A HOT CHASE

Dalles' Policemen do a Swift Little Stunt.

(Journal Special Service.) THE DALLES, May 14.—Two culprits, a man and a woman, gave Chief of Police Wood and Night Watchman Crute a run for their money last night. They were wanted in Ione for larceny. Word was received from the Constable of that city to look out for them, as they had stolen this way, and that the man had hidden $20 from a Chinaman, and that the woman had taken clothes from a hotel there. The officers boarded the night train when it pulled in, and then the chase began. The woman gave them the hot-foot up the Fourth-street grade, while the man swapped time for distance up Second street. Officer Wood overtook the woman near the fair grounds, but the man was not caught until later in the night. The couple claim to be man and wife, and the latter is only about 18 years old. She had been a waitress in a restaurant, at Ione, and claimed she traded a ring for the clothes. The officers telephoned their capture to Ione, but the people did not seem inclined to prosecute them, so they were released, and this morning they were ordered to leave the city.

GRANTS PASS

Sold Out a Good Thing for Small Money.

(Journal Special Service.) GRANTS PASS, May 14.—Because they needed some ready money, William Brown, John Higgins and John Ingram, three timber cruisers, sold a rich gold quartz vein they had just discovered to a California mining man, for $6000. The three cruisers made their rich strike on Mt. Creek, several miles below here, on the Rogue. They uncovered a two-foot vein of quartz, from which specimens were removed that gave assay returns of $1000 per ton. Any of the rock will run from $40 to $70 per ton. The discovery gives promise of becoming a great gold-producer. A balloonist has been here of late, attempting to arrange for an ascension from this city, and, by aerial navigation, descend on Crater Lake, in Crater Lake National Park, 35 miles east of Grants Pass.

RICH COPPER ORE

Miners of the Waldo District Hope for Great Things.

(Journal Special Service.) GRANTS PASS, May 14.—The copper mines of Waldo are making elaborate and extensive preparations for the beginning of business with the building of the proposed Oregon & Pacific Railroad through that district. Over a dozen of the best-developed and leading mines of Waldo are owned by the Waldo Smelting & Mining Company, the builders of the new road. These people are thoroughly developing all of their mines, putting up new buildings and installing machinery. The ore of the Waldo mines is pronounced by experts to be richer than that of the famous mines of Arizona or Montana. The values range from 11 to 70 per cent copper, aside from carrying from 24 to 35 per cent in gold. The lodes are all true massive veins, being located between well-defined walls, and are from two to 50 feet in width.

FAIRVIEW.

(Journal Special Service.)

FAIRVIEW, May 14.—E. C. Clement, Special Rural Free Delivery Agent, will be in Fairview Monday for the purpose of looking over the proposed route, and if it is possible he will examine the applicants for carriers. A lecture on the referendum will be held at Rockwood May 15, at Troutdale May 17 and at Gresham the 19th. Miss Sadie Arr is teaching a night class of Japanese laborers. A surveying party is at work in Fairview for A. T. Astell. The children of the M. E. Sunday school are practicing for Children's day. A. Q. Jackson lost a valuable horse from long fever lately, and lost another a few weeks past which he had been offered $125 for. The Columbia River Slough is rising very rapidly. Mrs. G. O. Dolph and Mrs. J. Healin visited in Portland Tuesday. Mrs. B. H. Donnelly returned from a visit in Portland Tuesday. The Japanese working here for the O. R. & N. Railroad went on a strike Monday on account of dissatisfaction about the arrangements made by a Japanese employment agent in Portland. The trouble was peacefully settled and they went to work again Tuesday morning. Another gang has arrived and are at work on the track between Portland and Fairview. Rev. W. T. Scott, Louis Wetmore, Elbert Stone and Mrs. A. L. Stone, L. Wetmore and E. J. Snow are visiting the Sunday school convention which is now being held in Portland.

OREGON CITY.

(Journal Special Service.)

