Beaverton Asks Repeal of Ore. Statute Passed 1917

LAW REQUIRES MAINTENANCE OF ALL STATE AND COUNTY HIGHWAYS WITHIN BOUNDARIES

"All county roads or public highways within the corporate limits of the town of Beaverton, Washington county, Oregon, are hereby declared to be streets of said town and shall, upon the passage of this act, be accepted by said town as streets thereof, and shall be worked, maintained and improved in like manner as other streets in said town and shall be under the full and complete control and jurisdiction of the council of said town of Beaverton."

The above law, passed in 1917, has arisen to haunt the city of Beaverton, according to report at the October 9 meeting of the city council, particularly in respect to attention by the Washington county commissioners of county roads in the city.

Five towns in the state were singled out by the 1917 legislature for identical laws: Amity, Myrtle Point, Monmouth, Gaston and Beaverton. Explanation is that these towns were anxious to have state highways put through their areas and this law was offered as an inducement.

The council directed Dave Lofgren, city attorney, to prepare a bill to submit to the Washington county legislative delegation asking repeal of this bill, Section 100-1707 OCLA.

Another development in the county-city situation was highlighted by a letter from the League of Oregon Cities declaring that with formation of a county planning commission the Beaverton planning commission's jurisdiction within seven miles of city limits is now cut to city limits.

Hereafter, it is pointed out, all subdivisions in the Beaverton area must pass county, not city, planning requirements.

Gov't. Offers Wash. Co. Low Rentals

KERKMAN PLANS TO APPOINT BOARD FOR HOUSING PROPOSAL

A low-rent public housing program for Washington county, with eight 5-room units for Banks, is promised by the Federal Public Housing Administration, according to H. D. Kerkman, who declares he is about to appoint a five-man commission to administer the program.

According to information from the government, a special provision of the housing act of 1949 makes it possible for county government to take advantage of federal and state legislation to provide adequate rental homes for low-income families who are veterans or are living in substandard, dilapidated or crowded dwellings. The program, known as the Rural Non-Farm Housing Program, recognizes that unsafe and unsanitary housing conditions are not limited to large cities.

A county housing authority of five non-salaried commissioners to serve five-year terms, is empowered to employ salaried personnel to carry out its policies.

The federal government provides money to start the program. The Authority issues tax-exempt bonds to pay construction costs and repay the government for the initial investment. These bonds are guaranteed by the government which, through the Public Housing Administration, agrees to make up the difference each year between rent revenues and operating costs and bond retirement. Annual contribution may not exceed 4 1/2% of the total housing project cost. Exemption of the dwellings from taxation is a requirement of state law. But three local housing authority may make payments in lieu of taxes—up to 10% of shelter rent paid by tenants—as compensation for services provided.

Estimated shelter cost, per month, is $23 which, with water and utilities, is not supposed to exceed $30. Total payment from tenant and government approximates a maximum $54.49 per month.

Legion Auxiliary Public Sociable Bid All Oct. 18

A real open house and social night is planned for next Wednesday night, October 18th at the American Legion Hall. All veterans and families are invited to attend the program which will begin at 8:30.

For some time there has been a growing need for a party where newcomers to the community and long time residents may meet on common ground. The American Legion Auxiliary has planned this free evening of program and refreshments.

All veterans and friends are urged to attend to renew old and make new friendships while enjoying a pleasant time.

Knife and Fork Club Schedules Meeting Oct. 17

Regular meeting of the Knife and Fork club of Washington county is announced by Vice Goodman, secretary, as Tuesday, October 17, 6:30 p. m., in the Peter Boscow school cafeteria, Hillsboro.

Featured speaker will be Imre Kovacs who is described as "tall, handsome and possessed of a charming personality." Further information has not been offered.

SADDLE CLUB NIGHT
Beaverton Saddle club met last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Huddleston on Watson Road.

