

The FIELD OF SPORT

The Portland ball players arrived home last evening feeling none too good for the reverse they met at Spokane, but just as confident as ever. The Helena team also arrived, and is quartered at the Imperial. Hartwell, whose illness at some greatly handicapped his team, will be in the box today, when Flannery and Vignoux will face each other in the opening league games on the home grounds. Engle will probably go on the slab for the local team.

GANS IS CHAMPION.

To the surprise of every one of the 200 persons present at Fort Erie, Ont. last night, when Joe Gans and Frank Erne met at 100 pounds, the colored boy put his man out after just 1 minute and 30 seconds' actual fighting. The betting ranged from 100 to 90 to 100 to 80, with the white man on the long end. This is how Gans turned the trick:

They came out and sparred briskly. Gans led his left for the face twice and missed. Gans led with both hands for the face. Erne ducked, and they clinched. Again Gans tried the left. Gans sidestepped and a slight misup followed. Gans having the better of the bout, Gans sent a right to the jaw. In the exchange Erne seemed a trifle dazed. Gans put a left shove to the face, drawing blood from the nose. Erne seemed dazed and eight plump on Erne's jaw. Erne fell. Gans rushed and exchanged, putting a slowly to the floor with his mouth and nose bleeding, rolled over on his stomach and was counted out.

Art Sims, Kid Parker, George McFadden, Kid McPartland and all the best lightweight of the country challenged the winner. Young Peter Jackson and Al Weing entered the ring, challenged each other and were matched to box at Fort Erie in the near future.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTS.

According to the San Francisco Bulletin, Bob Fitzsimmons is being flooded with invitations to train at this and that place, and it won't cost him a cent if he accepts any one of them. But he is not going to train at any one of these resorts for the simple reason that if he allows himself to be used for advertising purposes, he will be under obligation to the proprietor, and will not enjoy that freedom and independence that he loves. He would be supposed to make himself prominent around the barroom and shake hands with every Tom, Dick and Harry who visited the place, and thereby increase the bar receipts. This kind of business is not to his liking, and Bob said yesterday after returning from a drive through the park with his family that he would undoubtedly train at the Cliff. He was pleased with the roads and the beach, and there is a little cottage out by the ocean that he can rent for his family, which will give him privacy. "There is not much doubt but that I will train at the Cliff House," he said last night. "I looked the grounds over very thoroughly and I must say that I liked them. The country out there reminds me very much of my home in New York. There I live right on the water, and there is nothing like the bracing air that blows off the ocean."

Jack Jeffries will have anything but a walkover when he clambers through the ropes Friday night at Los Angeles to do battle with one J. Johnson, an ebou-nosed giant whose specialty is the game of the paddled mitts.

Johnson has been working hard. Billy Woods being his sparring partner—"fighting partner" would be more nearly it, for the two go to their work with a ferocity that bespeaks ill for some of those small and delicate bones in the hand that are so often broken or misplaced by fighting on the eve of battle.

Dave Gleason is in the game stronger than ever this year. His coups last season are still remembered by the ring, and he has already started wakening them up again. Another plunger, Riley Graman, although classed as a nerveless wreck—and he is looking badly—still has his betting nerve and is picking the right ones dilly. If Graman gets started going this season there will be some of the old sensations at the Eastern tracks this year.

W. K. Vanderbilt's offer of $200,000 for Sceptre has made the English filly famous even if she had not performed in such a sensational manner in the two early classics. Like W. C. Whitney, Vanderbilt is ambitious to capture the English derby this year, particularly as it is a coronation event, and with this in view he is not sparing the money, particularly as Sceptre is now regarded as having the classic at her mercy. So far, however, Stevier has not repaid to the American's latest offer.

Seven new stakes, to be decided at the Coney Island Jockey Club's spring meeting, June 14 to July 4, will close on Thursday. They are the Rosebuds, Daisy and Fanny, for 2-year-olds; the $3000 handicap and Grass selling, for 3-year-olds and upward, and the Beacon and Rockaway cup, for cross-country horses. The Beacon Steeplechase, with $2500 added, is the most valuable event.