OREGON CITY, May 14.—The Clear Creek granite quarry, owned by Elbert Stone yesterday, and the working of the new butter machine was in every respect satisfactory. This is the largest creamery plant ever installed in Clackamas County and the stockholders of the concern are all substantial farmers residing in that section. Five milk routes have been established, one to Damascus, Eagle Creek and Currinville, Springwater, Redland and Viola, and Holcomb. The wagons will collect the separated cream from each route on alternate days during the summer months, and twice a week during the winter. The creamery has started up with the cream from about 30 cows, and it is expected that the product will be doubled within a few months. Farmers from the hopgrowing districts report that the vines have a good setting, and the prospects are more favorable than usual for a good yield. Many of the growers have already contracted this season's crop at prices varying from 10 to 12 cents per pound. Memorial day will be observed here by two different organizations of Grand Army Veterans. Meade Post, G. A. R., and Meade Relief Corps are arranging the detailed program for the proper observance of the day, and the Union Veterans' Union also will hold services in the cemetery and attend to the decoration of graves at the same time. The members of John Gibson Post, G. A. R., also are members of the Union Veterans' Union and will join the latter organization in its services. Both the latter organizations have received invitations to join Meade Post in its exercises, but preferred to use the Union Veterans' Union ritualistic service, which is widely distributed.

OPPOSED GRADE.

The petition of 75 taxpayers asking that the grade on the Base Line road between Thirty-third and Thirty-seventh streets be set down to the grade of the streets met with a remonstrance from W. M. Ladd in the County Commissioners' Court this morning.

The petitioners represented that the road was so high that access to it from the cross streets was difficult, and that if the grade was cut down the drainage into the streets would be better. Of the 75 signers to the petition over a dozen were in the courtroom. They said the Base Line road accommodated a large number of people who lived east of Sunnyside, and that the thoroughfare was the only one that could be utilized to advantage in going to and coming from that section. W. M. Ladd's remonstrance stated that the change in the grade was not necessary, that the expense was unwarranted, and that the Ladd estate owned most all the land adjacent to the Base Line road at this point. Commissioners Showers and Mack heard all that the petitioners had to say and postponed final action until the law governing such cases could be looked into.

LABOR NOTES.

The girls employed in the bookbinderies of Portland are drafting a constitution and set of bylaws which they will vote upon for adoption at the next meeting of the recently organized union. They have 30 members and the organization is in a flourishing condition. At the last meeting the following permanent officers were elected for the ensuing year: Miss Cora Dyer, president; Miss Carrie Taylor, vice-president; Miss Helma Weiling, secretary; Miss Gertrude Drummond, treasurer; Miss Calo Leary, sergeant-at-arms. W. C. Whitney organized a Federal Union at Salem Monday night. The new organization has a membership of 40. The following officers were elected: C. F. Williams, president; L. H. Campbell, vice-president; C. H. Anderson, secretary, and A. Dick, treasurer. The Painters, Decorators and Paper-hangers have secured a new hall in which the union will meet, at 234 1/2 Morrison street. It is being costly and comfortably fixed up this week and will be in readiness for the regular meeting of the union Thursday night. This organization now has over 200 members. The sand and fuel drivers, who are receiving $2 per day, are asking for an increase of 25 cents in their wages. Several of the companies have granted the request and no trouble is anticipated. The planing mill strike situation is in the hands of the Federated Trades Council, and the arbitration committee will endeavor to have the matter settled as soon as possible. The bakery drivers have perfected their organization and received a charter from the American Federation. The union starts off with a membership of 25. Never Saw Its Equal. One suit called for, cleaned, pressed and delivered each week, and a shine ticket good for eight shaves a month, at the best barber shop in the city, all for $1 per month. Unique Tailoring Co., 47 Washington.

CHAMBERLAIN HAS FINE RECEPTION IN MARION.

(Journal Special Service.)

CHAMBERLAIN, May 14.—Enthusiasm and promises of undeviating support were the features of the meeting here last night when George E. Chamberlain and W. A. Wann, Democratic candidates, addressed the voters of this region. The hall was packed and the event was significant of the political feeling in this county. A prominent Republican remarked that if such meetings are held in many places there will be, on June 2, such a vote for those candidates as will surprise the most sanguine of their supporters. Mr. Wann advanced some sound ideas relative to the administration of the state school system, and it was apparent that his views were pleasing to the people present. Mr. Chamberlain discussed state issues and scored on every point. He offered a rational program that meets the need of the hour and that is approved by the people. He did another thing—corrected the impression that he stands upon a platform that even squints at scuttling in the Philippines. The people here had read again and again that he favors such a policy. But when they heard his masterful analysis of the question they learned that he had been misrepresented by the opposition press. There were cheers of approval as he closed, and close observers noticed that the audience was in accord with the speaker. Messrs. Chamberlain and Wann left this morning for Portland and will visit St. Helens today. AT ST. HELENS. (Journal Special Service.) ST. HELENS, Or., May 14.—A fine reception was given G. E. Chamberlain and W. A. Wann today when they arrived in this town. They are making a most favorable impression indeed, and will leave here with stronger support than they had before they came. EUGENE NOTES. (Journal Special Service.) EUGENE, May 14.—The Eugene and Portland High School crag teams will hold a dual field meet in this city next Saturday, May 17. The Eugene team is doing hard training and expects to win. Two representatives of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company are in the city working in the interests of the company. In the last two days they have succeeded in securing about 25 new phones for the local system, increasing the number to over 300. The company's office in this city will be moved to much larger quarters as soon as a brick building now being erected for that purpose is finished. The County Clerk's office is now open at night for the accommodation of those who have not time to register in the day time. Only about 400 out of a probable 6000 voters in the county have registered.

