

OREGONIAN ROASTED

Vile Caricatures of Labor Leaders Openly Denounced.

At the opening of this morning's session of the Federation of Labor, President Gurr appointed the following ways and means committee: Green, Thomas, Lang, McCallough and Howard. Resolutions: Harry, Howell, Schroeder, Schoeffer, Howarth, Lawrence, Johnson, Bruken and Krupp. A telegram was then read to the convention from Ed Rosenberg, Secretary of a labor union in San Francisco, saying that he could not attend and wished the organization and federation of workers as their best guarantee for success. A communication was read from Geo. H. Hines, Secretary in charge of the State Historical Society. He said: "I can not help having a deep and abiding interest in everything you are seeking to promote. There should be a complete record of all your proceedings, in this society for the benefit of those who follow in years to come. That you may see some of the things which had to do with the foundations of our royal state. I invite you to visit these rooms." After a short recess to allow the different committees time to prepare their reports, the convention took up the different resolutions offered. One of the first was concerning the outrage committed by the Oregonian in its write-up of the proceedings wherein

A FROST

Republicans Open the City Campaign.

Judge Williams Made the "Big" Speech.

The much advertised campaign opened under the auspices of the Roosevelt Republican Club did not receive itself into the great demonstration that Jack Matthews and the "machine" managers had so fondly anticipated. The meeting was held in a big tent at the corner of Grand avenue and Market street and the attendance, when the proceedings finally commenced at 8:30, did not exceed 250 people, including a number of women and a goodly turnout of the irrepressible "kids" who flocked to the front row of benches. The meeting, taken as a whole, was a cold and chilling frost. Willie Banks and Charlie Burkhardt, assistant postmaster, one of the Federal officials who are not supposed to take part in politics, were both greatly in evidence as headquarters for the "machines" and such effort as was made to make a demonstration by applause was led by them. After considerable delay a quartet of colored singers mounted the platform and entertained the small crowd with a variety of coon songs, and finally Secretary Smith, of the Republican Central Committee, in an appearance, called the meeting to order and requested all Republican candidates present to mount the platform. Frank Barnes, candidate for County Commissioner, was first to respond and after giving the glad hand to Secretary Smith, took a seat on the back row of chairs. One or two more followed Barnes' lead. Then Secretary Smith bade all present a welcome and introduced little Tommy Cleeton as the first speaker. Tommy Cleeton lost no time in getting down to business. He started to fight the Philippine war over and was still on the firing line, declaring the islands to be irrevocably lost unless the Republican going to cast his first Republican ballot next June, was the next speaker. He pitched into the Democrats with the vigor and resentment of the most ardent of stalwart Republicans, keeping Willie Banks and Charlie Burkhardt busy working up applause when he stopped long enough to catch his breath. W. A. Storey, Lionel Webster and other candidates had their say at the tag end of the meeting but the crowd thinned out so rapidly that the meeting was brought to an abrupt close after a lamentable effort to produce some enthusiasm into the minds of those who stayed to the bitter end, but the end was as in the beginning—just a frost.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Democratic Candidates Speak at Lebanon.

(Journal Special Service.)
LEBANON, May 6.—George E. Chamberlain made votes for himself and the remainder of the state ticket by his address here last night, in which he discussed state issues and pledged himself to an administration of economy. The audience was large and enthusiastic and evidenced it by frequent applause and vociferous cheers as the points were driven home. State issues were the principal theme, and his remarks were calculated to meet the approval of the hundreds who heard him. W. A. Waun, candidate for State Superintendent of Schools, also spoke, and vigorously presented his ideas as to the manner in which the educational system of Oregon might be improved. He was well received. Sam Garland presided at the meeting. Mr. Garland stated at the close of the meeting that he believed that it had strengthened the candidacy of Mr. Chamberlain and the remainder of the state ticket. At an informal reception held at the hotel, scores called to shake Mr. Chamberlain's hand, and there was a cordiality in their manner that indicated their loyalty to the man from Molokai. It is firmly believed by the people here that he will be elected Governor. He will receive an immense vote in this county.

AT BROWNSVILLE.
(Journal Special Service.)
BROWNSVILLE, May 6.—Yesterday afternoon, George E. Chamberlain and W. A. Waun, Democratic candidates, addressed the voters here, having a fine success. A. B. Cavender presided, and there was music by local musicians, that added to the success of the gathering. Mr. Chamberlain followed the same general line of discussion of state issues as he has at other places, and it was apparent that his attitude has pleased the people and has added to his strength. He stated that he was desirous of seeing some reforms inaugurated in the manner of conducting state government, and would pledge himself to administer the duties of the office according to the demands for flat salary and cutting off of fees, and that he believed the people of the state desire such a regime to be inaugurated. There was present a big crowd, and it was evident that the candidates were enthusiastically in the favor of the voters here. They left for Toledo, where they speak tonight.

DENIED

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)

The President, it is stated, has no prerogative in the matter, that authority resting solely with Congress.