Kiwanis Club Invites Gov. Oct. 18 Meet

CAFETERIA USED TO ACCOMMODATE LARGE ANTICIPATED CROWD

Governor and Mrs. Douglas McKay will be guests of the Kiwanis Club of Beaverton, at the regular meeting, on the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 18. The gong sounds at 6:30 as usual.

The meeting has been moved from the Kiwanis Hall to the cafeteria at the High School. This was done as it is anticipated many of the members will wish to bring friends.

This will be a Ladies Nite. The food will be prepared by the staff of the High School cafeteria and the menu will be Master-minded by that eminent chef Felix "French Dressing" Sorbets.

Pair Travels To Ohio To Pick Up School Dist. Bus

Leaving by streamliner to Chicago and continuing by bus to Lima, Ohio, Howard Smith and Mike Hauth of Beaverton, took delivery of District 48's new school buses, returning on October 10 after a trip through half the continent.

At Wheatland, Wyoming, Smith visited many old classmates of some 18 years ago. Visiting the fifth grade of public school in his old home town while the students were learning about Oregon from geography books, he proceeded to give an hour's lecture on the state before two different sections of the grade. He also answered all the questions of the youngsters.

An interesting stop in Wyoming, Smith continues, was at the "Little America" service station, which has been outfitted as one of the most luxurious stops on the entire trip.

Gas pumps are lined up for about 400 feet; deep pile rugs and exquisite furnishings feature the restrooms, along with shower bath facilities and electric shaving outlets. A deluxe restaurant is also outfitted in like style. Over a million dollars is reputed to have gone into the installation.

The two bus drivers found the surprising fact that various states they crossed require an entry fee, with heavy penalty assessed for non-compliance.

Smith, a truck driver in his own right in Beaverton, reports that by conversation with other drivers he learned some of the "code of lights" used by transcontinental truckers to pass pertinent messages and warning to vehicles encountered.

The middlewest, according to the travelers' observations, experienced an exceptionally cold and wet summer, with some of the crops not reaching full maturity on schedule. There were many complaints of farmers regarding more rain than was wanted. In September, Ohio experienced its first frost.

W. Slope Lions Hear Candidate Speak on Korea

At the October 9 meeting of the West Slope Lions club, a dinner affair held at the Wah Nom cafe, Roy R. Hewitt, candidate for congress from the first district, presented an informative talk on Korea.

Hewitt pointed out that Korea has long been densely populated and for most of its history has been a vassal state. There are many indications, however, that the people have a passionate yearning for autonomy. Lack of food is the strongest reason, the speaker held, that North Koreans have fallen victim to the wooing of Communism, with its promises of a full belly.

Hewitt, opposing incumbent Walter Norblad in the November election, has served as dean of the law school at Willamette university and on the faculty of Oregon State college. He is running on the Democratic ticket.

PROCLAMATION

October 15 to 21 is National Business Women's Week. The 1950 theme for the 23rd observance of the week is "Measure Up for Full Partnership." As individuals and as a federation we have an important part to play in contributing toward the sum total of world progress.

Mayor H. H. Jeffries

Family Arrives In Beaverton At End Of DP Camp

Mr. and Mrs. Grigori Kleschuk and their baby son, Mihail, after five years in Hitler's concentration camp, arrived in Portland by plane Sunday morning, October 8, at 2:25 a. m. They were met at the airport by the Rev. and Mrs. King and taken to their new home on Farmington Road.

The family were brought as displaced persons from the D. P. camp at Munich by Bethel Congregational Church. Because Mihail was so young, he was born in the camp August 10th, they were flown the entire distance. They boarded their plane in Munich on Wednesday the 4th and arrived in Portland the 8th.

Pleased to see America and to be able to rest and relax in comfort, Mr. and Mrs. Kleschuk are anxious to learn of the United States and of Oregon. Sunday at 1:30 p. m. there will be a pot luck dinner in the community room of the church when the new family can meet their friends of the church.

