

LIONS CLUB SPONSORS DANCE TO AID ORAL SCHOOL PROJECT

By Mrs. W. A. Bunnell
WEST SLOPE — Proceeds from the Armistice Day dance to be given Saturday night by the local Lions Club will go to forward the club's pet project, the Broley Oral school in Portland.

Several of the children from the school demonstrated teaching methods of the school at a meeting of the club some time ago.

A large attendance of members and guests, is expected at the dance, which will be held at the Geo. Mallory school of the dance in West Slope.

BUSINESS IN FRISCO

Marvin Taylor left for San Francisco Wednesday to spend the weekend on business and plans to return early next week.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Mrs. H. J. Imbody returned Saturday from a Portland hospital where she underwent surgery some time ago, and is recuperating nicely at her home.

GUNNESS SELLS HOME

Mrs. Mollie Gunness is leaving the last of the week for San Francisco to visit for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gunness, who have been living on McChesney Road for some time, and with whom Mrs. Gunness, Sr. has been staying, have sold their home here and are moving to Hillsboro this month.

ADDS PORTLAND OUTLET

The West Slope Cleaners have added to their business here, an outlet in Portland.

Mrs. Marie Stewart is owner and manager of the business.

HOME ON SHEFFMAN WAY

Mr. and Mrs. James Peterson and baby daughter, have moved to their new home on Sheffman Way. The property was the former Mitchoff home.

WEDDING DATE NOT SET

The engagement of his daughter Miss Beverly Wanda Armitage, is announced by Rev. H. A. Armitage, 7850 S. W. Brentwood Avenue, pastor of Valley Community church. Mr. Ralph Pence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pence, of Hillsboro is the groom-to-be. Due to the immediate departure of Mr. Pence to serve his country, the wedding date has not been set.

AREA'S NEW RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jordan and two sons are new residents of West Slope, living in the former Graham residence on Howatt road.

The Jordans are building a new home at Raleigh Hills and plan to move there as soon as it is completed, which they hope will be in about two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham have also moved back to West Slope. Their two children, Douglas and Diane, entered C. E. Mason school last Friday.

MUSCLES BULGE AS YOUNGSTERS OF SCHOOL DRINK MUCH MILK

SCHOOL DISTRICT — The children of the Tualatin View school drank 650½ pints of milk during October. They report that they are growing stronger each day, so look out!

There are 32 pupils in the first grade at Tualatin View now, as 2 new pupils joined the class this week. The class has been drawing large pictures of zoo animals, using colored chalk for the first time. And find it lots of fun.

Billy Bounds brought his little duck, slumber-lamp to school, and the class enjoyed its little light during rest period.

Tualatin View first grade had a very nice Halloween party Tuesday p. m. with treats and noise makers for all. Mrs. Moore, the room mother, helped the children pin the tail on the donkey. Five mothers from the surrounding district were hostesses, namely: Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Ainey, Mrs. Spaulding, Mrs. Filter and Mrs. Raymond Davis.

Last Wednesday, the First and Second grade teachers, Mrs. Lillian Beattie and Mrs. Gladys Tucker, accompanied by the room mother, Mrs. Rockwood, were guests in the home of Mrs. Moore for afternoon tea. Mrs. Moore is room mother for the first grade.

Halloween afternoon was a scary sight in our room, and it was difficult to tell who was who. There were ghosts, witches, clowns, and even a skeleton. After several games, candy and treats, as well as noise makers were passed out to all the children.

The mothers who gave the party were: Mrs. Oathes, Mrs. Napoleon, Mrs. Prince, Mrs. Strachan, and our room mother, Mrs. Rockwood. Other mothers who visited were: Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Boylan, Mrs. Burdick, Mrs. Lash, and Mrs. Starke.

The children are writing "Thank you" notes to the mothers.

LUNCH BY JACK OLANTERN

The Second grade room celebrated John Murphy's 7th birthday last Friday.

Those who brought Jack-olanters to school were Nancy Barney, Donna Hill, Barbara Starke, Leslie Burdick, Ruth David, Terry Lash, and Ronny Boylan. Several days Mrs. Tucker drew the shades, turned out the lights, and the children ate their lunch by Jack-olanters light. Ronny also brought some plaster paris Indians that he had made and painted.

New officers elected to serve for the next 2 weeks are Gloria Hoover, president; Peter Strachan, vice-president.

Nancy Barney's mother, and little brother, John, visited in the Second grade room one afternoon last week.

OVER TOP FOR RED CROSS

The First grade at Barnes now has 100% enrollment in the American Junior Red Cross.

