A GRATEFUL COUNTRY REMEMBERS ITS HEROES

(Journal Special Service.)

CHICAGO May 30.—The Memorial Day observance in Chicago today was one of the largest of recent years. While the ranks of the Civil War Veterans are thinning fast the number of participants in the observance of the day was increased by the participation of the Spanish War Veterans, who heartily co-operated with the veteran survivors of the war of the '60s in celebrating the day. The big parade was viewed by Governor Yates and staff. A feature of the day was the decoration of the graves in Oakwood cemetery of the Confederate soldiers who died at Camp Douglas.

MORGANTOWN'S BIG DAY.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 30.—Governor White and a number of other distinguished guests took part in Morgantown's celebration of Memorial Day. There were speeches by notable orators, a big parade and other attractive features. The celebration concludes this evening with a grand ball to mark the formal opening of the magnificent new armory building of the University of West Virginia.

YALE OBSERVES DAY.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 30.—For the first time in its history Yale University today observed Memorial Day as a holiday in all departments. The oration to the students was delivered by Judge Henry E. Howland of New York.

NEW YORK KEEPS HOILDAY.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Today's observance of Memorial Day was one of the most notable New York has seen for a number of years. Business was everywhere suspended and the holiday was general. The most notable feature of the celebration was the unveiling this afternoon of the soldiers' and sailors' memorial in Riverside Drive. Governor Odell, Mayor Low and other persons of prominence too kpart in the attendant ceremonies. At the customary exercises at Grant's Tomb the oration was delivered by Judge Thomas G. Jones, of Montgomery, Ala.

THE DAY IN LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 30.—Memorial Day was appropriately celebrated by the vraious Louisville Posts of the Grand Army. The principal exercises were at Cave Hill cemetery, where the graves of 5,000 Union soldiers were decorated. The oration of the day was delivered by Augustus E. Wilson.

DAY IN INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30.—For the first time in more than a quarter of a century Memorial Day in Indianapolis passed without the customary down-town parade of veterans. Owing to the age and increasing infirmities of the veterans it was decided best to abandon the parade. Otherwise the day was generally observed. Memorial exercises were held at Greenwood, Crown Hill and Mount Jackson cemeteries and the graves of the veterans decorated with flowers. The principal exercises were held at Crown Hill, where the veterans assembled in large numbers and listened to an address by Major William Warner, of Kansas City, past commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

HONOR FOR FRENCH ADMIRAL

He Came to Our Rescue in Days of Danger Long Ago.

(Journal Special Service.)

NEWPORT, R. I., May 30.—Citizens of two nations united today in paying tribute to the memory of Admiral de Terney, the distinguished commader of the French fleet, which came to the assistance of the American forces in the latter part of the war of the Revolution. While his ship was at anchor in Newport Harbor the Admiral died of fever and was buried here. His grave in Trinity churchyard was the scene of the commemorative services this afternoon.

The participants included General Brugere, Admiral Forniere, the Comte and Comtesse de Rochambau and other members of the French mission which came over to attend the monument unveiling at Washington last week. The Americans present included representatives of numerous patriotic societies and other persons of distinction. A feature of the services was the placing on the grave of a magnificent memorial wreath sent by President Loubet.

The grave of the French Admiral is marked by a large marble slab. In the vestibule of the church is a marble monument with an inscription in Latin, which was erected in the yard near the grave by the French government, and within the last 50 years was restored and placed in the church by the United States government, Congress making a special appropriation for the purpose.

The services at the grave were preceded this morning by a parade of veterans, Sons of the Revolution and other patriotic orders. Following the services the French visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Casino and afterwards there was a drive about the city to the various places of interest connected with the stay of the French officers during the Revolution.

AGAINST LABOR

ASTORIA, Ore., May 26, 1902.

The Journal: I have read the communication of Mr. F. Woodworth in Saturday's issue of your paper, in which he refers to the opposition the railroad men encountered in their fight for remedial legislation during the last session of the legislature at the hands of Mr. J. N. Williamson, who now asks the people of this district to send him to Congress.

