S. P.'S GREAT DRAW DOWN

Took in Sixty-three Million in Nine Months.

(Journal Special Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—President E. H. Harriman of the Southern Pacific has issued a statement of the income and outlay of the company from July 1, 1901, to March 31, 1902. In that period the gross earnings of the company were $63,435,970, an increase of $6,365,148 over the same period of the year before. Operating expenses and taxes were $41,887,559, an increase of $4,-581,651. Net earnings amounted to $21,-548,411, an increase of $1,723,297. The total net income was $22,407,144. Deducting from this $12,154,770 of fixed charges and $8,033,389 of betterments, there was left a surplus of $2,218,984.

LIKE JAMES BOYS

South Dakota Robbers Work on Their Methods.

(Journal Special Service.)

YANKTON, S. D., May 27.—A posse has left Avon in chase of some bold bank robbers.

The robbers have raided successfully banks at Scotland, Ethan, Harrison and other places. On the style of the James boys they placed a guard at the bank door and robbed the vaults while the citizens watched from a safe distance.

The robbers helped themselves to farmers' horses whenever they wanted them. The whole region of their depredations is terror-stricken, and no farmer will start from home without arms.

BIG MARINE RISK

(Journal Special Service.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—Application is being made to local marine insurance companies to write on a $9,000,-000 risk, one of the largest that the world has probably ever known, and indeed the biggest that has ever been offered in the San Francisco market. The vessel is the new British cable steamer Colonia, now on her way from England toward Vancouver, B. C., where she will undertake the work of laying the mammoth girdle that she carries, which is to complete the telegraphic circuit of the globe. Ship, cargo, fittings and the latest scientific electrical appliances with which she is supplied are valued at the enormous sum of $9,000,000, and there will not be an insurance company in the world that will not be offered at least some portion of the insurance on her before another month elapses. It can be all placed much inside of that time.

BRAWNY SCOTS AT SEATTLE

(Journal Special Service.)

SEATTLE, May 27.—The Caledonian Society, of Seattle, will hold its first annual picnic at Madison park July 4. Hundreds of Seattle's citizens are either Scotch by birth or descent, but this will be the first time they have gotten together to compete in the games that have made Scotland famous.

Invitations will be sent out to the Caledonian clubs of neighboring cities, and as delegations from Victoria and Vancouver are expected, there will be a gathering of the clans on the day in question.

The brawny Scots of the whole Sound country and those from British Columbia will compete for prizes for putting the shot and throwing the hammer. The business men of the city will offer a list of valuable prizes for the athletic events, and as the number of entries will be large the competition will be keen.

ODD FELLOWS MEET

(Journal Special Service.)

ATLANTA, Ga., May 27.— The Georgia grand encampment of Odd Fellows is in session in Atlanta today, to be followed tomorrow by the meeting of the grand lodge. The meeting is the largest of its kind ever held in the State, more than 4000 visiting Odd Fellows being here from all over Georgia. The reports of the grand officers show that the order in this State has had a year of unprecedented prosperity, being now larger numerically and stronger financially than ever before. Great plans are being made for the big parade to be held tomorrow.

$10 ON ONE SIDE $20 ON THE OTHER

(Journal Special Service.)

NEW YORK, May 27.—Sometimes the printing presses used by the government make mistakes, but never did they turn out such a freak bank note as the one now in the possession of Charles A. Pomeroy, of No. 127 Duane street. This bill may readily pass for either a 10 or 20 dollar note, and it is not two bills of different denominations pasted together. It is a single piece of Uncle Sam's paper on the face of which is the imprint of as good a $10 bill as was ever printed, while across the back is an equally perfect $20 note. How this hybrid ever passed under the watchful eye of the treasury experts and went into circulation is a mystery no one can explain.

CAN'T RECOVER IT.

When the freak first made its appearance it was in company with three other bills similarly printed. Its three companions, however, were captured by the government and destroyed, but the fourth eluded every effort and finally fell into the hands of a wealthy man who treasured it as a curio. He was the late Charles S. Upton, of Rochester. At his death he willed the unique bank not to his nephew, Mr. Pomeroy, to give up the note, but he has steadily refused, realizing its value. At one time the Government offered Mr. Pomeroy $300 for the note, but he refused and last week he was offered $1,500 by Buffalo Bill and again refused. Mr. Pomeroy wants more. He said yesterday:

"Buffalo Bill wants this bill but I am in no hurry to sell and I know the value of the bank note. There is not another of its kind in existence and what is more there will never be another issued. I will be glad to show the bill to anyone who may call at my office and I will permit them to examine it to their entire satisfaction."

AS GOOD AS ANY.

The note was issued in January, 1861, by the Second National Bank of Springfield, Mass. Its genuineness is unquestioned. At one time skeptics declared the bill was in reality two bank notes cleverly pasted together. To disprove this contention the note was taken to the Importers & Traders' National bank, where for two days it was soaked in water, being taken from the bath in a condition that absolutely disproved the two-bill argument. With the consent of the officials of the Chemical National bank of this city the bill was subjected to another test a short time ago. It was deposited with other money, no hint having previously been given to the employes. The result was such a tangle in bank's that it required over four hours to locate a supposed mistake of $10 in the balance sheet. The cashier then showed them the $10-20 bill and the clerks understood why they had made a mistake.

Appreciating the oddity of the bill, Mr. Pomeroy sought recently to have it photographed and wrote to the Treasury Department asking permission. The reply was a curt note of refusal.

WHAT COURTS SAY IS LAW.

PARENTAL ADVICE A DEFENSE.

