"PULL" FIGURES IN THIS CASE

Clackamas County Saloon Pays No License.

(Journal Special Service.) OREGON CITY, May 12.—Prominent people in the Citizens' movement are openly accusing the Republican leaders of Clackamas County with having aided and protected F. A. Meinig, who, it is alleged, conducted a bar in connection with his general merchandise store at Sandy without procuring the required county retail liquor license.

Complaint has been made for months by certain residents of Sandy that Meinig sold liquor by the drink without paying the county license, while his neighbor, Casper Junker, who conducts a bar in connection with his hotel, promptly pays $300 every six months into the County Treasury.

It also has been alleged by the same parties that Mr. Meinig had a "pull" with the authorities at Oregon City, and was thus enabled to carry on business at a loss to the county of $400 annually.

Mr. Meinig died a couple of months ago, but the business is still carried on by his sons. He was an enterprising pioneer business man of that place. Mr. Junker, also, keeps a respectable house, and both establishments are extensively patronized by summer tourists to Mount Hood.

The County Commissioners' journal shows that Mr. Meinig took out his last license for six months on July 22, 1899, six months Judge G. E. Hayes appearing as his attorney before the board. The books in the County Treasurer's office also verify this record. A number of persons assert that Mr. Meinig continued to dispense liquors by the drink after this license had expired. An ex-county official states that previous to taking out his last license, Mr. Meinig made a practice of taking out a license for six months once a year, thus enabling him to operate six months alternately without paying county revenue.

Mr. Meinig was a man of considerable influence in that section of the county, and his favor was much sought by politicians and candidates for official position. One of the young Meinig's stated a few days ago in Portland that they were selling liquors only by the gallon, but a number of persons state in a positive way that in the past the house was selling openly by the drink.

It is presumed to be the duty of the District Attorney to see that all liquor houses outside of the incorporated towns provide themselves with the proper county license. The present District Attorney is Harrison Allen, secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, and his predecessor was T. J. Cleeton, now a practicing attorney of Portland.

Four Excursions to the State Capital This Month.

(Journal Special Service.) SALEM, May 12.—Salem enjoys the distinction of entertaining four big railroad excursions the latter part of this month and in June. A labor organization from Portland proposes to send a big crowd on June 25. The Oregon Railway Conductors will give their annual outing on the 18th of the same month. The Order of Railway Locomotive Firemen will bring hundreds with them to Salem on the 15th of this month. The Associated Railway Trainmen have planned an excursion to leave from Salem, and valley points, to The Dalles, and return. Salem is a good excursion town because of its central location and because of the reputed hos-

STEAMER LINE TO ALASKA

Board of Trade Acts Upon Important Matters.

The capital stock of the Portland-Alaska Transportation Company will be $25,000 and articles of incorporation will be filed this week, so that active work can be begun within a month.

This was decided at a meeting of the Board of Trade last night. Alexander Kunz, chairman of the steamship committee reported that two mercantile firms had each guaranteed to ship to Alaska 50 tons of freight by each steamer. Another will ship 120 tons from Portland within the next four months, and will bring back over 1000 tons of salmon in the fall.

Proposals from several steamship owners were presented. The Homer, 500 tons carrying capacity, was offered for $300 per month—minus cost of coal and expenses of purser. The Santa Ana, 600 tons, and the Nome City, 1000 tons, were also offered. No definite action was taken as to chartering a ship.

The company will incorporate this week, the incorporators being R. F. Prael, John C. Carlsen and W. B. Glafke. As soon as President Beach returns from Eastern Oregon, he will appoint a committee to canvass for stock for this company.

Joseph Gaston, chairman of the railroad committee, reported that the Columbia River Company will be incorporated this week, and that pledges for $100,000 of the $300,000 from the sale of bonds have already been raised. Steamboat men have offered to build boats above and below the road, so that the new company may be spared that expense. Mr. Gaston said that the road will be ready for this season's crops.

B. Lee Paget and Samuel Connell, the committee on the inspection of the Portland Sanitarium, reported that "as a hospital and charitable institution, and as a manufacturing establishment, the Portland Sanitarium is entitled to the fullest endorsement of this board, and the moral and financial support of the general public."

The report was adopted by the board and embodied in a resolution with the addition that a special committee of five members be appointed by the president to further confer with the sanitarium in carrying out its plans for building up a permanent institution in this city.

The committee will be appointed by President Beach the latter part of this week.

INTERIOR INFORMATION IN COMPACT STYLE.

STEAM SIREN USELESS.