THE DALLES.

Cop Has Close Call—News and Notes of Up the River.

(Journal Special Service.) THE DALLES, May 14.—Last night Officer Crute boarded the midnight train in search of the Portland murderer William. As the train started up he jumped from the steps, and missing his footing, he was hurled violently to the ground, bruising his face, spraining his shoulder and breaking his right hand. He was momentarily dazed and narrowly escaped rolling under the wheels of the moving train. He is now suffering from severe pain, and Officer Alisky is filling his place as night policeman. Two games of baseball are scheduled for next week. The Boys' Club will play a return game with the Wasco team May 24, and The Dalles High School team will cross bats with the Dufur Club on the grounds of the latter May 20. There are four good teams, evenly matched, and put up good ball. Francisco Parodi received a bad injury one day this week. While driving from town to Alfonso Sandoz's place he leaned over to put on the brake, and at that instant the wheel struck a rock, throwing him out, dislocating his elbow and also fracturing the bone. He was brought to The Dalles hospital, where, with the aid of the X-rays, Drs. Ferguson and Rueter determined the exact injuries and placed the arm in a cast. He is now doing nicely. The people of The Dalles are arranging to give an excursion to Portland in the near future by boat. It will simply be a day on the river for pleasure. Since Rev. W. R. Lord delivered his "bird" lecture in this city, many of his hearers are taking his advice and erecting boxes in their yards for the little feathered songsters. A bird society will be organized for the study of their habits and also for their protection. The East Hill school is preparing to give a cantata, "A Day in the Woods," at the Vogt Opera House the night of May 20. The schools of the city in general will take part in this affair, and the patrons and friends of education are looking forward with interest to this pleasant May day event. The Columbia is still rising at this city. It is now over 20 feet above low-water mark. This is two feet it has risen in the past 24 hours. Boats will soon be landing up near Railroad street if the river continues to rise. An alliance of the Wasco County Prohibitionists will be organized in this city Friday night. The Prohibitionists number about 100 in this county. Indian Jim, who assists fishermen along the Columbia river, had the misfortune to badly lacerate his hand this morning while tending a fishwheel belonging to Mr. Everding. Dr. Geisendorfer dressed the wound.

CONTINUES HIS MARCH

Chamberlain Has Fine Reception in Marion.

(Journal Special Service.) MACLEAY, May 14.—Enthusiasm and promises of undeviating support were the features of the meeting here last night when George E. Chamberlain and W. A. Wann, Democratic candidates, addressed the voters of this region. The hall was packed and the event was significant of the political feeling in this county. A prominent Republican remarked that if such meetings are held in many places there will be, on June 2, such a vote for those candidates as will surprise the most sanguine of their supporters. GRAND LODGE MASONS!

(Journal Special Service.)

SALEM, May 14.—Salem Lodge, No. 4, A. F. and A. M., which is to celebrate its 50th anniversary next month, the 19th, upon which date the grand lodge of Masons convenes in Portland, has received a reply to an invitation extended to the grand lodge to lunch with them on the day of the celebration. Through the secretary of the Greater Salem Club, the grand lodge announces its acceptance and expressed its pleasure and thanks for the courtesy extended by the Salem lodge. The local Workman lodges, co-operating with the Greater Club, will assist lodge No. 4 in its privilege of entertaining the grand lodge. CAPITAL CITY NOTES. The local branch of the United States Civil Service Department will conduct examinations on 17th, 18th and 19th of next month, of applicants for cadetship in the revenue service. It is expected by the local commission that some eight or 10 appointments will be made from here. Applicants are required to be between 18 and 25 years of age and unmarried, beside the usual physical qualifications. A cadet's salary is $50 per annum. Considerable attention is being paid to the recruiting of the military company here, in anticipation of a good showing at the encampment. The various officers are working hard to secure new members for the company and expect to have a "crack" company on the field. Amos Herbert, aged 62 years, was brought to the hospital for the insane today from Lake County, suffering from acute mania. He was very violent. SALEM, May 14.—The County Court of Marion County has just completed the list of voting places for the coming June election of county officers. There will be 28 voting places throughout the county. Fifteen of the polling places will be in halls, two in buildings, six in school-houses, two in stores, one in a labor exchange, one in an armory, one in a power-house, one in Marion Square, one in a livery stable, one in a blacksmith's shop, one in a fruit-dryer, one in a council-room, one in a university, one in an opera-house, one in a nursing mill, one in a carpenter shop, one in an office and one in a building. A Michigan minister closed his remarks at a funeral by saying: "An opportunity will now be given to pass around the beer." He meant all right.—Los Angeles Times.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

