

PIONEER IS DEAD

End of Busy Life of Richard S. Perkins.

Richard S. Perkins, the well-known pioneer and builder of the Perkins Hotel, died last night at his home, 605 Flinders street, after a lingering illness.

"Dick" Perkins, as he was familiarly known to old and young alike, crossed the plains in 1832, and up to a few years ago was almost continuously engaged in business in the Northwest, making Portland his headquarters. He made a snug fortune in stockraising. This he put into the Perkins Hotel, which he finally lost in the financial flurry of 1890-4. In a neat receptacle on the top of the hotel and standing boldly forth in this day a golden calf, emblematic of the secret of Perkins' past success.

Mr. Perkins had reached the ripe old age of 79 years. He was married to Miss Elizabeth East, daughter of John East, Polk County, in 1857, and she survives him, as also do these 10 children: Robert Sitton, Richard Andrew, John Arthur, Charles Henry, George H. Jane, May and Daisy Perkins, and Mrs. H. N. Habb and Mrs. C. A. Malhoef.

The funeral arrangements have not been perfected, but the deceased was one of the oldest members of the Willamette Lodge, No. 2, A. F. & A. M., under whose auspices the services will be held.

WHY BUSHMAN DECLINED

Speaking of the resignation of J. A. Bushman from a place upon the Citizens' ticket, a man familiar with the facts said today:

"Mr. Bushman declined because he is the president of the Millmen's Union, and it was a graceful act for him to ask that his name be taken from the list of candidates. His resignation was accepted with regret, inasmuch as he was acknowledged to be a strong candidate. But he was desirous that he avoid being placed in a false position, and therefore does not remain on the ticket.

"Mr. Bushman will not take part in the current fight over political matters for the reason that his duties as the head of the Millmen's Union would render the situation embarrassing to him were he a candidate. Mr. Bushman believes that his duty is first to the union that has entrusted to him the leadership of its affairs in the present crisis. He proposes to see that his followers are efficiently represented in the settlement of the troubles that are now absorbing the attention of the members of the union and the owners of the lumber mills."

AWFUL SIGHT.

Most Miraculous Escape From Instant Death.

(Journal Special Service.)

NEW YORK, April 30.—Frank Patterson, a "steepjack" of Fort Chester, owes his life to the good grip he exerted when he fell from the top of a flagpole 130 feet high yesterday and held on to a ledge 60 feet above the ground until rescued. Despite his long fall he escaped with only slight bruises on his right arm, but the scare has caused him to give up scaling poles.

He was making some alterations to a pole on the tower of the Edgewater inn, when the pole suddenly broke. Patterson let go of the pole and went flying through the air. As he went down he managed to grab the stump of the pole and slid down it to the tower.

When he reached this his hands slipped and the shock caused him to slide from the tower to the main roof. Though badly frightened, yet when he rolled toward the edge of the roof he had the presence of mind to get a good grip on the ledge of the roof, thus saving himself from being crushed to death on the ground, 80 feet below. His fellow-workmen saw his perilous position and rescued him.

The first words Patterson said, when he recovered from the shock and fright, were: "I am through climbing poles. Some other man can have the job fixing that pole. It was an awful scare, but I got off lucky, as I only got this bruised arm and a bad shaking up."

UPHOLDS THE ARMY

MANILA, April 30.—The business men of this city are warm supporters of the policy of the American army of occupation, and for this reason the American Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution endorsing the action of the United States army in the Philippines in the endeavor to counteract what the members of the chamber believe to be the opinion in the United States that the officers and soldiers have acted in violation of the rules of war. The preamble says the chamber is composed exclusively of American business men, who have been thrown into intimate contact with the conditions everywhere in the archipelago, and it is resolved that without the constant watchfulness and protection of the army in the Philippines, no property or business interests would be safe, and that upon its influence depends the stability of the civil government. The resolution endorses General Chaffee.

In order that Eastern people attending

SOCIAL EVENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everding, Jr., Give a "Housewarming."

One of the prettiest and most enjoyable social events of the season took place last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everding, Jr., entertained the various members of the family and intimate friends at their residence, Seventh and Mill streets. The party was given in honor of their recent move to their new home. The guests were greeted by the young host and hostess. The parlors were beautifully decorated with white lilacs and lilies of the valley. Palms and Japanese primroses decorated the hall, while in the center of a massive table stood a large vase of exquisite carnations, red and white, gorgeous in coloring and fragrant in odor.

