

RECIPROCITY BILL GOES TO DEFEAT

The Only Hope Now is in Senate—Tariff Deplored.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
WASHINGTON, April 18.—An hour before voting on the Cuban reciprocity bill began this afternoon, certain leaders of the ways and means committee admitted its defeat, and acknowledged that in all probability the best sugar men would marshal sufficient force to adopt an amendment to the bill, wiping out the differential on refined sugar.

There were a number of conferences among the beet sugar men today, and on the question of abolishing the differential, even to the limit of overruling the decision of the chair that such an amendment was not germane, they claimed at least three votes.

There now seems no doubt but that the bill, in its amended shape, will be passed by the House.

The only hope of the ways and means committee is that it will be restored to its original shape in the Senate.

TOO MUCH TARIFF.
Representative Richardson, the Democratic floor leader, addressed the House on the bill.

He said that if he had the framing of the bill the measure now before the House would never be presented.

The immense tariff wall that surrounds the country, he declared, must be torn down and the bill now before the House is a start in the right direction.

The demolishing of this wall will be beneficial to the country, and he favored the bill for these reasons, and because:

First—It decreased the Dingley tariff rates 20 per cent.

Second—Reduction of the tariff would benefit the consumer by cheapening the price of sugar.

Third—It reduces the tariff on the most highly protected commodity in the country.

At the conclusion of the debate, voting on the amendments began.

The first vote on the amendment requiring Cuba to adopt American contract labor laws, was adopted.

Representative Morris of Minnesota then offered an amendment abolishing the differential on refined sugar.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
HUDSON, N. Y., April 18.—Burton Willis and Fren Van Wormer were found guilty this morning of murdering Peter Hallenbeck, their uncle, and were sentenced to be electrocuted during the week of May 30.

Their uncle held a mortgage on the home of his sister, mother of Van Wormer, which was long overdue. Two of his nephews enlisted the sympathy and assistance of Willis. They visited Hallenbeck at night, masked. When he appeared at the back door in response to their knock he was shot down in his tracks. One of the nephews turned state's evidence.

ANOTHER ROW

Politics Cause More Trouble for Storey.

In his preliminary skirmish for office, W. A. Storey, Republican candidate for Sheriff, is having all kinds of misunderstandings with his opponents.

This forenoon he met Dan J. Moore in front of the Chamber of Commerce and after passing the time of day, Moore remarked:

"Well, Storey, I am sorry, but I am not with you this time and Driscoll gets my vote for Sheriff."

"Why is that, Dan?" asked the politician.

"Well, you are not a man of your word. You promised to do something last time for me and you did not keep your word, but I think if Driscoll promises anything he will live up to his word."

There is quite a disparity in the sizes of the two men, but that seemed to make no difference in the conversation. There was much more said than quoted, but the 10 or 15 by-standers were not obliged to keep the men apart. They were both angry but did not come to blows.

When the police arrived they found evidences of the burglary, but Mr. Burglar was gone. Johnson, however, was there with his shotgun.

Mrs. Adams was awakened by the noise and aroused her husband. Adams armed himself with a revolver and slipped out on the porch. Getting a line on the house-breaker, he fired and caught him in the right side. Bates willingly threw up his hands and surrendered. Although Midway is 3 1/2 miles from the jail, the patrol wagon was sent out and Bates was landed in jail.

SALEM IS CLEANING UP.

(Journal Special Service.)
SALEM, April 18.—Salem is cleaning house. As a result of the agitation now going on in this city to endeavor to maintain a higher standard of civic cleanliness and in view of an impending ordinance of the civic fathers to enforce the measure on the people quite a boom has started and the merchants in the business portion of the city are actively engaged in the renovation of the alleys in the rear of their premises. Owners of property in one block have already started work and it is expected that a general cleanliness crusade will be in full swing in a few days. The creation of a sentiment for the making of Salem a more sightly town has been rapidly growing of late and there is little doubt that in this summer the city will be in a better condition from a sanitary standpoint than ever before.

Peace for Boers Not Yet in Sight.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
LONDON, April 18.—South African peace negotiations have been postponed for three weeks.

The announcement was made in the House of Commons this afternoon by the government leader, Balfour.

He said that General Milner and General Kitchener had had two conferences with the Boer delegates, at their request.

General Kitchener, while refusing an armistice on military grounds, agreed to give facilities for an election and a meeting of the representatives of the various commands to consider the proposition.

The Boer leaders have left Pretoria for this purpose.

Balfour said it is not expected that negotiations will be resumed for three weeks.