(Journal Special Service.) SALEM, May 12.—The fire department here is experiencing no little trouble and annoyance with a new alarm siren recently ordered and to be used instead of the bell in the City Hall. The tests made are very unsatisfactory, since the sound so closely resembles the whistling of the river boats that it is impossible to tell which is sounding, making the fire alarm valueless. A change in the location and piping will be made with the siren, and if better results are not had it will be rejected and other arrangements made.

MARION HOP CROP

(Journal Special Service.) SALEM, May 12.—From the reports which have come from Salem and vicinity, the outlook for hops this season is not very promising. Based upon the fact that from 12 to 15 per cent of the hills are missing in nearly all the yards, the claim has been made that the heavy yield in recent years has so exhausted the vines that they are unable to produce the usual number of hills. The loss of 15 per cent sustained will, in a measure, be reduced by the fact that nearly 100 acres of new yards are coming into bearing.

BAKER CITY

Excited Over Malheur Oil—Voters Generally Favor Chamberlain.

(Journal Special Service.) BAKER CITY, May 12.—Engineer H. G. Pearson, who has just returned from Malheur, where he made an extended visit to the oil fields, when questioned by a Democrat reporter yesterday said: "I was very much pleased with everything I saw in Malheur." The best indication I ever saw of high-grade oil are to be found there in abundance. The Malheur Oil Company, of the stretch people, are boring with their drill day and night, and are making good progress. They have cut the black oil shales and have the very best of prospects. Of course, they are trying to keep their operations as secret as possible. One man on the inside says he knows more than he dares to tell me, but that something startling might be looked for almost any time now.

"Holmes of the Kansas City Oil Company, has located a lot of land south of Vale and will have a drill in the Sand Hope country in a short time. Mr. Hope, one of the Portland crowd, told the cashier of the bank at Vale that everything was more than coming up to their expectations.

"You may safely say that there will be something doing in Malheur this summer."

Seventy voters were registered here yesterday, half of them being from the city and the others from the country precincts. It was not possible to ascertain the political views of many of them, but the majority who voluntarily expressed an opinion seemed to favor Chamberlain for Governor.

Dalles Pioneer Dead. (Journal Special Service.) THE DALLES, May 12.—Mrs. Mary Spink died in this city Sunday morning after a four months' siege of pneumonia. She deceased was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1825. She was married to Robert Rintoul in 1847. They came to America the following year and in 1850 settled at The Dalles. To them 10 children were born, four of whom are now living—Mrs. Margaret Stroud, Miss Elizabeth Rintoul, Miss Christine Rintoul and Miss Louise Rintoul. In 1863 Mr. Rintoul died, and later his widow was united in marriage with Joseph Spink. To them were born two daughters, one of whom, Josephine Spink, survives. Mrs. Spink was a woman of broad mind, superior education, and a woman who possessed those motherly traits that endeared her to her family and numerous friends. The funeral occurred at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the family residence.

and each side is trying to outstrip the other on their respective celebrations. Rev. William F. Lord, deigned the pupils of the public schools of this city with a lecture on "Birds" this afternoon. The impression he made upon their minds with his words will cause the little feathered creatures to suffer less from slings in the hands of schoolboys from now on.

The City Council has passed an ordinance for the construction of a sewer on Laughlin and Federal streets. The new sewer will cost about $1500 or $2000.

OREGON CITY.

(Journal Special Service.) OREGON CITY, May 12.—The general committee having in charge the coming Fourth of July celebration met last night and decided to hold the speaking exercises somewhere in the city limits or on the West Side, near the suspension bridge. The following sub-committees were appointed:

Grounds and decoration—C. H. Caulfield, Charles Albright, C. Schuebel. Finance—E. G. Caudwell, C. G. Huntley, William Anderson.

Program—Thomas F. Ryan, J. W. Moffat, D. E. Charman, L. Adams, C. D. Latourette. Speaker—Franklin T. Griffith, Dr. W. E. Carl, George C. Brownell, W. B. Zumbalt, W. H. Howell.

Parade—George A. Harding, J. U. Campbell, T. W. Sullivan, H. E. Cross. Chairman Albright will announce other committees, later.

CANNERY TO OPEN. (Journal Special Service.) SALEM, May 12.—The cannery of the Allen Packing Company of this city will begin active operations about June 1. The management proposes to can all the fruits, vegetables, etc., grown in this section of the country. The first work will be that of putting up the strawberry. The cannery will not handle peas this season owing to an overstocked market last year, which the company says shows the peas to be an unprofitable commodity. With 10,000 cases packed last season the market was flooded and the product refused to move. The company has tried the experiment of raising peas on its own ground in hopes of making it profitable, but without success.