The apartment with its furniture and a well stocked larder were provided by special committees of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Heid were heads of the committee for furniture and equipment. Mrs. Walter Van Kleek and Mrs. Charles Shively were heads of the committee for food and kitchen utensils. Mr. Charles Drew is head of the employment committee.

Nearly every member of the congregation and many friends of the church helped these committees provide the things necessary for home and kitchen.

Mr. and Mrs. Kleschuk are living at 2191 Farmington Road.

Beaverton Plays Newberg Friday; Each Has 1 Loss

Third straight home game of the season for Beaverton matches the once-defeated Beavers with a visiting aggregation of Newberg, with game time at 8 p. m., Friday, Oct. 13. Newberg also has one TYV league loss.

Last week, the Beavers fought a losing battle against two adversaries, a heavier Hillsboro eleven and General Mud and Rain. Final score was 18 to 7, after a scoreless first quarter.

Standout for the Beavers were Jimmy Tsugawa, Jimmy McKnight, Ed Ramsdell, Bill Miller, Chuck Holland and Lyle Kingsley, although the entire squad took to the field with determination and fighting spirit. Hillsboro stars were Albert Leopold, Connie Sproul, Jerry LaBlanc and Lavern Meacham.

First Hilli score came in the second quarter after a punt by Byrd from the goal line was taken on the Hillsboro 36 and returned to the 30 yard line. In seven plays, Sprouny charged across through the center of the line for the tally. Point attempt after touchdown, in two tries, was no good.

A fumble on the Beaverton 13, in the second quarter, gave the Hillsboro Spartans the ball and four plays later, Leopold charged over. Again the conversion failed. Half ended Hillsboro 12, Beaverton 0.

The third quarter was a saw-saw skid, with neither side quite making pay dirt. In the start of the third quarter, from the 29, Ramsdell rambled to the 18 yard line, from where Tsugawa scurried across the goal line. McKnight converted.

Final Spartan score followed the drive following the Beaverton kickoff. Seventeen plays and one offside penalty charged to Beaverton were necessary for Leopold to score.

INSPECTOR STOCK-YARD
Walter E. Gellinsky, Jr., just returned from a five week trip through Glacier National Park, attended the Canadian Legion Convention at Winnipeg, Canada, then proceeded to Chicago and Kansas City where he inspected the stock yards.

Campaign On Crusade For Freedom Set

DRIVE OF 1 WEEK SEEKS SIGNATURES RATHER THAN CASH

A full week drive within the Beaverton area in behalf of the Crusade for Freedom was agreed upon October 9 at a meeting in the Beaverton Legion hall, attended by representatives of the American Legion and Auxiliary; VFW and Auxiliary; junior chamber of commerce and Jaycee wives; Kiwanis club and BPW club.

It was explained that while donations will be gladly accepted in behalf of the proposal to establish a chain of non-military, non-government radio stations to carry the message of Democracy to all of Mid-Europe and Asia, the campaign will be primarily directed to the collection of signatures to be entombed at the base of the Freedom Bell, in West Berlin. Willis Cady is the designated chairman for the eastern end of Washington county, serving as a regional assistant to Arthur Kroeger, Hillsboro, who heads the county organization.

A table bearing scrolls for signatures will be set up in the First Security Bank and in the Beaverton Pharmacy on Friday and Saturday of this week. Others will be placed in various business places throughout the area.

Ministers will be contacted with request for mention of the Crusade for Freedom along with Sunday sermons. I. R. Metzler, superintendent of the Beaverton union high school has also agreed to cooperate with the drive insofar as the high school is concerned.

First Security Gains 1/2 Million In Deposit Total

In the nine months from January 1 to October 4, 1950, the First Security Bank of Beaverton has gained in deposits in the amount of $501,511, according to Jay Gibson, director.

Loans during the same period also showed substantial increase, amounting to a gain of $397,371.

