

OUT FOR BLOOD

Sullivan in Training to Fight Smith.

Larry Wants Revenge on Mysterious Billy.

A gentleman driving into the city yesterday met Larry Sullivan, wearing a great white sweater, and Nace Grant, at a point three miles out on the Sandy road. They were headed eastward, and were skating along at about a five-mile gait. Sullivan carried a stick about four feet long and three inches through. Grant was skipping along with only an ordinary walking stick in his hand.

"Hello, Larry; whither away?" shouted the gentleman from the carriage. "Oh, out a few miles." "Taking a little exercise?" "Yep." "Can't get much of that in town, can you, Larry?" "Here's I want-sometimes?" "How's that?"

Larry talked around for some time and finally explained that an opposition sailor boarding-house crowd had attacked and attempted to whale the life out of him, and that he was so "tender" he could not properly defend himself.

"But a month of this sort of exercise will fix me up as good as new," he explained, "and then if I don't give that 'Mysterious' Billy Smith a dose of medicine he will not forget my name." Sullivan, I will challenge him to meet me in the ring and for a thousand stake, and when I have concluded the dressing he'll not run a sailor boarding-house again for a year or two. I'll warrant that."

And the pugilist and his trainer hurried along toward their 10-mile stake. Sullivan says he is walking 20 miles a day, practicing with dumbbells and taking all sorts of other kinds of exercise. "It will be well for Mr. Smith to get in and drill also. He should carry sawlogs around the mill yards, eat plaster of paris, and expectorate on his hands and quarry rock. He has business in view that will be necessary for him to look after at once."

THE WEATHER.

Unsettled weather continues in the North Pacific States, and light rain has fallen generally in Western Oregon and in California as far south as San Diego.

Rain also continues in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri. Mild temperatures prevail in all districts west of the Mississippi river. The indications are for threatening weather in this district Thursday, with showers in Western Oregon and Western Washington and cooler weather east of the Cascades.

Mr. Chamberlain said to The Journal: "I am deeply gratified with the reception we had in Marion County. We have held four meetings, and each one has been flatteringly large and enthusiastic. I am sure that I am personally pleased and cheered by the apparent enthusiasm of the people. Success is ours, I am confident."

The professional league baseball season opened on the home grounds yesterday afternoon with a game between Portland and Helena.

It was certainly an off day for the visitors and they played like a lot of school-boys. Jack Flannery is a fine fellow, presumably, and may be a good team manager, but he was a dismal failure at short yesterday.

Wiggs and Partridge were easy for the Portland players, who batted them all over the field, piling up eight runs to the visitors two. On the other hand, Engle was as cool and calculating as ever, and placed the sphere just where Flannery's men could not find it safely. The only sensational playing was in the seventh, when Hupp lifted a fly over the center-field fence, scoring a home run, and bringing in two of his colleagues. When the visitors came to bat Ryan lined a hot one to Deisel, who, after a sharp sprint, made one of the most sensational single-handed catches ever seen in this city. Deisel ran toward third, and jumping several feet in the air, shot his left hand up over his right shoulder and pulled down the ball.

The attendance yesterday was not what it should have been, there being only about 1200 paid admissions; but what the crowd lacked in numbers it made up in enthusiasm. Ed Lyons, the pioneer baseball magnate, occupied his customary shady seat well up in the grand stand and watched the game very critically. He thinks that Vigneux's team is a good strong one, and, barring bad luck, ought to win out again this season. Lou Coulter, Tom McDevitt, Jr., Ralph Hoyt and other well-known fans, share Lyons' opinion.

There is another game on this afternoon, with Whitbeck and Partridge in the box. The rest of the two teams will line up as they were yesterday. The score.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTS.

Charles Comiskey, the Chicago American League magnate, has one favorite topic of conversation, and that topic is Clark Griffith, the old Tacoma pitcher. Comiskey praises his pitcher-manager to the limit. It is probable that none of the managers of the American League teams enjoys the confidence of the employers more than does the White Stocking manager.

Jack Fanning is out in a Butte uniform. It is the first time he has been out of the woods for two years. Odd-timers in Portland will remember when Fanning was one of Tacoma's star pitchers.

Gus Klopff has got his eye on the ball at last. There is not a more conscientious player in the league than Gus, and incidentally it might be mentioned that he is playing the meanest position on the diamond.

The Baker City High School track team is hard at work for the contest between teams from all parts of the State, which will take place there May 20.

FOUR FAILURES

Four petitions in bankruptcy were filed in the United States District Court this forenoon. Three were from one town.

Charles J. Schmitt of Eugene, whose brother, John Schmitt, filed his petition yesterday, asks also that he be adjudged a bankrupt for the same reason. He is interested with his brother jointly in a deficiency judgment for $4500 in a foreclosure suit in favor of S. H. Friendly.

M. A. Stevenson of Elgin owes $242.93, which he cannot pay. His assets are personal property worth $340, but which are exempt. He desires to tread the primrose path of bankruptcy.

Charles Cross of Union County is indebted to the amount of $1070. He has personal property to the value of $300, but this is all exempt. He seeks to be declared a bankrupt.

Thomas J. Chandler of Elgin has liabilities amounting to $2,071.27, with no available assets.

RIVER BULLETINS.

The river at Portland this morning reached a stage of 11.2 feet, which is a rise of four-tenths of a foot during the last 20 hours. The Snake river at Lewiston is 9.6 feet above low-water mark, and also rising at the rate of about half a foot a day.

The river at The Dalles reached a stage of 20.5 feet, at Wenatchie 19.3 feet and at Riparia 11.3 feet, and still rising. The regular river bulletin will be issued daily by the local weather bureau commencing next Saturday morning.

RAILROAD NOTES.