LOOK FOR FLOODS.

(Journal Special Service.) THE DALLES, May 12.—Either warm weather or rain will produce flood water at this city on the Columbia. The river raised about 1 1/2 inches today, and is now about 1 1/2 feet above low-water mark. In order for the boats to pass through the locks today it was necessary to use the high gates. Temporary walls have been constructed at the locks, and the boatmen claim this acquisition will allow them to take their steamers through when the water is eight feet higher than in previous years. Should the weather remain moderate, it is thought the river will not reach as high a stage as last year.

SALEM FREE MASONS. (Journal Special Service.) SALEM, May 12.—Salem Lodge, No. 4, A. F. and A. M., will celebrate its 50th anniversary on the 14th of next month. The following members were appointed as a committee on entertainment: Dr. R. Cartwright, Dr. W. T. Williamson and William Brown. This anniversary occurs on the same date of the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Portland, and efforts will be made to secure the attendance of the Grand Lodge to the anniversary. Salem Lodge enjoys the distinction of being the first order given a charter under the Grand Lodge of Oregon.

George S. Shepherd, the attorney, has gone to Victoria, B. C., for a week's stay.

Sheriff George Shelley and Deputies G. W. Waters and C. H. Leonard of Harney County were in Portland yesterday, en route home from Salem, where they delivered a number of prisoners to the penitentiary.

Louis Lachmund of the Paul R. G. Horst & Lachmund Company, hoppers, was in the city today, en route to his home in New York City. He has concluded a prosperous season of work and will leave his interests in charge of Julius Pincus of this city.

Charles H. Glem, traveling passenger agent of the Denver & Colorado Midland Railroad, started last night for a week's trip through Western Washington.

T. S. Reynolds of Salem is in the city, visiting his son, Tom Reynolds of the Wells-Fargo express office. Mr. Reynolds has been the Wells-Fargo agent at Salem for more than 10 years.

Otto Gilstrap was in the city yesterday, en route to Eugene to resume his former position as city editor of the Morning Register. For the last year he has been engaged in the newspaper business at North Yakima, Wash.

Dr. H. L. Henderson, Democratic nominee for Senator from Clatsop County, came up from Astoria this morning.

W. J. Cook, chairman of the Clatsop County Democratic Central Committee, is in the city today.

E. E. Kennedy of the Pendleton Tribune is a guest at the Imperial Hotel.

Dennis Stovall, secretary of the Grants Pass Board of Trade, is in the city for a few days.

DEMANDS STREET CAR SERVICE

(Journal Special Service.) BAKER CITY, May 12.—The wave of progress has struck Baker City. But a few days ago J. Henry of Denver purchased the gas and electric plants of the city and has already commenced the re-building of both plants and the placing of them in condition to serve light and power at the lowest possible cost. In connection with his acquisition of the lighting plants of Baker City, Mr. Henry has acquired ample water rights on Eagle creek, the power from which he proposes to utilize in the operation of these remodeled lighting plants.

Following these improvements, Orren Allen, engineer in charge here for Mr. Henry, yesterday took the initial steps for the incorporation of an electric carline company in Baker City. The plans call for the building and maintaining of a first-class, modern street or suburban railway, covering the principal streets of the city and extending into the suburbs. So far as formulated, the line will take in the Nataratorium, Center street, the depot, Levens Addition, Washington street and Main street, with, perhaps, a branch to the Virtue mining district for the handling of freight and passengers in that mining section.

It is not believed that the line will pay from the start, but the projector is convinced that good street-car service will be one of the leading inducements, with street lights, which will also be soon introduced, for an increase in the population in the near future that will make such improvements paying investments and necessities.

THE DALLES. (Journal Special Service.) THE DALLES, May 12.—The County Court of Wasco County has granted a five-year license to Edgar Wright and Ira Rowland to operate a ferryboat on the Columbia river. The ferry is to be propelled by power and sail, and on the Oregon side Buttons Landing, at Hood River, will be used and the Washington landing will be directly opposite this point.

Attorney B. S. Huntington has adopted Guy Young, the 13-year-old lad whom County Judge Blakeley committed to the reform school yesterday. This is the second child whom Mr. Huntington has adopted during the past eight months, the other being a girl baby. The Young boy is a bright little fellow, and his worst habit was keeping bad company.

The fact that the registration books are being kept open after regular office hours will result in bringing out more than the previous full vote of the city. Democrats and Republicans are scamping about like rats through a garret persuading their friends to get in line for the June election, and a hot contest will be waged in The Dalles. Both parties will have their candidates for Governor here during the latter days of the campaign.