Owing to the large number of guests, supper was served in the basement, which had been prepared for the occasion with potted palms and ferns, "Eat, Drink and Be Merry" hung at one end of the room. An artistic kypsy campfire was a feature of the decorations. Indian baskets hung from the tree branches, Caterer Brandes and assistants served the elaborately spread tables. Delightful music was discoursed by a stringed orchestra. Before leaving the supper table, a flash-light picture was taken of those assembled. Following were those present:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Everding, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everding, Mr. Scheurer, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Farrell, the Misses Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer, Mr. and Mrs. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Misses Beebe, Misses Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Langford, the Misses Holmes, Mr. George Peters, Mr. William Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baxter, Miss Clark, Mrs. E. Russell, George McWilliams and wife and other intimate friends.

He Would Not Obey Quarantine Law at Woodburn.

(Journal Special Service.)

WOODBURN, April 30.—Postmaster Walter L. Goose was arrested here yesterday by Marshal Mosberger on a warrant sworn out by Dr. McCorkle, City Health Officer, charging him with violating the ordinance relating to quarantine. Mr. Goose was taken before Recorder Whitman and pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. One of Goose's children is down with scarlet fever, and, notwithstanding the house was quarantined Sunday afternoon, he persisted in going out and attending to his duties in the post-office. The arrest has caused much excitement.

FURNISH

Will Make Campaign Speeches.

Republicans to Open Up First at Medford.

Although he is known as the silent man, although he said that he would go on the stump as little as possible, although he is a man of action and not of words, and although he is by no means an orator, Candidate W. J. Furnish will go on the rostrum as a spellbinder in this campaign. The committee has so decided, and Mr. Furnish said early in the campaign that he was in the hands of the committee. He will have with him Professor J. H. Ackerman, Charles Fulton of Astoria and A. M. Crawford of Roseburg.

The opening gun will be fired at Medford Friday evening, and the next one-night performance will be at Grant's Pass on the following night.

On the same date the campaign will be opened in other parts of the state. On Friday evening John P. Cavanaugh of Portland will address the Young Men's Republican Club of Astoria.

Judge John P. Caples of this city will open the Eastern Oregon campaign at Heppner Saturday evening.

Harrison Allen, who is the secretary in charge of the literary of the speakers, has almost concluded the list of appointments for the next two weeks. The itinerary for the latter half of the campaign will not be made up for several days yet.

In the campaign in Southern Oregon, C. W. Fulton will, while talking for Mr. Furnish, take the opportunity to say a few words in his own behalf as a candidate for Senator.

Should Governor Gear be nominated by petition for United States Senator, as now seems probable, the Republican committee hopes to secure his services in the campaign.

The Republicans are arranging for a star attraction in the person of Governor Odell of New York, who is expected to spend a part of the month of May in Oregon. Governor Odell is a candidate for the Presidency, and hopes to secure the vote of Oregon at the national convention in case he helps to carry the state for the Republicans at the June election.

CHAMBER COMMERCE

$750 Raised to Build a Road to Thunder Mountain.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Chamber of Commerce late yesterday afternoon, communications were read from George M. Cornwall requesting a capable commercial corollary officer in China; from state board of pilot commissioners denying that the pilot drilled reports about the depth of water at the bar being less than 17 feet; from O. V. Monroe requesting the Chamber to turn its attention to the Portland Sanitarium so as to make an investigation of its needs; from the vice-consul of Japan requesting Portland to have an exhibit at the Osaka exhibition in 1903; and from Pilot Gunderson explaining his attitude regarding the delay of the steamship Strathgyle. All these communications were placed on file.

The project of the leasing of the Mechanics' pavilion for market purposes was then brought up in a communication from J. J. Johnson. It was decided that this is not in the sphere of the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committeemen who were out canvassing for funds for the wagon road from Warren, Idaho, to Thunder mountain reported that they collected $750. It was ordered that the secretary send circular letters to all the members of the Chamber of Commerce requesting them to subscribe to this fund.

TRUST GETS INTO SMOKERS' MOUTHS

(Journal Special Service.)

NEW YORK, April 30.—The tobacco trust will, after today, insinuate itself into the mouths of millions of American users of tobacco. A great movement for the control of the tobacco market of the world began today, when the giant Continental Tobacco Company and the American Cigar Company, through a new arrangement, became practically one. Control of the tobacco output of Cuba is aimed at. The new combination of the Continental Tobacco Company and the American Cigar Company is one by which the Continental buys the entire manufactured product of the American Cigar Company, and disposes of it through its own salesmen.

MANY FAIL TO REGISTER.

(Journal Special Service.)

SALEM, April 30.—Only 459 voters have registered in Marion county to date, as against 609 in 1900. There are still only two weeks for the voters of the county to get in line to express their opinion at the polls, as the books will close on May 15. Considering that there has been a large increase in the voting strength of the county by immigration, it is remarkably light, and in many of the rural precincts less than half of the voting strength has registered.
