HINTS FOR WOMEN

MUST EXPECT IT. Names of the Citizens' ticket must expect the usual quota of vituperation from the columns of the morning paper. It would be a singular campaign that would tempt that journal to present its arguments in lofty language...

EVEN IN PARIS. The short skirt has caught the popular fancy in Paris, at least. Heretofore it has been tolerated for occasions. Even now it is revised and featured as the accepted thing, and is worn in the morning for promenade.

NEW SHOES. Women are tired of clumping round in huge shoes. They are beginning to say that they have been overdoing a good thing. Well, the manufacturers were obliged and provided the worst fashions in footwear ever—and they are quite as ready to cater to any change that their fair patrons desire.

Don't have the woodwork of a room painted two colors, or even two shades of one color. One plain color is much more artistic. As a rule, white paint is better than any other. It can always be made to look fresh and clean if it is washed with soap and water, and will keep in good condition for many years if the final coat is of Asphalvin's ivory enamel.

Light menu for a day. Breakfast: Pomeles, Oatcakes, Stuffed Baked Potatoes, Rice Cakes, Coffee. Dinner: Fish Soup, Lemon, Olives, Radishes, Baked Haddock with Rice Stuffing, Shredded Potatoes, Fried Egg Plant, Lettuce Salad, Cream Cheese, Water, Vanilla Ice Cream with Hot Chocolate Sauce, Coffee. Supper: Salmon Salad, Olives, Bread and Butter, Deviled Eggs, Tea. Stewed Rhubarb, Chocolate Cake.

BOULDER OIL FLOW

(Journal Special Service.) BOULDER, Colo., April 23.—Owners of the Republic well today claim the big success in the Boulder field. Effort was made to bail out the oil encountered yesterday at a depth of 361 feet, and it is claimed that in eight hours the bailer brought up 35 barrels of oil without disturbing the supply perceptibly. Those who were at the well claim that every time the bailer was brought up it was filled with oil. This afternoon the manager decided to put the well to pumping, he said, and placed an order for necessary machinery, after ordering the work stopped and the derrick dismantled.

New Doctors Licensed. Thirty-one new physicians have been licensed to practice medicine in the state. Of this number, 24 have graduated from state institutions, and the remainder from other states. Following is the list of those who received certificates: Frank T. Beauchamp, Walter W. Brues, Orland W. Bean, James W. Thomas and Augustus E. Tamesie, all graduates of the medical department of Willamette University, Salem; E. Martin Adams, Alys A. Blahy, Walter H. Braden, Charles S. Edwards, William K. Hayward, Alfred E. King, Maud W. Krene, Sanford Loeb, Edward A. Marshall, Ray W. Matson, Nell A. O'Leary, Estie D. Patten, Floyd M. White, Nancy N. White and Gerald F. Wittie, all graduates of the medical department of the University of Oregon. The following physicians who graduated outside the state passed the examination: Clarence E. Kennedy of Indiana, Walter T. Brown, Nashville, Tenn.; Joseph A. Collie, Chicago; Henry J. Minshew, Newark, Or.; Walter W. Smith, La Granda; J. M. Coghlan, Holyoke, Mass.; Carl F. Rayer, Ann Arbor, Mich.

THROUGHOUT THE STATE. Albany will soon have a number of rural mail delivery routes established from that city. La Grande is organizing a baseball team. Superintendent Berriam of the Rogue river and Elk creek hatcheries was in Medford the other day, and brought in 900 salmon eggs to be shipped to Maine. Astoria is agitating the construction of a better light and water plant in that city. The O. R. & N. Company is preparing to move its depot in Astoria to a more central location. Medford is erecting a new opera-house. The Shepherders' Union of Morrow fixed the price for shearing sheep this year at 7 cents a head, but an outside company lowered the price to 6 cents. It is said that the peach crop of Union County has been injured on account of the severe weather during January. The Masons of Corvallis are negotiating for the purchase of the old fire engine house from the city. The Dalles is making a war on dandelions. Florence is organizing a band. A spirited war is going on between the new and old water and light companies at Roseburg. All the gambling houses in Heppner were closed by the Marshal last Monday and have not reopened. The streets of Medford will be sprinkled this summer. A subscription has been taken for the purpose. Junction City will celebrate the Fourth of July in grand style. Medford is making big preparations for a monster Fourth of July celebration. While playing in the school yard at Oakland last Thursday, little Willie Emerson fell and broke his arm.

NOTABLE WEDDING

(Journal Special Service.) NEW YORK, April 23.—A notable wedding today was that of Miss Edith H. Hoadley, daughter of Mrs. Russell H. Hoadley, to George Lorrillard Ronald. The ceremony was performed at noon in St. Thomas Church. The Rev. Dr. Stires officiated. Following the church ceremony there was an elaborate reception and breakfast at the home of the bride's mother in East Seventy-third street.

For Joint Representative. W. F. Young of Pleasant Hill, Clackamas County, has been named for Joint Representative from Multnomah and Clackamas Counties by the Democratic County Committee of Clackamas County, which met at Oregon City yesterday. Mr. Young is a school teacher and was a candidate for County Commissioner in the Citizens' convention. He is at present Justice of the Peace in his district.