KINDERGARTENS SHELVED AGAIN

The Board of Education, from its action taken at the meeting last night, appears to be opposed to maintaining kindergarten schools under the grammar school system.

A letter was read from the board of managers of the Portland Free Kindergarten Association, signed by H. C. Campbell, Charles E. Ladd, W. R. MacKenzie, W. B. Ayer, J. B. Wilton, Mrs. M. Sichel, Fannie A. McKee, Rosa F. Burrell, Helen Ladd Corbett, Margaret M. Levinson, Valentine Pritchard and Mrs. Caroline A. Ladd.

The gist of the communication is that the institution will not be able to run after June 12, because many of the subscribers have withdrawn their support, the reason being that they think the work should be made a part of the public school system. And in view of the fact that the board did not ask for an appropriation for the support of kindergartens at the taxpayers' meeting in 1901, a direct appeal is made to the board of directors, requesting them to submit the question to a vote of the people to be cast at the school election to be held June 16.

The sentiment the members expressed was against the proposition, and the communication was laid on the table.

A delegation of citizens of Woodlawn represented to the board that it would be desirable to move the schoolhouse there to a more slightly spot on Woodlawn Heights. The block could be bought for $1500. The board will go out today and view the proposed change.

Chairman Beach was authorized to sign contracts for the erection of an addition to the Sunnyside School, amounting in the aggregate to $15,000.

June 7 was the time set for the filing of applications for re-election by the teachers. Chairman Beach and City Superintendent Higler were selected a committee to appoint the speakers for the June graduating class of the High School.

MARCHES THROUGH MARION

Chamberlain Carries the County by Storm.

Meetings Are Enthusiastic and Indicative of Loyal Support.

(Journal Special Service.) LEBANON, Or., May 12.—George E. Chamberlain began a triumphal march through Marion County yesterday, firing his first gun at Woodburn and moving on Lebanon in the evening. The people surrendered to his fine advance and willingly arrayed themselves under his banner.

The opinion is heard everywhere in this district that Chamberlain will carry the county by storm. The drift is all that way. Every day sees additions to his strength. People are endorsing his position and he seems to look good to them.

The meeting here was a hummer. It was representative of the community, all classes being present. It was a demonstration that the Chamberlain idea is the idea of the people.

FRIENDS AT WOODBURN. (Journal Special Service.) WOODBURN, Or., May 12.—The opinion is general today that Woodburn and vicinity will give Chamberlain a large majority, judging from the enthusiasm of the meeting yesterday and the assurances he received of support from members of all parties.

The people gave him a large audience yesterday and listened attentively to his comprehensive discussion of the issues of the State campaign especially, and they were thoroughly pleased with his views upon the Philippine question. They found that he had been persistently misrepresented by his opponents on this subject.

ENTHUSIASM AT STAYTON. (Journal Special Service.) STAYTON, Or., May 12.—George E. Chamberlain and W. A. Wann held a big meeting here today and had a fine reception. They spoke mostly upon State issues, although Mr. Chamberlain treated the trusts and the Philippine questions. His views were pleasing to the voters. His theory was that the promises regarding the trusts and their control have not been kept; that although it was pledged that prices would not advance, prices had advanced; that, notwithstanding it had been said that the trusts would be controlled, they had not been controlled, and that the people would better take the issue into their own hands and see to it that steps are taken to eradicate the abuses so apparent in all quarters.

PLANNING RECEPTION. (Journal Special Service.) MACCLAY, Or., May 12.—Everyone will come out to hear Chamberlain this evening. The prospects are for a loyal greeting and a big rally. The coming of Mr. Chamberlain is looked forward to with pleasure, regardless of political affiliations.

WELCOME AT ST. HELENS. ST. HELENS, Or., May 12.—Hon. George E. Chamberlain will receive a royal welcome here next Wednesday evening. The Geer campaign is developing into monstrous proportions in this county. It is safe to say the old "farmer," as he is familiarly called here, will have his full party vote, with the Socialists and a sprinkling of Democrats added thereto.

The Socialists have nominated a candidate for the office of Representative and will draw quite a vote. Possibly his nomination will prove a boomerang for the Republicans, who have been so faithful in getting a candidate on the Socialist ticket.

The Republican nominee is for Fulton for United States Senator.

There was some talk of George W. Merrill, his chief supporter, was turned down for a Fulton man.

