The Woman's Corner

By Mary Grace

Dear Mary Grace: Is soup a good substitute for meat? My whole family enjoys it very much and I have made all kinds. I serve it often in place of meat. Do you have a recipe for a cream soup that isn't too spicy? Thank you. Mrs. A. D.

Dear Mrs. A. D: Soups are an excellent food and should be served frequently during the week, but they are not a substitute for meat. Meat is a protein food and needed to maintain good health. While soups are not protein, they are rich in minerals and vitamins—as is this CREAMED POTATO-ONION SOUP:

Ingredients for 6:
4 medium potatoes cubed
4 onions sliced
2 tblsp. butter
2 tblsp. flour
1 tsp. salt—pinch pepper
3 cups milk scalded
1 cup potato water
1 tblsp. parsley chopped

Method:
Peel potatoes. Cook potatoes and onions together in water to cover. When tender, drain. Save water. Press potatoes and onions through coarse strainer; set aside. In large pan melt butter, blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk and potato water slowly. Stir constantly. Add potato and onion puree, blend, cook 3 minutes. Beat with rotary egg beater 1 minute. Sprinkle parsley over top and serve hot.

Did you know that lean fish is best for reducers? Choose Bass, Halibut, Shrimp, Cod or Oysters when planning your menus.

LOST PARK BALL CLUB WINS ALL OF FIVE GAMES PLAYED

By Gertrude E. Pearson

(Held from last week)

CEDAR MILL—The local Lost Park soft ball team has made a splendid record in playing as a member team of the Orenco league, so far winning five straight games in the first half of the seasons playing, with one game called for rain to be made up.

Coaching the boys are Mr. Ernest Emerson with Lyle Skeels as team manager. Members of the team include Billie and Donald Skeels, Nowell and Darryle Emerson, Bruce and Douglas Ketel, Arthur Emig, Melvin Henson, Bill Bruce, David Peterson, Bennie Indahl and Carl Stark. Better attendance of community residents is urged.

Games are all played at Orenco beginning at 7:30 p. m., following schedule still pending: July 20, Bonny Slope; July 28, Junior Farmers, and August 4, Ennes Lumber Co. Those having cars available are urged to help with transportation to and from the games.

Younger boys above the age of 10 years are invited to practice with the team on Monday and Wednesday evenings. The usual practice field is the Cedar Mill school ball park.

Large Crowd Turns Out To Put Over Local Horse Show

MIXED PROGRAM OF EVENTS OFFERED TROPHIES; PROCEEDS GO TO YOUTH PROGRAM OF SPONSORS

A large and enthusiastic crowd helped make the Kiwanis and J. C. horse show a huge success last Friday evening at the high school field. The competitive events attracted some of the top horses in the vicinity with some owners trailering their mounts from as far away as Eugene and Salem.

Although final figures on the receipts are not yet available, it is believed that the profit from the affair was much more than sponsors anticipated. All proceeds from the show go to youth programs sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Guy Carr served as chairman of the show and was assisted by Chet Huddleston.

Garbed in a stunning black and white Western outfit and mounted on a black horse, Miss Gayl Benson, queen of the show, was a popular favorite with the spectators. Miss Benson was the candidate of the Washington County Posse and received more than 11,000 votes to win her place.

Five princesses in appropriate western riding clothes assisted the queen in presenting trophies and ribbons to the winners. They were: Ivraletta Bouchor, sponsored by the Aloha chamber of commerce; Kathleen Ackerman, Beaverton Kiwanis club protogee; Virginia Huddleston, candidate of the Beaverton Saddle Club; Darlene Spink, sponsored by the Canyon Road Boosters' Club; and Pat Traner, sponsored by the Beaverton J. C.'s.

Preceding the show, a mounted parade led by the Washington County Posse gave residents a preview of the contestants. Organizations taking part in the parade included the Beaverton Saddle Club, Oregon Ranch Girls and the Portland Posse as well as individual riders.

VISITOR FROM TIGARD

Miss Elsie Caldwell of Tigard visited at the Geo. Blasser home last Wednesday.