Kid Broad has been offered the best chance to fight Young Corbett, as the local promoters have become wearied of the manner in which Sullivan has tried to keep the fight on his list without actually signing the papers therefor. A telegram has been sent to Joe Macias, asking if Broad could arrange his dates to meet Corbett on May 23.

Unless he can induce Young Corbett to sign articles, Abe Attel, who has been winning purses and laurels in the East, will be back home in a few days. He is now in Denver trying to catch Corbett, but he will carry there but a few days if "there is nothing doing."

The McCoy-Carter fight was not pulled off at Philadelphia, because McCoy could not be present. McCoy hurt his hand on Russell.

Harry Foley is anxious to get a chance with some of these 154-pounders floating around, and wants either Gibbs or Murphy any time he can.

Tokell met Williams in a 10-round match for the championship of England at the National Sporting Club last night. The fight proved to be a wretched display, both Tokell and Williams continually infringing the rules. The fight was awarded to Tokell on points.

At a meeting held last night the following officers of the Portland Hunt Club were elected:

President, H. C. Campbell; vice-president, Dr. R. J. Chipman, resigned. (J. W. Cruthers, vice-president, is to succeed H. C. Campbell, promoted, and A. N. Cronin, director, vice J. W. Cruthers, promoted. After a general discussion of the affairs of the club the following program was decided upon for the field day of May 31: Grand parade of all members; High School exhibition; gentlemen's running race, one mile; tandem trot, one mile; junior members' race, one-half mile; trap show, single, double, tandem; stable boys' race, free for all; pony races, one-quarter mile; mile trot; hurdle race.

A pony race and stable boys' race will be run for purses.

"Jim" Flynn of Salt Lake was given the decision over "Jack" Gresham of Colorado in the fifth round of a scheduled 20-round contest at the Salt Lake Athletic Club last night. The fight was on the whirlwind order while it lasted.

Commissioners, who make up the County Court. They presented authorities showing that the service upon the county should have been made upon the County Clerk and not the court.

W. L. Brewster, for the petitioners, argued that either the Judge or the Commissioners acting in their official capacity could represent the county. In his petition he sets up that the starting point of the road is indefinitely described and that it is not the intention to relocate part of the road.

HOMESEEKERS ARRIVE.

Excursion Agent Duvall of the Chicago & Northwestern and Union Pacific arrived here yesterday afternoon from the East with a party of 15 homeseekers. The O. R. & N. Co.'s train was due to arrive here at 8:30 yesterday morning, but was delayed on account of a bridge being out at a point 20 miles west of Omaha.

"These persons," said Mr. Duvall, "are mostly from the New England States. The smallness of the party was due to the fact that the special low rates have expired. There were only two of my party who went up to Puget Sound. I think that the prospects for a great tide of travel to the Pacific Coast this summer are particularly good."

"While I think of it, I would like to say that there is a great deal of interest in Chicago and other parts of the East in relation to the Lewis and Clark Fair in 1903. But the fact cannot be too strongly impressed upon Oregonians and all others interested that there is a woeful lack of advertising of the event. When this shall have been done, there will be a great deal more interest manifested than is now evident. If a person or a community has got a good thing and they want the world to learn about it, they must advertise the fact in every way they can."

POLITICAL NOTES.

The straw vote that was to have been taken at Cordray's Theater Sunday night failed to materialize. The fate of the candidates therefore still remains unsettled. If they trembled in their balance before, they will have to tremble a while longer. Unless some one forgets to have the ballots printed again, the event will come off next Sunday night.

Governor Geer was in the city yesterday in connection with the preliminaries for the National Guard encampment to be held at Albany. He did not care to express himself in regard to his candidacy for the place of United States Senator.

There has been an indefinite postponement of the proposed rally for Friday night at Capen's Hall, which was to have been given by the Young Men's Republican Club of South Portland "with great eclat." An open air (perhaps a "hot air" meeting, as one man was unkind enough to say) meeting is being talked of now.