TRUCK DRIVERS WIN. The Truckmen's Association met last night and decided to grant the advance in wages asked by the Truck Drivers' Union. The men were receiving $2.25, but will get $2.50 now. In April the union prepared a new scale, and asked for an advance, the new agreement to go into effect May 1. When that date arrived the association requested that it be given more time in order to prepare for the advance, and in compliance with the request the time for the new agreement to go into effect was extended until May 15. The members of the association have also prepared a new schedule of rates, and they will, therefore, lose nothing by making the concession asked by the men.

Visiting Nurse Association. The Visiting Nurse Association has selected Mrs. Lucy Morgan to serve the association the coming year. They now have $700 in the treasury and subscriptions are gradually coming in. It was thought at the meeting held yesterday afternoon that it would be unnecessary to delay the work further, so the nurse was engaged. Three families were visited last week and one dying man had the attention of a nurse before his death. The association does not send out the nurses free of charge to families able to pay any sum at all, and so find a greater number of applications, all of which are promptly met.

FACTS IN THE CASE

Washington Excited Over the Oregon Election.

Mr. Scott's first business on reaching Washington was to interview those Senators who have given up all thoughts of other business until they hear the returns from Oregon. He desired to telegraph at once to the Oregonian the exact feeling of these statesmen in relation to McGinn and Multnomah. His task was made an easy one. On his arrival at the depot in Washington he found a large number of Senators and several members of the Cabinet anxiously awaiting him to hear from his lips the exact situation. Senator Simon was not present. Those who were crowded eagerly about Mr. Scott as he lightly jumped from the train before it had fairly stopped, and after inquiring after Chairman Matthews and Sanderson Reed, "the baby convert to the party," as Senator Allison wittily dubbed him, they entered an omnibus and were hastily driven to the White House. In the evening Mr. Scott sent the following telegrams to the Oregonian: "For some reason, however, probably to be found in the last interview, Mr. Piper blue-pencilled the batch; thus they fell into our hands—and thus the scoop."

WHAT PEOPLE SAY. Said Senator Quay the other day: "To a close political friend, 'If McGinn's turned down in Oregon our power is at an end. Oh, sad, sad, will it be. Ye gods prevent that dire event. 'Twill blast the whole plum tree.'"

Said Senator Platt, "Where will we be at unless Matthews elects McGinn? It gives my stomach a turn to think 'What a muddle we'll all be in.'"

Said Senator Hanna, "How possibly can a Republican fall to vote for Henry McGinn, if he's read at all. The warnings Scott has wrote. This fusion, oh this fusion. It is a wicked thing. If anybody enters aught But my friend Mitchell's ring."

Said Senator Hoar, "I have passed before through times that tried my soul, But if Henry McGinn's defeated We're forever in the hole."

Said Senator Fry, "Do you ask me why I anxious look and pale? If McGinn should lose Multnomah Good-bye to our cakes and ale."

Said Secretary Root, "I am deemed astute And can size up a condition. On Multnomah County we now depend To save us from perdition. The President lies awake of nights A praying for McGinn. Alas! he'll never smile again If Harry Lane should win."

Said Secretary Hay, "I will rise to say That Jim Bludsoe and myself Will immediately retire if McGinn's laid on the shelf."

Said Secretary Teddy, "I'm always ready To say what I think; Mr. Scott. Of all the editors in the land You know quite well I don't uphold Barbarity or steals; You know that I'm not pouring oil On monopolistic wheels; You know I'm not Mark Hanna; Nor is my feeling hearty To those who with him bring disgrace, And justify, on our party. In endorsing the ship subsidy, And the juggling going on With the canal bill in the hands of Your friend from Oregon, The people of your county Are NOT commending ME. I repudiate your record And such party infamy."

Mr. Scott endeavored to secure a promise from the President on the following proposition. He said: "Mr. President, Oregon has always been Republican and has always, as I have freely said, sounded that wonderful 'first gun' of success. Now the State has been overlooked, brushed aside as a white chip, sat down on in regard to transports, contracts and administration favors. Now Washington elected a Populist Governor, and you poured favors on Seattle, sent millions of dollars into her coffers. California went Democratic, and I am told you sent her not less than $4,000,000 in one year."

If Oregon stays Republican, will you treat her as you have been doing? And

If she don't go Republican, will you show her the favors which followed the election of Populists and Democrats in Washington and California?"

The President referred Mr. Scott to Mark Hanna.

A Shrewd Candidate. It is a good plan to give a fellow a good cigar if you want him to vote for you. But be careful and have the cigar good. Remember the formula: Good plan, good cigar, good fellow—and don't forget to buy the cigars at Big Rich's Cigar Co., 313 Third street. He has only good ones.