Gibson points out that now depositors have more protection for their accounts. A man and his wife may each hold a $10,000 account in individual names and in addition have a joint account. Each of the three accounts would be insured to $10,000, and a maximum for the couple of $30,000.

Beaverton Club Observes Week With Activities

The Beaverton club will usher in Business Women's week by group attendance at Pilgrim Lutheran church 10:30 a. m. Sunday, Oct. 15. In the afternoon the club is hostess at a tea, held at the home of Mrs. Emma Boyd, 25 SW 7th, 2 to 5 o'clock.

Invitations have been extended to other BPW clubs as well as other civic clubs of the city.

In observation of the week posters are placed in local store windows.

There will be a daily broadcast during the week from station KOIN, 7:15 a. m. On Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 17, 2 o'clock, over KOAC, will be a broadcast on the subject "The Key to Public Affairs," with Charline Edwards and Edna Duggan participating and with a special message from Governor McKay.

The local club is sponsoring an essay writing contest as a special feature.

The Public Affairs dinner will be October 26 at the Merle Davies school, 7 p. m. Rep. Walter Norblad will be the speaker of the evening.

On National Business Women's Week, President Truman said: "I am glad that American women are rising to their opportunities for work in business and professions. Their participation in the activities of offices, conference rooms and legislative halls is good for the country."

Councilmen Express Anger At Sewer Contractor's Job

METHOD OF REPLACING CITY STREETS FAILS TO SATISFY; CONTRACT COMPLIANCE EXPECTED

Members of the city council, singly and as a group, expressed anger and dissatisfaction at the method by which the Salem Sand and Gravel company, sewer contractor, is replacing city streets following installation of mains, laterals and side sewers.

Mayor H. H. Jeffries, in answer to questions as to the full compliance of the sewer contract which provided that streets be put back in comparable shape as before the sewer laying began, declared that $36,000 is still withheld and council approval will be necessary before it is released.

Meanwhile, Carl Green, consulting sanitary engineer of Cunningham and Associates, has informed the Salem Sand and Gravel, thru Clarence Wilson, superintendent, that "it is imperative that necessary work be done as rapidly as possible, in order that it may be completed before heavy rains set in. . . . Considerable work is still needed to place the streets in the condition that existed before sewer construction was begun last spring."

At the meeting, it was voted to accept the bid of N. R. Murner to check and spread assessments for sewer and side sewers, in the amount of $300.

Regarding a sidewalk on Second street between Stott and Erickson, no reply is noted from a letter recently sent to the school board of district 48. Complaints are being received that school children have nowhere to walk but in the roadway. The council decided to again call this to the attention of the school board and otherwise to initiate the improvement.

Question of Henry Mayfield, city police officer, not paying an occupation tax for his sand and gravel business came up for discussion. The sentiment was that there was no valid excuse for this refusal and that notification be sent Mayfield at once.

The Southern Pacific railway, asked about right of way behind Weibly Shoe Store and Harry's Ice Cream Parlor No. 2, on Broadway for a 4" cast iron sewer pipe line, furnished the city with an agreement stipulating an annual cost of $25. The council declared this outrageous and indicated other means would be taken for sewer hookup of the two firms.

Bill Nye, public relations consultant of Waale-Campian company, architects, of Portland, appeared in a mysterious presentation. He declared two industrial firms of Portland are eyeing an establishment for Beaverton and suggested the city take certain steps to encourage this development. He refused to say which firms are interested but averred that a payroll of 200 to 300 persons is promised. This architect firm is the one now undertaking the enlargement of the Beaverton Safeway store, a job which has set to begin, Nye declared, on October 10.

Study is being made on the width of Fifth street, from Tucker to Franklin, preparatory to plans of extending the street through to Sandberg's addition at Beaverton Highlands, next spring.

Next council meeting is October 16.