THE WEATHER.

The storm yesterday off the mouth of the Columbia river moved rapidly inland, and it is central this morning as a trough of low pressure over the Plateau region immediately west of the Rocky Mountains.

No severe high winds attended its passage eastward, but heavy rains have occurred in Northern California and light rain has fallen in Western Oregon.

It is much warmer this morning in Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington, Northern Nevada, Idaho and Western Montana.

Heavy rains have fallen in Nebraska, and it was raining this morning in Iowa and Northern Illinois.

The indications are for showers in this district Wednesday, with cooler weather east of the Cascade mountains.

ACROSS THE RIVER

DIED WITH TYPHOID.

Eugene Gelninsky, a well-known East Side young man; died yesterday at his home, 32 East Taylor street, from an attack of typhoid fever. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gelninsky, and was associated with his father and brothers in the meat business, corner East Pine street and Grand avenue. All the other children in the family are stricken with the same disease, and their condition is considered rather serious. The funeral will take place from Dunning's undertaking parlors on the East Side tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Lone Fir Cemetery.

Emil Gelninsky, the second eldest son, died this morning of the same disease. The youngest son, Walter, is said to be in a very serious condition.

EAST SIDE BRIEFS.

The Kangaroo Club gave a social at the hall, corner Grand avenue and East Pine street, Friday evening. A fine program was rendered.

Mrs. Sarah Hill, residing at East Seventh and East Harrison streets, departed Saturday for a few days' visit with her son, Sim McCannery, at Wheatland, Or.

A gala concert was given at the new Woodman Hall, corner East Sixth and East Alder streets, last evening, for the benefit of the Centenary Church.

Eugene Gelninsky, son of a well-known East Side butcher, is reported to be dangerously ill at his residence on the East Side. He is suffering with typhoid fever.

Complaint is being made by teamsters that there is too much delay in the re-planking of Union avenue, between East Ankeny and East Burnside streets.

M. Edge, a prominent timberman of Hillsboro, was on the East Side today on business. He reports the number of Easterners who are taking up the timber lands in Oregon to be largely increasing. He will leave for the coast with a party tomorrow.

The body of Mrs. Eliza Brooker arrived from Corvallis last evening. Mrs. Brooker died a few days ago in that city, aged 77 years. She was formerly a resident of this city. The body will be interred in Lone Fir Cemetery.

The Odd Fellows' building, corner East Pine street and Grand avenue, is being repainted and some minor improvements made.

A new arc light has been erected on the corner of East Twentieth and Carl streets through the unceasing energy of Councilman Sherrett. It was badly needed in the neighborhood.

Dan Penny, driver of horse No. 7, is reported on the sick list.

The Portland Gas Company has finished laying its new pipe on East Burnside street to East Eighth street.

Someone who is connecting a meter main with a house on East Twenty-first street, between Ivon and Clinton streets forgot to put a signal light there the other evening and as a result a number of bicyclists who use the East Twenty-first street path nearly broke their wheels and their necks.

Captain J. H. McMillen, a prominent pioneer, celebrated his 79th birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Grover, in Albina, Saturday. Captain McMillen was one of the first volunteers to respond to the call of Governor Abernethy for men to serve in the Cayuse war of 1847-48.

Repairs are being made to the old engine that formerly done service at No. 1's house, but now located with No. 7, on East Third and East Pine streets.

Work has been commenced on the repairs to the east approach to the Madison-street bridge. The approach will be entirely rebuilt.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary J. Craig, aged 73 years, and an old resident of this city, was held yesterday afternoon. She was a native of England.

Mrs. Joseph Buchtel, wife of Joseph Buchtel, a well-known resident of the East Side, who recently underwent a successful operation at the North Pacific Sanitarium, was reported convalescing yesterday.

The Oregon and Washington district Epworth League will hold its convention in Milwaukee this evening. The convention will occupy two days and the business will be conducted in German.