In an action by a wife against her father-in-law for alienating the aeffections of her husband and causing him to abandon her, the Supreme Court of Nebraska, in the case of Rath vs. Rath (89 N. W. Rep., 612) holds that parental advice, honestly given without malice, and with the intention of benefiting the son, is a defense.

RAILROAD IS LIABLE.

Where a railroad company so manages its business as to entice cattle on its track to feed upon wasted cotton seed at a place from which they can not readily escape passing trains in time to prevent a collision, the Supreme Court of Mississippi in the case of Illinois Central Railroad Company vs. Seamans (31 So. Rep., 546) holds that the railroad company will be liable for the death of a fireman caused by the derailment of his engine in running over a cow at the place.

MEANING OF ARTESIAN.

The word "artesian" is held by the Supreme Court of Mississippi in the case of Hattersburg Plumbing Company vs. A. E. Carmichael & Company (31 So. Rep., 536) to be a word of equivocal significance, standing unexplained in a contract. The primary definition, said the court, indicates a well from which the water flows naturally without artificial pressure; but the secondary definition indicates that it may be applied also to wells from which the water is made to flow by artificial means. It was hence competent to introduce parole testimony to show what meaning it has in a particular contract.

PRECEDENT NOT A RULE.

Where the term of an appointive officer is fixed by law, and he is given no right to hold over until his successor is appointed, the Supreme Court of Missouri in State vs. Lund (66 S. W., 1062) holds that the facts that it has been the custom of his predecessors to so hold over, and that inconvenience would result from the office being vacant, are no defense to a proceeding by the state in the nature of quo warranto.

CAN NOT BE EXPELLED.

A member of a benefit society, who just before an election therein, distributed circulars criticising the officers of the society, and proposing an opposite ticket, can not be legally expelled therefor, where the constitution of the society authorizes no such action, holds the New York Supreme Court, special term, in the case of Gleiforst vs. Workingmen's etc., Ben. Fund (75 N. Y. Supp., 44).

PAY OF ASSIGNED ATTORNEYS.

Attorneys appointed by the court to defend indigent persons accused of crime are held by the Supreme Court of Wisconsin in the case of Green Lake County vs. Waupaca County (89 N. W. Rep., 549) not to be entitled to compensation for time spent in preparation for trial.

STATUS OF VISITING DOCTOR.

When a physician, while attending a patient, calls in another physician, who is present at the examination of the patient, but who takes no part therein, and does not prescribe, the Supreme Court of Wisconsin in the case of Green vs. Town of Nebagamain (89 N. W. Rep., 520) holds that such visiting physician can not disclose the facts so learned, if the patient objects to such disclosure.

EJECTING DRUNKEN PASSENGERS.

The brakeman of a railroad company had the right to eject a drunken passenger who was boisterous and violent, and the company incurred no liability therefor if no more force was used than was necessary, holds the Court of Appeals of Kentucky in the case of Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company vs. Saulsberry (66 S. W. Rep., 195).

ORDINANCE VOID.

A municipal ordinance prohibiting pool-selling on horse races, and providing for a punishment against any saloon-keeper permitting pool-selling on his premises, is held to be void by the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas in Exparte Ogden (66 S. W. Rep., 1100) where it conflicts with a state law licensing the selling of pools on horse races.

An Ingenious Plan.

The post check is an ingenious plan. It is strongly recommended as a more convenient and cheaper, as well as safer, one of sending money through the mails than has hitherto been employed.

Particularly Out.

The old colored man had grown gray in service. He had almost become the custodian of the family secrets, as he was of the family silver.

The married daughter, who lived in a distant town, had come home for a visit. Callers were coming all day long, and old Pompey was kept busy opening the door and receiving the visitors.

One bright morning the ladies of the family went out for a drive. Just after they left the bell rang, and Pompey recognized in the caller a former dear girl friend of his young married mistress.

"Are the ladies in, Pompey?" said the young lady.

"No ma'am, they'se all out, ma'am," responded the old retainer.

"I'm so sorry I missed them," replied the visitor, handing in her card. "I particularly wanted to se Mrs. Bell."

"Yes, ma'am, thank ye, ma'am. They'se all out, ma'am, and Mrs. Bell is particularly out, ma'am," was the reply that greeted her hearing as the visitor opened the gate and the front door closed.

Her Keen Intuition.

I don't think I'll try any more practical jokes on my wife. They don't pan out well.

You see she has a habit of opening the window in our room every night. As I usally go to bed last, she depends on me to open it. Sometimes I forget it, and then there's a wild squabble. Frequently she wakes me up in the night and asks me to see if it is open. If I don't she nags at me till morning.

A night or two ago I resolved to give her a hard scare. I rolled up a lot of old newspapers into a long bundle, and laid the package down by the window. Of course, she was asleep and didn't hear me. Then I opened the window a little way and crept into bed.

Some time after midnight she nudged me and said:

"Jim, I'm sure you didn't open that window; it's like an oven in the room. Get up and see."

So I got up, went to the window, and threw the sash as high as it would go. As I did so I gave a little shriek and then flung my bundle down to the pavement below. It struck with a dull thud, and I dodged behind the curtain to await developments.

The room was very dark and I couldn't see my wife but I heard her raise herself to a sitting posture. Then she spoke: "Poor old Jim" she quietly said; "he's tumbled out of the window in his raggedest nightshirt. What a spectacle he will be when they find him in the morning!" Then she lay down again and went to sleep.

I stood there shivering for a minute or two and then sneaked into bed.

HE KNEW HER.