The Theaters

THE MARQUAM.—The Frawley Company appeared at the Marquam last night in "Brother Officers." It was well received by the house, as in fact is everything presented by this talented company. Mr. Frawley is one of the most versatile and ready actors on the stage, and no matter what part he chooses to essay he seems to do the manner born. The house was with him in the part of John Hinds, the sergeant who came up through the ranks. Bob Hutton, the sharper, took nothing at the hands of Wallace Shaw. Ben Howard made a dashing Lieutenant Fleydell. There isn't a weak member in the company, and the entire cast met the unanimous approval of the audience. "Brother Officers" is admirably mounted and well staged. The Frawleys will close their engagement here tonight with "Lord and Lady Algy," an English society comedy. Mr. Frawley will take the part of "Lord Algy," and is sure to make a hit. THE BAKER.—Ralph Stuart and his excellent company, now playing engagements at the Baker theater, will open the coming week with a presentation of Steele Mackaye's "Hazel Kirke." The first presentation will take place Sunday afternoon next. It is a beautiful play and one that has fastened itself upon human affection. It will lose nothing in its personal freshness at the hands of Mr. Stuart and his company. CORDRAY'S.—The Cooley Company will open an engagement at Cordray's Sunday evening, April 25th, presenting Milton Noble's drama, "From Fire to Son." The company is a meritorious one. Among the plays to be produced are: "Peaceful Valley," "Butterflies," "The Mouth of the Canon," "When Milton Noble wrote 'From Fire to Son.'" He gave great opportunity for a scenic production, as the story commences in California and jumps to Venice and the Rhine, giving a variance to be desired. This fact is taken advantage of by Mr. Cooley who carries special scenery for the play. MARQUAM.—The "Sons of Ham" (second edition) which Williams and Walker and their big colored aggregation will present at the Marquam Grand theater tomorrow, Friday, Saturday matinee and tonight, is a musical comedy replete with novel features, melodious songs, startling ballets and ensembles. A spectacular cake-walk and innumerable specialties of a revised order, all new special scenery and electrical effects, and beautiful colored girls in gorgeous costumes. The tour is under the direction of Hurtig & Seamon. HATHAM.—Turkish and Russian baths. For ladies exclusively. 300 Oregonian Building, 2 a. m. to 8 p. m. Phone North 125.

COTTON MEN IN BOSTON

(Journal Special Service.) BOSTON, Mass., April 23.—The New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association began its annual meeting in Tremont Temple today and will continue in session until Friday. Among the subjects to receive attention are metallic thread boards for spinning frames, working of Egyptian cotton, methods of cotton textile instruction, and abuse of oils in cotton mills.

ABOUT PEOPLE. Dr. Alfred Kummer, formerly of Portland, one of the best-known Methodist preachers on the Coast, will change his field of work from the First Methodist Church of San Jose, Cal., to Danville, Ill. Captain Harry Goodall, of the well-known family of San Francisco steamship men, is in the city on a visit. Captain Goodall used to run out of Portland as a master for the O. R. & N. Co. William Eccles, a prominent lumberman of Vicino, is at the Perkins. N. G. Greenleaf of Washington, D. C., is at the Perkins. W. H. TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

R. F. Robinson, Superintendent of Schools of Multnomah County, announces that at the teachers' institute to be held at Hillsdale, near Bertsia, on the West Side division of the Southern Pacific Railroad, next Saturday, the following program will be rendered: Civics—"Citizenship," J. Teuscher, Jr., principal Hillsdale School. Geography—"Experiences of a Teacher in the North," J. O. Hall, superintendent Mount Tabor schools. "How to Use a Number Table," Miss Inez Kunez, Central School, Portland. Intermission. Recitation, Miss Anna E. Rogers, Troutdale School. Arithmetic—"How to Use the Equation," Edgar A. Milner, principal Woodlawn School, Portland. "A Lesson in Primary Language," Miss Edna Henly, Park School, Portland. "Environment as an Aid to Education," M. L. Pratt, principal Williams-avenue School, Portland.

CROP BULLETIN.

Good rains have fallen during the past week in all portions of the State. Rather more rain than is needed has occurred in the Western section, but in the Eastern section it was welcomed. Notwithstanding the rains there has been considerable sunshine, and up to the last two days of the week the weather was mild and very favorable for advancing the growth of all vegetation. On Saturday it turned cooler, and frost was reported both Sunday morning and Monday morning in many places throughout the State. The wet weather has retarded spring seeding of oats and wheat in the Willamette Valley and to a lesser extent in Southern Oregon, but this work is now fairly well advanced and with the advent of a few warm, dry days it will be quickly finished. In Eastern Oregon seeding is practically finished and the

"ORGANIZER" VERSUS "POOR MAN"

(Journal Special Service.) SALEM, April 23.—What the Republicans of Marion think of the Oregonian's boast that Mr. Furnish is a peerless "organizer" and the effect that this claim will have on the voters of this county may be gathered from the following editorial which appears in today's issue of the Journal of this city. The "organizer" and his methods of securing the nomination are well known to the farmers, who, in great measure, think they have been "organized" about as much as they can stand. The Journal says: "The Oregonian of Thursday last has an entire column devoted to contrasting Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Furnish personally, the general tenor of which is that since Mr. Chamberlain is about 50 years old and still a poor man, he is unfit to be Governor, while Mr. Furnish is an 'ideal man' for the position because he has made money. "The Journal wonders how many Republican farmers and workmen of the county will tumble over themselves to vote for Mr. Furnish for this reason. If the Oregonian is going to try to carry this agricultural state by making this contrast, it is tackling a pretty big job. The less said along this line the better. "It is true that Mr. Furnish's friends have continually pointed with pride to the fact that he is an 'organizer.' Beyond that little has been said in his favor that has got into the papers. In this connection it may be said that all the great trust magnates, from Morgan down, are magnificent 'organizers.' It is from under the ban of the 'organizers' that the country is just now trying to escape. "Better let us stop along that line. Thomas Jefferson died a pauper, and the Republican candidates will in no wise compare with him—at least, not yet. "And yet, alongside this column of personal contrast is another editorial declaring that the coming election is to be decided on high considerations. The personal element will not be great. 'Twas the words a whole column to the 'personal element.'"
