Treglown-Koch Pledge Vows At Trinity Baptist

Miss Beatrice M. Treglown, of Hillsboro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Treglown, and Norman J. Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Koch of Portland, were united in marriage June 4 at 8 p.m., at Trinity Baptist church in Portland. Reverend John W. Big pastor of the church officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in white sheer nylon with three-foot train, long, full sleeves and beaded neckline and a finger tip veil with beaded tiara. She carried a cascade bouquet of cream colored roses and orchids with long streamers to which vanda orchids were tied.

Mrs. Jack Wasson, of Hillsboro was matron of honor and Miss Elayne Jackson, also of Hillsboro, was maid of honor. They wore blue taffeta with square neckline, cap sleeves and flared skirts. Their small hats were trimmed with flowers and their bouquets, in cascadian style, were of pink roses.

Mrs. George Coburn played the wedding march from Lohengrin and accompanied soloist Ronald Clark in his presentation of "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer."

Caroline and Edress Williams, of Waldport and cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids and Rayene Koch, niece of the groom was junior bridesmaid. They all were dressed in pink taffeta with cap sleeves and flared skirts. Their bouquets were cascades of pink roses.

Little Joy Engelen, flower girl, was dressed in a blue taffeta formal and carried a basket of Cecil Brunner roses.

Bud Slovick, of Aloha, was best man. Ushers were Charles D. and Richard R. Treglown, brothers of the bride; James Wotten, Jr., of Beaverton and Paul Grimm, of Aloha. Eugene Koch of Seaside, nephew of the groom was junior groomsman.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Centerpiece on the table was the decorated wedding cake with large bowls of gardenias and sweet peas sprayed with fountains of water on each side of the cake.

Mrs. Ethel Powers presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Ray Koch and Mrs. Eugene Koch cut the cake; Mrs. Charles Earls and Mrs. R. L. Ostlund poured coffee. Miss Carmelite Napier had charge of the gifts while Mrs. Bud Slovick passed the guest book.

The bride's going away costume was a three piece suit of light blue trimmed in steel cut beads with full length coat. The young couple's honeymoon trip was through Northern Canada. Upon return, they will make their home at Cedar Mill Park.

The bride graduated from Hillsboro high school and Pacific University. She is employed by the Harry Mittleman contractor co. as bookkeeper. The bridegroom is a graduate of Jefferson high school in Portland. He served five years in the U. S. Navy and at present is a partner in the Cook's Cleaners at Beaverton. (Photo by Logan-Markham)

Business Group Falls Far Away At Last Meeting

Whether an example of summer decline or vanishing interest in affairs of the city, the Beaverton Businessmen's Association fell far short of membership representation on Thursday evening, June 16, when 11 were present at the regularly scheduled meeting.

The group, after extended deliberation and debate, voted to extend $25 to help out the area recreation program. The gift was plainly qualified as not the beginning of a trend and was approved by those present because it was felt of importance to businessmen that some facilities for youngsters be maintained to keep them off the streets.

Ed Zumwalt, who has had wide experience in sports, was named association representative to the area recreation committee. His appointment by Leonard Adams, president, emphasized a belief that his counsel might aid in the advisory work of the committee.

After discussion of sites for bicycle stands, the group went on record as favoring three 12-bike capacity stands, to be placed strategically and immediate construction was ordered.

The association voted to send a letter of congratulations to the Beaverton junior chamber of commerce on the occasion of their successful project, the float entry in the Rose Festival parade. The first prize blue ribbon, the membership indicated, gave Beaverton much favorable publicity.

In the absence of Jim Duncan, secretary-treasurer, it was suggested that minutes of the meeting be compiled from the Beaverton Enterprise.

The Beaverton Businessmen's Association membership lists number more than 60.

Old Time Dance Group To Decide Future of Plans

On Friday evening, June 24, from 8 to 10 p.m., the old time dance group will meet at the Beaverton high school cafeteria for another rousing go at the "dosie do". Meanwhile, leaders are wrestling with the decision as to whether or not future sessions should be abandoned until fall.

According to Mrs. Lillian Carter, attendance at the folk dance affairs has slumped considerably of late, dating from the advent of daylight saving time. Friday's meeting is expected to bring some help in arriving at the answer of future plans.

Since it is impossible to tell anything from a show of hands of those present, Mrs. Carter says the only indication as to whether or not it is worthwhile to continue this summer will be the size of the crowd in attendance.

In other words, she summarizes if old time dance fans want the Friday evening functions to continue, they may be sure of it by being present at each of them and taking part.

One Percent Of Eligible Voters Approve Budget

A total of 37 votes out of a possible 3,500 eligible voters was cast at the annual school election held at the Beaverton Grade School on June 20, 1949.

On the question whether the school district should exceed the 6% tax limitation by $84,645.21 the vote was 37 votes in favor of exceeding the limitation with no year term with a total of 33

Fathers Work On Craft House For Girls' Camp Adahi

Rushing preparations for the July 10 beginning session at Camp Adahi, Campfire fathers and interested friends of the organization have been working on the building of a craft house for about 2-3 completed and more volunteer help is needed on Sunday, to complete the building for the coming four summer sessions.

Camp on July 10 will begin at noon and conclude the following Friday night with a council fire where all camp awards are made. The first session will be followed by three similar weeks all to begin at Sunday noon and end Friday night.

Before this year, the campers have had to keep all their hand craft supplies, game equipment, etc., in the main Lodge. No project that took more than one craft session could be undertaken, because there was no place to keep it until the next craft period. The girls worked on the dining room tables and everything had to be put away for the three meals each day.

The Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds and Horizon Club members raised the money themselves for the Craft house by selling Camp Fire cookies this Spring. However, the building material was donated by local firms and the Camp Committee believes the money the girls earned can be used to buy much needed handcraft and camp craft supplies.

Picnic For North And So. Dakota Slated July 10th

What a resident of North Dakota will say to a resident of South Dakota might well be settled on July 10 when the Dakota States society holds its annual picnic at Jantzen Beach Park.
