

SUBURBAN NEWS OF NEARBY TOWNS IN BRIEF.

AN OUTPOURING AT SALEM MEETING

Chamberlain Reception Was Enthusiastic and Cordial.

(Journal Special Service.) SALEM, May 19.—Saturday was Chamberlain day at the Capital City. The Democratic candidate for Governor and W. A. Wann, the candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, spoke in the New Grand Opera House in the afternoon, and no one in Salem ever received a greater ovation.

At 1:30 p. m. the Salem Military Band and the Reform School Band marched down the street to the opera house, followed by an immense crowd of people, the bands playing patriotic airs.

The meeting was opened at 2:15, when selections were played by the military band. Judge E. F. Bonham presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers.

Professor W. A. Wann was the first speaker, and in a 30-minute talk he made a splendid impression and many votes.

At the conclusion of Professor Wann's speech, Judge Bonham introduced the next Governor of the state, George E. Chamberlain, and the effect was electrical.

The people arose as one man, and the cheers were deafening. Round after round of applause was given, and all through the speech of Mr. Chamberlain the most hearty and spontaneous enthusiasm was manifested.

At the conclusion of Mr. Chamberlain's speech, a beautiful solo was rendered by Miss Hallie Hines, Salem's favorite singer.

ROSEBURG.

(Journal Special Service.) ROSEBURG, May 19.—The investigation of the shooting of T. C. Owen by Deputy Marshal Reed claims the attention of the Circuit Court today.

Judge Hamilton on Saturday sentenced William B. Long to two years imprisonment for receiving stolen cutlery and jewelry.

OREGON CITY.

Furnish Chilled His Friends to the Bone.

(Journal Special Service.) OREGON CITY, May 19.—When W. J. Furnish, the Republican candidate for Governor, finished his "famous speech" at the opera-house Saturday night, there was a cold, creepy feeling among the auditors.

DALLES DID NOT ENTHUSE

Senator Mulkey, Orator, Had Slim Audience.

(Journal Special Service.) THE DALLES, May 19.—The opening of the Republican campaign in this city last night was rather a disappointment to the faithful.

When County Chairman H. L. Kuck ascended to the Judge's stand to introduce the speaker, he was greeted with just 38 men, women and children.

His reputation as a public speaker and able legislator would no doubt have brought him a large crowd in a campaign in which Republicans generally feel an interest.

BAKER MAN TRIES SUICIDE

He Took Twenty-five Grains of Deadly Morphine.

(Journal Special Service.) BAKER CITY, May 19.—Late Saturday night, J. F. Jackson, the younger of the Jackson brothers, who run a dairy at South Baker, took 25 grains of morphine in an attempt to commit suicide.

Inquiry of the family as to the cause for the rash act brought but little information. It seems that Friday or Saturday, young Jackson had a disagreement with his sister, and that he felt so humiliated over the matter that he took the morphine method of getting rid of his trouble.

The family are much exercised over the matter. The attending physician says the man has been subject to hypochondria since his birth.

The Theaters

THE BAKER.

The elaborate production of The Count of Monte Cristo by the Stuart company this week is one of the most successful melodramas given in Portland this season.

The story is more appreciated by one familiar with it, yet so complete are the details that none fail to catch the significance and purport of each scene.

The remainder of the company gave capable support, especially worthy of note being the part of Norton by Frank Sheridan.

THE MARQUAM.

The Frawley company will open its engagement tonight with Alabama. The throughout the theater. To those familiar with the South, these will be particularly appreciable.

CORDRAY'S.

Two Little Walfs scored a hit at Cordray's Theater last night. Stanley and Lolita Lamb, Portland children, who take the part of the walfs, show great improvement over the time when they were last here.

C. H. Gardner played the villain acceptably. The frequency with which he was hissed attested that. His successful separation of Nell Fleming and her husband, Wayne Fleming, his fiendishly ingenious plans which resulted in the breaking up of a happy home, and which entailed poverty and needless suffering upon wife, husband and two children, are finally overthrown and justice and right triumph.

The dual part of Nell Fleming and Della Merton, twin sisters, who drift widely apart, is well carried out by Helen Carroll.

dren in songs was frequently encoored, and the singing of Francis Pierlot was well received.

The taxes embraced within the provisions of the law quoted are as follows: Rectifiers of less than 500 barrels, $100; rectifiers of 500 barrels or more, $200; dealers, retail liquor, $25; dealers, wholesale liquor, $50; dealers in malt liquors only (retail), $20; manufacturers of oleomargarine, per annum, $500; wholesale dealers in oleomargarine, $48; manufacturers of stills, $50, and for each still manufactured, $20, and for each worm manufactured, $20; brewers of less than 500 barrels, $50; brewers of 500 barrels or more, $100; manufacturers of filled cheese, $400; wholesale dealers in filled cheese, $12; manufacturers or packers of mixed flour, $12.

H. A. SMITH DEAD

H. A. Smith, aged 64, a prominent member of the State Legislature, died last night from internal hemorrhages, at his home 415 Prescott street.

Mr. Smith leaves a wife and four children, Emory H. Smith and Mrs. Minnie Towle, of Minnesota, and Benjamin F. and William C. Smith, of Portland.

Mr. Smith came to Portland in 1890 and engaged extensively in buying and selling timber lands.

In 1900 he was elected a Representative to the Legislature on the Citizens' ticket, and was recently mentioned as a candidate for the seat vacated by Senator Imman.

MISS MINNETTE BARRETT With the FRAWLEY COMPANY at the MARQUAM

staging of this Southern story is most realistic. In the third act almost a perfect representation of moonlight and the effect is given by electrical effects, and the odor of magnolia blossoms is noticeable.

T. Hart, gave the audience much amusement. Frank T. Wallace, as Dr. Drape Young, is a part which is capable of being improved upon somewhat.

DON'T YOU THINK YOU WANT A PIANOLA?

WELL, hadn't you better cut off this coupon and have Mr. Wells send you his book so you can tell if you want a Pianola? Then you'll know just what it is, and who have bought Pianolas in Portland and elsewhere.

The good the Pianola does you is simple; By means of it you instantly become a great piano player—you can play any piece ever written.
