Last Friday night Webfoot Camp, No. 65, W. O. W., was agreeably surprised by a visit from Multnomah Camp, No. 7, of the East Side, the occasion being the presentation to Neighbor Barber of a handsome gold watch and locket as a token of the esteem with which he is held by the members of the order.

ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS.

Oregon Grape Circle, Companions of the Forest, was instituted last Monday evening at Hall 300, Alisky Building. Following the institution the following officers were elected: Chief companion, Mrs. A. H. McKenzie; junior past companion, Dr. Florence Sharp Marjoni; sub-chief companion, Mrs. M. A. Story; treasurer, Mrs. James Strigel; recording secretary, Miss Margaret Benedict; financial secretary, Miss Harriet Baker; right guide, Miss Jeanette Condon; left guide, Miss Marie Boardette; inner guard, Mrs. E. Condon; outer guard, Mrs. Mignie Sprague; trustees, Mrs. Minnie Schulze and Mrs. P. Cardiff; trustees, Mrs. E. A. Gill, Mrs. E. Condon and Mrs. M. Schulze; surgeon, Dr. Florence Sharp Mamon.

Twenty-seven members were instituted in this lodge and, judging from the enthusiasm displayed, the future of this lodge is assured.

ORDER OF LIONS.

Home Lodge, No. 1, had a rousing meeting last Wednesday night, upwards of a hundred members being present. H. D. Ramsdell, supreme vice president, gave a talk on the progress of the order. This lodge is in a prosperous condition, six to eight candidates being initiated every meeting. The entertainment given April 2 was a grand success, upwards of 200 being cleared.

The entertainment to be given by this lodge on April 30 for the benefit of the family of the deceased Emil Hansen promises to be a grand success; as 500 tickets have already been sold.

Portland Lodge, No. 4, Order of Lions, elected Miss L. Penny as secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Emma D. Miller.

King Lodge, No. 14, and Greenham Lodge, No. 36, are progressing favorably.

The Palm of a Giant.

Palmist Larsen has secured an impression of the hand of Edward Beaupre, the French-Canadian giant now on exhibition in this city. To examine a hand that measures 1 1/2 inches in length is an unusual experience. Mr. Larsen says that the lines on the palm of the big fellow show that Beaupre's mental ability is above that of the average man; that he is kind, good-natured and loving in disposition, but not inclined to be social; that he is lazy, enjoys comforts, is a good eater and a moderate drinker. He finds Beaupre physically perfect and endowed with a good constitution. He is the same as any ordinary man, only he is abnormally large, and a freak of nature.

Mr. Larsen says that as is generally the case with persons of Beaupre's class, he is not likely to have a long life. If he attains the age of 25, he may live until he is 40.

GOOD CROPS

Manager Koehler and Superintendent Fields have returned from their tour of inspection of the Oregon lines of the Southern Pacific. They have been away a week, and only proceeded as far as Dunsmuir. The company has 700 miles of trackage in this state. It is a rule that all this must be personally looked over once a month by the officials in charge, who also inspect the buildings, etc.

Superintendent Fields said this morning: "The crops everywhere along our lines are looking well. If the frosts do not come to blight the blossoms, the fruit crop in the Hogie River Valley will be larger than at any time in its history. At present the season is two weeks behind, on account of the late spring. I note improvements at every town on the line, and it is evident that prosperity is everywhere present. The new faces of home-seekers are everywhere to be seen."

PLEASANT SOCIAL.

One of the most successful parties of the season on the East Side was that given at the home of Messrs. Charles and Henry Jennings, Thursday evening of this week. The elaborately furnished rooms of the superb Jennings home were tastefully decorated for the occasion with Oregon grapes and under the brilliant light of electric lamps twinkling from every nook and corner presented a truly charming scene. Music furnished by Fisher's orchestra added charm to the pleasures of the evening and lent lightness to the feet of happy dancers. The surprise of the evening occurred at supper time. The table was arranged through two long rooms and as the doors leading to the banquet hall were thrown open and the guests were being seated the white lights were suddenly extinguished and red lights turned on that shed a brilliant radiance over the scene. The handsome faces of the young ladies, under the coloring of the lights, looked like veritable rosebuds touched into life by the wand of some good fairy. Following is a partial list of the guests who were present and who, at parting, voted the Messrs. Jennings, princes of entertainers:

- Misses Maude Lindburg, Ida VanHoy, Jenn Brune, Anna Logus, Mabel Stevenson, Bertina Mayers, Effie Maya, Thillie Diekel, Claudine Stephen, Thillie Klumpp, Helen Saumann, Elsie Rometsch, Kate Jennings, Elsie Marsch, Velma Klumpp, Messrs. William Ruesspili, Ray Ruesspili, Chas. Bracy, Arthur Doly, Sestey Donahoe, William Bohn, Otto Dichel, Benard Velguth, William Griffith, John Green, George Binghelmer.