Mrs. Eugene Ferguson has returned from a brief visit with relatives at Wilsonville, Clackamas County.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Pohl, who died Sunday of heart disease, was held this morning. The body was interred in Lone Fir cemetery.

Dr. E. H. Parker has returned from a six months' trip for his health in Arizona.

MT. TABOR.

The City & Suburban Company had a force of surveyors at work yesterday surveying the route for the proposed new scenic railway at Mt. Tabor. The line will run around the mountain and by gradual ascent reach the top of the hill. This new enterprise will add wonderfully to the beauties and pleasures of the resort during the summer time.

The Mt. Tabor Artisans will hold their regular open meeting this evening. A whist social will be given.

It is expected that the City & Suburban Company will begin the work of transforming the old car barn at the end of the line into a fine hall for dancing purposes for the summer season this week.

William Provost has returned to his home in Bay City, Tillamook County, after a brief sojourn at the residence of his brother at Mt. Tabor.

Isaac Kay, the postmaster, is making a number of improvements around his property on the Base Line road.

The Mt. Tabor hall team went to Lents Sunday, where they defeated the team from that place by a score of 49 to 4. The team will play the Russellville nine at Russellville next Sunday.

L. P. Hosford is preparing to make extensive improvements to his brick building on the Base Line road.

Fred Broetle is making improvements to his residence on Church street.

A. S. Garner is preparing to erect a new residence at Orchard Home.

Mr. Hudson, late of York, Nebraska, is reported ill at his residence at Mt. Tabor.

Dr. Waltcross reports that the little child of Mr. and Mrs. Fyfe is quite ill.

Mrs. Elizabeth Frances is convalescing after a very serious recent illness.

DENTAL EXAMINATIONS.

The State Dental Board is now conducting the examinations of applicants for degrees, the annual event of that nature. There are 45 applicants and the examinations are being held in the North Pacific Dental College.

At a meeting held yesterday new officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Dr. J. A. Logan of Astoria; secretary, Dr. A. L. Beattie of Oregon City.

The examinations are being made as practical as possible, and are said to be less severe than last year. The different branches will be represented as follows: Chemistry, by Dr. W. A. Wise of Portland; prosthetic dentistry, by Dr. A. L. Beattie of Oregon City; physiology and anatomy, by Dr. J. A. Logan of Astoria; operative dentistry, by Dr. G. S. Wright of McMinnville; pathology, therapeutics and materia medica, by Dr. J. L. Reavis of Portland. Among those taking examinations are the following:

Alice M. McGilton, Lizzie C. Stewart, D. F. Fyfe, William L. Martin, Ralph Hutchinson, R. W. Anderson, James F. Drake, Mary C. Adams, Franklin Body, J. W. Lightman, W. G. Amos, Francis J. Frederick, H. W. Bowly, P. J. Sharp, F. W. Hunt, R. S. Stryker, K. Moriyama, S. A. Fulton, H. E. Kelly, G. S. Barrett, E. R. Stevens, W. G. Shearer, C. B. Poster, E. C. Rossman, E. E. Bailey, F. H. Walgermott, H. E. Barrett, N. B. Norris, W. N. Pinter, N. L. Smith, D. B. Stewart and George Larkin, all of the North Pacific Dental College; C. A. Tucker, Northwestern Dental College; J. W. Inglis, University of Michigan; J. O. Ogilvie and J. H. Tuttle, Chicago College; R. H. Walter, University of Pennsylvania; Robert F. Wendling, Philadelphia Dental College.

NEW GAUGE NEEDED.

The government river gauge at Eugene was destroyed by running logs some time last week. Since the gauge was originally put in the channel of the Willamette the river has changed, placing the gauge in a position exposed to passing debris. The gauge is split at 14 feet and runs diagonally downward to 12 feet, where a narrow strip extends down to 6 feet. It is impossible, however, to take readings from this strip, as it is dislocated and is too narrow to be of use. A new river gauge probably will be built at low water some time this summer.