Gary Thompson added another potted plant to our flower collection when he brought a begonia, and Carrie Edwards brought a little china bonnet with a plant in it.

Mary Ann Criteser, who was absent for two weeks due to illness of a relative, is back in school again.

Gary King and Vicki Jean Oliver brought story books, for entertainment of the children enjoyed during rest period.

TWO STUDENTS ADDED

The Barnes school Second grade enrolled two new students: Patricia Ann Eppett comes to us from Raleigh Hills, and Carolyn Skelton from Portland. One student, Mary Taylor has left us to attend school in Portland.

TOTEM POLEFRIZEE

The 3-b class is making a frieze of the totem builder's of the Northwest Indians. They have drawn and cut out pictures of totem poles, dugout canoes, Indian children and lodges, and pasted them on the frieze.

Jimmy Morton brought his "Hiawatha" book to school this week. Both Third grades are learning a section of "Hiawatha's Childhood", by Longfellow.

OFFICERS TAKE OVER

The 3-b class held election of new officers last Monday. The president is now Richard Hutchison, vice-president is Kenneth Conklin and the secretary is Joyce-Lyn de Lancy. The president then called for reports of the old committees and room helpers. Later he appointed the new committees and helpers for the week.

Both third grades went together Friday afternoon for a bit of entertainment put on by themselves. Miss Williams' class gave an Autumn playlet. Mrs. Bowman's class presented "See-Saw", a rhythm, song, using rhythm sticks, and several other motion songs, including Hickory-Dickory Dock. Four little girls, Katharine Conway, Barbara Cummings, Diane Glasnapp, and Sharon King gave their interpretation of the Chinese Doll Dance by Tchaikovsky. Both rooms kept time to two English Folk songs, and doing the motions that accompanied the music.

SEEDS FOR SCIENCE

Mrs. Stevens is the new teacher of the 4-b division. The class has learned two new songs "Grandfather's Clock" and "Down by the Station". The youngsters are collecting different kinds of seeds for science.

David La Check has been on the sick list most of 2 weeks now. The class hopes he will soon be well again.

TOTIN' UP THE DAYS

Ricky Boylan's weather calendar for October is a thing of the past. Before it was erased the class noted that there were but 4 sunshiny mornings during the month.

The remaining 27 mornings were foggy, cloudy or rainy. Fred Felter is now making the November calendar. There are now 27 pupils in the 3-a class. Two new girls joined the class during the past week: Marjorie Ann Graham from Hillsboro, and Leslie Ann Brusckie from Vancouver, Washington.

STORY OF INSPIRATION

The Fourth grade class is learning the Star Spangled Banner in music class. Mrs. Hoaglin told the class the story of Francis Scott Key and how he was inspired to write the words which mean so much to all Americans.

OREGON TRAIL MURAL

The Fifth grade begins the study of "The Oregon Trail" by Arthur Sulzerman, and plans to do a mural when finished with it. Bill Bally drew a picture for a frame outside the room. It is of an island in the Pacific ocean, from the story, "Ghost of the Lagoon".

Tuesday, Judy Andrews brought two imitation pheasants, whose bodies are squash, with stick legs. The male pheasant has real pheasant feathers and a high hat. The female has some dainty feathers with beautiful feathers on her hat.

FLOWER AT BAZAAR

Michael Cusick brought an ivy plant to beautify the room. He tells us he brought it at the Catlin School bazaar. Barbara Dockstadter pressed some fall leaves and mounted them for the bulletin board.

PRIZE TO DONATION

Michael Dragila was lucky Friday and won the balloon the Tualatin View ladies gave the Fourth grade room.

They came to advertise the bazaar for Saturday night.

FOG HEXED ARRIVAL

Sheila Fink has moved into her home here, so no longer will she be tardy every morning. She had to come from near Oregon City, and that is quite a way to drive by 8:45 on a foggy morning.

Mrs. Margulis visited our room Thursday afternoon.

HALLOWEEN SPOOKING

There was a Halloween party at Cedar Hills school Monday night, October 30, for the 7th and 8th grades. The 8th grade boys made a spook room, which was very successful.

Several mothers and fathers were at the party. While they were getting their refreshments, the children bobbed for apples, then had our own refreshment. After that we played games until time to go home.

There is a new boy in our 8th grade room, whose name is Dale Otts. He is from Raleigh Hills school. Now there are 17 boys and 7 girls in our class.

Mrs. Friederich, the Girl Scout leader, is moving, so Mrs. Kramer, Pat's mother, will take over the group.