Considerate Treatment; Low Charges

In our long experience—15 years in Portland—we have found that our patients appreciate considerate treatment more than anything else dentists can give them. We have proceeded upon the theory that the less we hurt a patient the better pleased he will be, and have developed our methods to that end. Now we can extract teeth and devitalize nerves positively without pain. Our charges are low as they can be made consistent with first-class work, which is the only kind we do. No dental students employed.

AN OPEN RIVER SAYS BUTCHER

(Journal Special Service.)
THE DALLES, May 6.—W. F. Butcher, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Second District, opened his campaign here last night, scoring a success from the start, and having a large audience, which listened attentively to his address of one and a half hours. Judge A. S. Bennett, the distinguished jurist of this place, presided, and introduced Colonel Butcher in a few remarks that were in the nature of an endorsement of the Democratic ticket in general and Colonel Butcher in particular. Colonel Butcher made these points, enforcing them with vigor, and apparently receiving warm indorsement from the people present:

Opposition to leasing the public lands. Favors development of the mining resources in every manner possible. Favors development of the arid-land regions. Argues that if Oregon sends a Democratic Congressman to Washington, the East will hereafter pay more attention to this state than they will if it remains in the column of sure states, with nothing for them to gain in granting demands to be made by people here. Foremost, however, he presented the improvement of the Columbia river as a leading theme, and one that is calculated to unite all people. That he regards as the paramount issue. Colonel Butcher left at noon for Antelope, having strengthened himself very materially by his appearance here.

SALOON ROBBED

Anderson & Johnson, proprietors of the Cricket saloon, on Third street, near Yamhill, are losers to the extent of $50 on their slot machines' Sunday night business. After the saloon was closed some one broke into the place and went at the machines on the only principle where there was no chance to lose—with an ax. About $50 was taken from the machine which pays in quarters, while the nickel slot yield about $10. Money is a very hard thing to handle, and the police have little hope of catching the thief.

OREGON CITY.

Randall May be Postmaster—Charman Residence Sold.

(Journal Special Service.)
OREGON CITY, May 6.—Several local politicians are willing to stake their reputations on the prophecy that Tom P. Randall, County Recorder, will be the next Postmaster of Oregon City. George H. Horton, the present incumbent, is a capable official, but his term of office will shortly expire. Councilman Charles Albright is another prominent candidate, who would fill the position with satisfaction to the public, but Mr. Randall is conceded to be on the inside track. It is a close fight between County Judge Thomas F. Ryan, who had the delegation to the Congressional convention at Roseburg. When Senator Brownell and Judge Ryan buried their factional differences before the recent Republican county convention was held, it is said that the Postoffice position was placed along with the delegates to the Congressional convention. Under the existing conditions, it is believed by those in a position to know that no matter what promises have been made, Mr. Randall will be the Postmaster when the appointment is made after the June election.

The school year of the Oregon City schools will close May 23, and for the first time in its history, a class will graduate from the Eleventh grade. The graduates will be Misses Clara Crawford, Roma Hatford, Mary Mitchell, Maud Cooke, Edna Dutton and Master Florence Sullivan. Miss Mitchell is the class president. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of Portland will deliver the class lecture. It is learned from a reliable source that a deal was consummated yesterday whereby Major Thomas Charman has sold his residence property on the corner of Seventh and Main streets to Sol Garde, head clerk of I. Sellings' mercantile establishment. The rear purchasers, however, are supposed to be the Sellings of Portland. The exact consideration was not learned, but is presumed to be somewhere in the neighborhood of $10,000, as that was the price asked by Mrs. Charman for the property. It is the best business corner in the city, situated near the suspension bridge, and has a frontage of 92 feet and a depth of 105 feet. It is stated that a brick business block will be erected on the lot, two or three stories high, and that tenants have already been secured for the storerooms. The dwelling on the lot has been occupied by Major Charman and family as a residence for many years past, and until a few years ago was the most pretentious home in the city. The property is becoming too valuable for residence purposes, and the house will be moved away to make room for a business block.

Teams from the Foresters and Knights of Pythias will play a match game of baseball at Willamette Falls park Sunday afternoon. The citizens of Clackamas Station spent about $25 in fitting out two baseball teams to amuse the public on Sundays. The first game was to have been played last Sunday. In the forenoon the game was not completed on account of a quarrel, and in the afternoon a flat fight between two of the players again suspended the playing. Mrs. W. H. McEldowney of Amity is visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. C. Strickland.

The finance committee of the proposed Fourth of July celebration has decided not to make a public report to the Retail Merchants' Association until next Friday. The resignation of Captain G. W. Martin has been accepted by Company A. O. N. G., and an election will be ordered in a few weeks. First Lieutenant H. L. Kelly has charge of the affairs of the company in the meantime.

The only witnesses to the affair were a few relatives of the families. Rev. S. E. Meminger officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Cook departed for Oak Point, Wash., yesterday.
