district are eligible to enter representatives in four contests: oratory, poetry reading, humorous and serious declamation.

Entrants will be divided into two groups: the upper, including grades 6, 7 and 8 and the lower including the first five grades.

Announcements of the tournament are being sent out to the schools. Further plans will be made public later.
