

COMPLETE CAMP FIRE GROUP SPENDS WEEK AT CAMP ADAHI

By Mrs. Edna Blöthen

McKAY-PROGRESS — The Can Ka Ki Ya Campfire group went to camp 100%. The eight girls will spend the week of July 23-28 at Camp Adahi.

In this week the girls will crowd many hours with girls of other groups in Washington county. Three crafts are offered: Camp and outdoor; creative and dramatics, from these each girl chooses two.

Under the direction of 14 counselors who are college women, skilled in their chosen craft, the girls have classes.

All have an opportunity to learn swimming under the leadership of a Red Cross life guard graduate.

One over night trip into near by hills show the girls how they can live with the minimum of cooking facilities.

A forest ranger guides them on a nature hike.

The week is climaxed on Friday night with a council fire. A report is given of what has been accomplished and the dramatic group presents an original play and an interpretation of camp fire days.

Local girls enjoying this week are: Linda Horney, Joan Emmons, Joyce Whyttenberg, Ardue Wakefield, Donnye Strayer, Joyce Van Hynning, Ann Gagnon, and Phyllis Canida.

RETURN FROM OAKRIDGE

4H GARDENS LOOK GOOD
Joe Cox, 4H county director, spent Wednesday July 19 visiting the many gardens of club members. He stated that the gardens looked good despite the late planting and poor garden conditions.

VISITING AT ALSEA
Mr. and Mrs. John Harms, John Neal and Kay spent the weekend visiting friends at Alsea.

Farm Prices on Increase After Decrease of '49

The first half of 1950 has closed with the price level tending upward, according to the weekly farm price, crops, and weather review prepared by the OSC extension service from USDA reports and other data. Prices received by farmers and retail prices, after decreasing during the last half of 1949, were nearly back to the level of a year ago. Wholesale prices on July 4 were higher than a year earlier. Farm costs prices were also above last year.

The over-all increase in farm prices, nationally, from mid-January to mid-June has averaged about 5 per cent. In Oregon, the increase during the past six months has amounted to more than 7 per cent. Advances were quite general in all major commodity groups with the exception of dairy products.

A recent report from the Bureau of Labor Statistics showed a sharp gain during the week ending July 4 in wholesale prices. Farm products prices at wholesale advanced nearly 4 per cent. Increases in livestock were especially sharp. Livestock prices on July 4 averaged nearly 15 per cent above a year earlier. All major commodity groups advanced during the week with the exception of metals and metal products. Compared with a year earlier, all groups were higher except for textile products and chemicals and allied products.

The retail cost of foods in the "market basket" has also been increasing in recent months. The farmer's share of each dollar that consumers spent for farm food products rose from 47 cents in March to 48 cents in April. A record high of 54 cents was reached in 1945 and a record low of 32 cents in 1933.

STATE'S SCHOOL INSPECTIONS GIVE BASIS FOR APPRAISALS

Standards of education, designed to give local, county and state administrative and supervisory officials a basis for appraisal and to aid the schools themselves in self evaluation, have become the standard upon which participation is granted in basic school support funds, according to information appearing under the mark of Rex Putman, superintendent of public instruction, state department of education.

No school is rated as "standard" for any definite period but must constantly improve in keeping with change of standards and conditions. While private schools may request an educational survey to determine its degree of standardization, only public schools are entitled, through the rating, to receive basic school support fund money.

HEX JOHN BARLEYCORN
In McMinnville, an unyielding hex is on the insidious John Barleycorn.

The TELEPHONE REGISTER registers a proposal which is aimed at the heart of an evil condition—aiming to outlaw the sale of alcoholic beverages in the county.

The Oregon Temperance league is in the forefront of the drive, having collected some 1300 valid signatures backing the local option measure already checked and about 2 months in which to obtain the required 1500 voters total.

Sparking the drive for a return of such nationally remembered institutions as bootleggers, blind pigs and speakeasies, are ministerial associations of the county, with a concentration of its forces in McMinnville and Newberg.

Companion measure, statewide, is the Temperance league proposal to forbid sale of "promotively advertised" alcoholic beverages, subject to vote on the November ballot. Of the 27,000 signatures allegedly already obtained, 1700 are said to have come from Yamhill county, a greater proportion, on per capita basis, than from any other county in the state.

For elementary schools, the following conditions are inspected and reported on as a basis for continued basic school support funds:

1. Instructional program, as reflected in spirit of the school, curriculum, instructional supplies and equipment and library facilities.
2. Administration, adequacy and professional attitude of teachers; management of school; supervision throughout; community relations; length of term; teacher-pupil ratio; transportation and custodial service.
3. School environment — site; buildings; lighting; exits; toilet facilities; water supply and sanitation; covered play space, walks and display of flag.

Secondary school standards compare with elementary, by the following items: length of term; program of studies; staff adequacy; staff qualifications; school plant; furniture, equipment and supplies; library; graduation requirements; marks, records, and reports; transportation; administration and spirit of school.