Sally Shaw in the 7th grade reports a letter from President of the First Security bank of Beaverton, in recognition of the fact that the class has an account of $50 in the bank.

BULLETIN BOARD SIGNS

The 7th grade is now decorating the front bulletin board in the hall for National Education week.

This class enjoyed the party Monday night, October 30th. Besides the students present there were the following parents: Mr. and Mrs. Maugh Brown, Mr. Joe Peterkort, Jr., Mrs. Slattery, Mrs. C. E. Rice, and of course our teacher, Mrs. Marie Grimm.

LIKE NEW SCHOOL ROOM

Harry Kantas in the 6th grade reports that all of the class thinks the new school is nice, a lot better than in the basement of Barnes. There is much more room. There isn't so much noise. There is a great deal more light, and more healthful ventilation. The class has cupboard space, and drawers in which to keep books and supplies. The youngsters plan to keep them looking their best.

DUTY FOR EACH ONE

Reporter, Diane Abbott, of the Fifth grade had a birthday on November 1st, her tenth.

The Fifth grade has a room club, and each child has a room duty. Here they are, President, Christine; Vice-president, Stuart; Secretary, Bill Babcock; Halls and restroom, Herbert, Judy, Jimmy and Linda. Cleaning, and waste-paper, Ann, Mary Lou, Joyce; Dusting, Susan, Sylvia, and Mary Jo. Desk Inspection, George, Carl B., David. Boards and erasers, Pamela, Diane and Ryan. Pencil sharpening, Wendy, Adele, and Kathy. Straightening books on shelves, Robert, Dick and Donald.

Report To Navy Hexes Building Hyland Rd. Home

Reporting for duty with the Navy in Seattle on Nov. 14 will be Paul Benedetti, fire-controlman, second-class. The call to colors comes at a bad time for Benedetti, who had just started construction on a new house located on Hyland Road.

During his absence his wife and small daughter will make their home with Mrs. Benedetti's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wampler, in Hood River.

Speaker Exposes Views On Gov't As "Our Problem"

BARNES SCHOOL — Louis Arturo, speaking on "This Is Our Problem", will give a challenging report on Communism and other subversive forces in the United States on November 15, 8 p. m., in the Barnes school on Walker road. A cordial invitation is extended members of neighboring PTA groups as well as the general public.

"This Is Our Problem" is described as a streamlined report of the first freedom forum ever held. The forums are sponsored by representatives of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, the Association of National Advertisers and Harding College.

Arturo's presentation reviews Socialism and its modern-day extension, Communism, exposing to view as well an appreciative summary of Freedom as exemplified by the government of the United States.

Anyone wishing to join the PTA, regardless of whether he has children in school or not, is welcome to take part.

The Barnes PTA also sponsors square dance sessions, the next of which will be held November 18, at 8 p. m. Everyone brings sandwiches or cake for the "potluck refreshments" afterwards. The first dance was regarded as a real success.

Pilgrim Youth Joins Rally Of Area on Nov. 5th

The members of Pilgrim Fellowship, high school age young people's group of Bethel Congregational Church, are going to attend in a group the rally planned for the Portland area Sunday, Nov. 5th.

All members of the Fellowship in Portland and surrounding area churches will meet at the First Congregational Church at 4 p. m.

There will be a program of worship, business and games, followed by a description of work on the ship, "Morning Star" by the skipper, Harold F. Hanlin. After a light refreshment the meeting will be brought to a conclusion at 7 p. m.

President Donald Peck says the group will meet at the Beaverton church at 3:15 and that cars will be there to take the group in. Interested high school age young people are invited to come.

College Social Fetes Mothers November 8th

With Associated Women Students' officers, of Multnomah College, as hostesses, an autumn tea was held November 8 from 2:30 to 5 p. m. Invited were mothers, wives, faculty women, and friends of students.

The event took place in the Little Theater of the YMCA, with a Multnomah College School of Music student, Mayo Goffard, pianist, furnishing music solos.

Three out-of-town and one Portland student make up the AWS officer group: Miss Phyllis Canny, pre-teaching student, AWS president, daughter of E. P. Canny, and Mrs. Hills, 18535 E. Burnside, Portland.

Miss Velma Perkins, secretarial science, AWS news officer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Perkins, Route 4, Box 467, Hood River; Miss Rae Stroud, pre-medicine, AWS secretary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Seibel, route 2, Box 1130, Camas, Wash. and Dolores Carlson, pre-teaching, AWS vice-president, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Carlson, 357 S. W. 2nd, Beaverton.