John Newberry and Edward Coltes, Indians from the Siletz reservation, were arrested at Albany by Deputy United States Marshal Probstel and arraigned there before United States Commissioner Montaine on the charge of criminal assault upon Rosetta Pezo and Agnes Harney, Indian girls. The arrests were primarily made by the Chief of Police of Albany, upon the advice of the Indian Agent on the Siletz reservation, and he turned over the offenders to the Deputy Marshal. Both girls are in their teens. Length of Life. People generally live longer in islands and small peninsulas than on continents. Barbadoes, Greece, Madeira and the Shetland Islands are all favorable to long life. Jessie Waddell, sign painter, 200 Alder street. 20th phones.

SOLITUDE IN LUXURY

is often the lot of many ladies who must have something to cheer their leisure hours while their lords are absent. There is nothing that will bring so much enjoyment to those who love companionship as good piano. See the Kimball or Hobart M. Cable piano. If you cannot afford to pay all cash, see about our easy-installment plan, by means of which a piano will be paid for in a short time, and the small payments never be missed.

MARQUAM.—The sale of seats for When We Were Twenty-One began at 10 o'clock this morning, with a long line of persons in waiting. Although not more than 10 seats are being sold to any one person, many are taking this number and others are securing as large blocks as they can. The success of these players and the play is so well known that all who can are availing themselves of the opportunity to see them. When We Were Twenty-One will be presented Friday night and Saturday matinee, and an American Citizen Saturday night. Besides the elaborate stage settings, the handsome gowns of the ladies of the company will be an additional attraction.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Two Little Waifs, an intensely interesting play, written by J. Lincoln Carter, will be presented at Cordray's next Sunday. The two Lamb children of this city, who left here only two years ago, will be a prominent attraction. Too Rich to Marry will be presented at Cordray's soon. It is one of the rare plays that portrays Dunkard life, and, although it is in strict keeping with the proprieties, it is comedy throughout. Monte Cristo will be the next change at the Baker, and even Dumas' conception of luxuriantness will be well represented by the effects presented here. Even more elaborate in setting will be the following play, The Banker's Daughter, to be given by the Stuart company. In every change made by Mr. Straat, he adopts a role that is distinctly different to any in which he is known here, and this display of versatility adds to his already large number of admirers. The return of the Frawleys to the Marquam has been set for next Monday night, and in addition to the strong company they had when here last they have secured others.

HERE'S WHERE YOU LAUGH

SOUND PHILOSOPHY. Friend from the city—Why don't you move away from this dead little town and get among people? Village Magnate—Because I amount to something here. It is better to be a live man in a dead town than a dead man in a live town.—Chicago Tribune.

IN THE SMALL HOURS.

Glover—When my wife smells smoke at night she gets the whole house up. Shover—That's nothing. My wife does that when she only thinks she smells smoke.—Town Topics.

WORKS BOTH WAYS.

"A rolling stone, my son, gathers no moss." "And a stone that doesn't roll falls into a rut and gets to be an old mossback."—Baltimore News.

THE HIGHER CARD.

Edmonia—Eustacia is so irritating; I showed her my grandfather's clock. Edmonia—Didn't she admire it? Edmonia—Oh, yes; but she asked me to come out some time and see her great-grandfather's clock.—Detroit Free Press.

BETWEEN FRIENDS.

"How true it is," remarked the person who imagines his knowledge book contains it all, "that one-half the world doesn't know how the other half lives!" "Yes," rejoined his friend, who is nothing if not a joshier, "Why don't you take a day off and enlighten it?"—Chicago News.

A DIFFERENCE.

"How much is that worth?" "Haven't the faintest idea," answered the broker. "The best I can do for you is to look at the quotations and tell you what the price of it is."—Washington Star.

INCREDULOUS.