Mr. Woodworth says that Congressman? Williamson is a very dangerous and deceitful man in a public position; well, the Fishermen's Union of this city has had an opportunity to find out Mr. Williamson, and their opinion of him would not look well in public print.

As president of the Columbia River Salmon Protective Association, I used every effort to secure the passage of an amendment to the Hume Fish Bill, which would give the Columbia river the same protection, now enjoyed by all other rivers and streams in the state; but a small coterie of whom Senator Williamson was a leader balked our every effort, and the petition of the Fishermen's Union was frustrated. Mr. Williamson, who now desires to go to Congress, not only worked and voted against the amendment asked for by these hard-working fishermen, but after offering an amendment of his own, or rather after speaking in favor of an amendment (Feb. 21, 1901), he, within less than 15 minutes, voted against his own amendment. I don't know whether to call it deceitful or what, but I do know what the Congressmen from the East, Sound, from everywhere would think of Mr. Williamson, if he were to go there and advocate a measure and within 15 minutes vote against it.

Mr. J. N. Williamson was against the Fishermen's Union, the railroad boys and labor in general, and how in the world any laboring man can vote to send him to Congress is past comprehension. I hope they won't.

NAVAL MILITIA WILL MEET

(Journal Special Service.)

BALTIMORE, Md., May 30.—Representatives from 17 states were present today when the National Naval Militia Association began its seventh annual meeting aboard the old sloop-of-war Dale in Baltimore harbor. The important work before the meeting, which lasts three days, is the framing of a bill to be introduced in Congress providing for the establishment of a National Naval reserve.

MEETS OF THE BOYS IN GRAY

Letter Carriers of the East and West in Session.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 30.—The "boys in gray" were everywhere in evidence today. Not the gray that was conspicuous in the '60's, but the new gray that denotes employment in the service of Uncle Sam. The third annual convention of the state branch of the National Letter Carriers' Association opened in Academy Hall this morning with delegates present from every city in the state having free delivery. The letter carriers' salary bill and other matters of importance to those engaged in the postal service were discussed. Officers' reports showed the association to be increasing its membership at a gratifying rate. The feature of the convention was the big parade this afternoo. In line were nearly 3000 uniformed carriers, including a delegation 1500 strong from New York City, accompanied by the famous letter carriers' band.

IN SYRACUSE.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 30.—The New York State Branch of the United National Association of Postoffice Clerks, which was organized here last year, held its first annual convention here today. President W. R. Miller called the gathering to order and welcomed the visitors. The report of Secretary Walter C. Dickerson showed that the association is making gratifying progress, the present membership embracing 22 of the leading cities of the state.

IN INDIANA.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 30.—Notable in extent and important in character was the state convention of letter carriers held in Evansville today. Business sessions were held this forenoon and a monster parade also was a feature of the gathering. In line were uniformed carries from Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Lafayette and other cities of the state. The reports of officers showed the organization to have increased numerically during the past 12 months. The convention closes this evening with a moonlight excursion on the river.

IN CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 30.—As a result of the movement started some time ago a convention is being held here today to complete the organization of a state association of letter carriers. The proposed organization will embrace all the chief cities of the state and will be affiliated with the National Association of Letter Carriers.

HOT FIGHT.

(Journal Special Service.)

FLORENCE, Colo., May 30.—Revolvers were drawn by local officers at a baseball game here today in an attempt to quell a mob which threatened to lynch Jason Wilson, a negro bootblack. The negro was nearly killed before the officers finally succeeded in spiriting him away from the ball park. Marshal Tabor, Constable Green and six Deputy Sheriffs were engaged in the fight with the mob. The officers say that the negro was very unpopular and aggressive and that they have been expecting a public demonstration against him for some time.

THE MARKETS.

Today being a legal holiday, there was no business done in the wholesale markets. A large amount of fresh mutton, pork and beef arrived this morning on the boats and had to be taken care of. A car of bananas arrived and were distributed among the dealers. The egg market is about the same as is poultry. Receipts have been rather liberal, but the demand has been so great that the markets are entirely cleaned up. All the stores closed shortly before noon.