LAST SYMPHONY CONCERT.

The last concert of the season of the Portland Symphony Orchestra was given at the Marquam Grand last night and was attended by a large audience of the fashionable folk of the city, who appreciated the success of the program.

Prominent in musical compositions is the "Unfinished symphony" of Schubert, which headed the program last night. This composer is a writer who causes people to feel and understand his theme, and in this line his "Unfinished Symphony" can not be excelled. The strain is a minor one that usually leads to solemn thoughts, but beautiful.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" was represented by the ever-popular "Intermezzo," and Handel's "Largo" was exquisitely rendered. The brilliancy of the music of Monokowski is becoming more appreciated and his "From Foreign Parts" was played with such a spirit of freedom and brightness that the audience demanded an encore. The "Andante Cantabile," by Tschakowsky, was a dainty, dreamy number greatly enjoyed, and other selections were no less pleasing.

The selection of Mrs. Walter Reed as soloist for the occasion proved a happy choice. She sang in the best of voice a number of songs from memory, and the richness of her marvelous contralto tones was never more appreciated. She sang "Shouggie Shou, Ma Bairie," by Henschel, and the dainty French song, "Maman Dites Moi." An entirely new song, written by Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond of Chicago, entitled "Shadows," received the greatest applause, and all were pleased with her rendition of "Mighty Lak a Rose," which never loses its popularity.

The members of the orchestra who played are: First violin, Reginald L. Hadden, Frank Griffin, Mrs. Sherman D. Brown, Carl Denton, Mrs. John Pipes, Mrs. August Kratz, Samuel Driscoll and Miss Elizabeth Bang; second violin, Anton Zilm, Mrs. J. M. Berry, Louise Beltr, Claireta Dumars, H. C. Gardner, Mrs. G. Kuhn and F. V. Austin; viola, H. C. Kay, Beattie Brown, H. A. Weber, W. N. Livingston, P. Timm; cello, Ferdinand Konrad and Frits Zilm; bass, G. Bertram, M. D. Macdonald, and M. Martin; flutes, G. Oeshele and John Straub; oboe, T. W. Searle and Roy Russell; clarinets, M. E. Palacios and N. Hodgson; bassoon, L. H. Jones; cornet, H. H. Samuels and A. G. Parrott; horn, John Everest and W. L. Bentley; trombone, B. L. Brown, W. N. Le Vanway, John Whan; kettle drums, W. T. Pangle; drums, A. E. Everest.

ABOUT RAILWAYS.

The Columbia River & Northern will soon be built. Definite location has been made, and the map of the line will shortly be filed. This road will run up the Klickitat river, and will connect Lytle with Goldendale. The road will be 4 miles long. Construction will speedily commence, and no time will be lost in pushing the line to completion.

G. W. Simons of the Pacific Bridge Company will start East in a day or two to purchase the equipment for the new road. The rolling stock will comprise two locomotives, two passenger coaches, 12 boxcars and 40 flatcars. Rails were purchased in Belgium and are now en route. A contract for 120,000 ties will be signed today.

All the preliminaries looking toward getting the railroad finished will be completed within the next two weeks. Specifications for track construction will be prepared in a day or two. After that bids will be advertised for to do the grading and the laying of the rails. The contract for providing a wharf boat at Lytle is also to be awarded.

W. H. Suedaker, general agent for the Illinois Central at San Francisco, is in the city today.

E. J. Coyle, assistant general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific, is in the city.

Robert Burns, general agent of the O. R. & N. Co. at Walla Walla, called at the company's headquarters today.

Considerate Treatment; Low Charges

In our long experience—15 years in Portland—we have found that our patients appreciate considerate treatment more than anything else dentists can give them. We have proceeded upon the theory that the less we hurt a patient the better pleased he will be, and have developed our methods to that end. Now we can extract teeth and devitalize nerves positively without pain.

Our charges are low as they can be made consistent with first-class work, which is the only kind we do. No dental students employed.