ON SHORT TIME VISIT

Mrs. Wm. Smith, who was in California for a short time, has returned and is with her sister, Mrs. Herd, who has sold her home on 2nd and Angel to Mr. and Mrs. Hall.

A mixed program of events appealing to both English and Western riders provided a diversified evening for the audience which gave a big hand to the first jumping event. Drilling, presented by both the Portland Posse and the Oregon Ranch Girls, was popular with the spectators but, because of the slick grass on the field, was slower than customary.

The Tenessee walking horses drew a big hand as did the Palomino and matched pair classes. Although the events such as the fine harness and five-gaited classes drew few entries, they captured the crowd's interest.

Children held the spotlight with both the Shetland Pony race and the Shetland Pony class. The only spill of the evening occurred when a rider and his horse went down during the excitement of the musical barrels event.

Carl Windolph, Beaverton horse fancier, served as judge for most of the events and music was furnished by Tiny Dumont and his Wranglers.

Almost a hundred entries were made for the show and all of the winners of the first places expressed appreciation for the unusually beautiful trophies. A booth manned by the Boy Scouts did a rushing business in hot dogs and coffee.

An unofficial entry in the show was a small mule, ridden by Duke Clausen, which proved a great favorite and was awarded a hot dog as a special trophy.

Winners in the events were as follows:

JUMPING HORSES: 1st, Cynthia Cookingham; 2nd, Celia Thorsen; 3rd, David Meyer.

PINTO CLASS: 1st, R. J. Frank; 2nd, Donna Craur; 3rd, John Perkin.

FINE HARNESS CLASS: 1st, Joe Biles.

SHETLAND PONY CLASS: 1st Steven Biles; 2nd, Larry Raley; 3rd, Pat Sharp.

WALKING HORSES: 1st, Mrs. Lyle Scraggs; 2nd, Dorothy Anderegg; 3rd, John McGillinay.

PALOMINO CLASS: 1st, Bill Bradley; 2nd, Mrs. Fred Cook; 3rd, Joe Van Dyke.

STAKE BENDING (teams of four) 1st, Portland Mounted Posse; 2nd, Washington County Posse Juniors; 3rd, Washington County Posse.

MUSICAL BARRELS: 1st, Maryann Ferry; 2nd, Glenn Bard; 3rd, Beverly Van Dyke.

MATCHED PAIRS: 1st, Mrs. Bill Bradley, Mrs. Fred Cook; 2nd, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Frank; 3rd, Barbara Wrighton, Celia Thorsen.

SHETLAND PONY RACE: 1st, Allen King; 2nd, Pat Sharp; 3rd, Larry Raley.

FIVE GAITED CLASS: 1st, C. K. Woodcook.

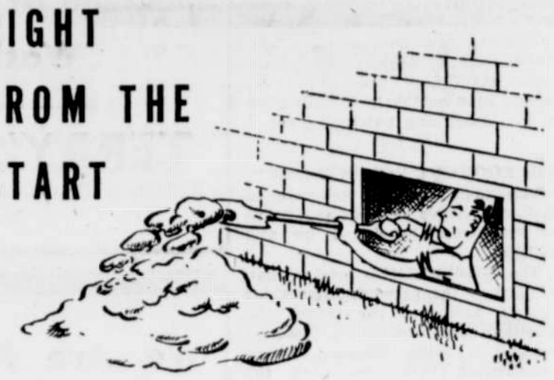
RIGHT FROM THE START



Ever know a man who built a house with an inadequate basement? He had to enlarge it the hard way. He now knows the value of doing it right from the start. Which means being adequate. It is just as sensible to scoop out a basement under a house by hand as it is to build a structure with an electrical system barely enough to meet today's minimum needs. You're going to be using more electricity in 1950 than you did in 1949; more the next year than in 1950, and so on. For this is the Electrical Age. Are you going to permit an installation that will have to be ripped out of walls, floors and foundations a few years hence at a cost many times what an adequate installation made at the start will cost you? Your Qualified Electrical Contractor is the expert on electrical adequacy. Consult him now—at the start.