Local Delegation Attend Ceremony Of Cornerstone

The Cornerstones Laying ceremony of the new First Methodist Church at Hillsboro was read Sunday by the Bishop Gerald Kennedy, who extended his greeting in a preaching service. Others presenting their congratulations were the Rev. O. J. Gill, District Superintendent of the Forest Grove area, the Rev. Ralph Kleen, pastor of the Forest Grove Methodist Church, and Rev. Kenneth Coates of the Congregational church of Hillsboro.

Those attending from the Beaverton church were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roseman and the Rev. and Mrs. Horace H. Mounts.

A coffee hour for the visiting ministers and their wives was graciously presided over by Mrs. Clarence Forsberg at the parsonage.

Junior Teacher Presents Pupils In Piano Recital

Patricia Madden, Joyce Enright's junior piano teacher, presented her pupils in a small recital Wednesday, October 4 in her home.

Those participating were Carol Thompson, Roberta Wherity, Janice Johnson, and Nancy Hall of Beaverton, plus Wesley Brown and Marianne Hune of Aloha. The audience consisted of the mothers and Joyce Enright.

Light refreshments were served afterwards.

Eight Leave For Army On October 11th

TEN MORE LISTED FOR OCT. 18; EXAMS FOR MONTH TAKEN

Inducted into army service on October 11 were an additional 8 young men of the county, with ten more listed to go on October 18. Pre-induction examinations for a total of 101 draftees out of a scheduled 136 complete the October task, reported Mrs. Barbara McLeod, board secretary.

Men going into uniform included Floyd G. Elliott, Banks; William F. O'Halloran, Route 2, Tigard; William E. Troutman, North Plains; Nathan R. Woodward, Gaston; William M. Hughes, Route 5, Hillsboro; Melvin J. Canby, Buxton; Gale Schneider, Forest Grove; and Albert F. Lee, Gaston.

Names of the ten to leave October 18, in the last call of the month, will be released for publication next week.

On October 2, 36 men showed up in a call for 44 to take pre-induction physical examinations. On October 5, 65 of a called total of 92 men took their examinations. Another pre-induction call for examinations is not expected during the rest of this month.

Those who are called for pre-induction examinations but fail to show up become subject to search by the U. S. attorney and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Continued evasion of service will result in heavy penalty Mrs. McLeod points out.

First Quarterly Conference Ok's Organ Purchase

By Mrs. Myrtle Raasch

The first Quarterly Conference of the First Methodist Church was conducted Monday night by the District Superintendent, Rev. Oliver J. Gill from Portland. The Official Board attended and in their business meeting, considered the purchase of a church organ.

The installation of a Baldwin organ by the Oregon Music company of Portland on a trial basis was approved, and a pledge system for the purchase was set up.

Mrs. Wesley Ellis will serve as organist for Sunday services.

AAUW Observes United Nations At Oct. 14 Meet

In connection with their observance of UN day at their October 14 meeting members of Forest Grove-Hillsboro branch of AAUW will hear Dr. Lydia Winkler, Linfield college, speak on "Women of the United Nations". Place of the 1 p. m. luncheon meeting is Hillsboro Congregational church.

Prospective members will be guests. Reservations can be phoned to Mrs. W. W. Ebneyer, Beaverton; Mrs. Edwin Brown, Hillsboro; and Mrs. Jennings Peters, Forest Grove.

WSSS GENERAL MEETING

General meeting of the WSSS of the First Methodist church will be held at the home of Mrs. Alma Thomas, 260 N. E. Broadway, Friday afternoon, October 13.

Mrs. Walter Cavanaugh will lead the worship and Mrs. L. L. Walker will present the program. Refreshments will be served at 1:30.

Project work will be discussed at the business meeting. Mrs. Edna Sheets is conducting the sale of utility baskets. Other work is soon to be announced.

CHOIR PRACTICE START

The first meeting of the choir of the First Methodist church was held Thursday night. A group of 24 responded.
