The Coming Week at the Theaters

THE MARQUAM.

The coming week will witness the dramatic event of several years in the appearance of the great actor, Richard Mansfield. For nearly eight years this artist has confined his tours to a small radius of which New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago have been practically the circumference. The larger part of each of these seasons has been spent in New York. He returns established in first place among all living artists, a position which is not merely a tribute to one which enlists Mansfield's most versatile accomplishments.

The sale of seats begins tomorrow morning. Kathryn Kidder will follow soon in a production of the Country Girl.

THE BAKER.

Beginning tomorrow matinee, the Stuart Company will be seen in the Silver King, a play that will no doubt prove more enjoyable than any yet presented by Mr. Stuart.

The production will begin in elaborate

MRS. WM. TAYLOR AND DAUGHTERS, BERTHA AND MAUD.

At the Memorial Day services at the Harrison Street school the Misses Bertha and Maud Taylor, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, so charmed the audience that the little ones received such an encore as must have delighted the happy parents of the children. Their pretty duet, "Break the News to Mother," received not only the hearty applause of the large concourse of people present, but special compliments from the teachers. Mr. Taylor is the manager of the Boston Hat Company, 82 Fourth street.

The fine program was entirely in the hands of the pupils.

CHAMBERLAIN'S WARNING TO FRAUDULENT VOTERS

George E. Chamberlain, District Attorney, was asked by The Journal if he proposes to take any steps providing for the punishment of any who might violate the election law. He said: "I can do no more than to renew the pledge made prior to the primaries, and published in the papers at that time, that I will arrest and prosecute any Democrat, Republican, Socialist, or other person, who may resort to illegal methods upon the day of election. I and my deputies will be at our offices ready to attend to any complaint that may be filed."

BAKER CITY

(Journal Special Service.)

BAKER CITY, May 31.—J. W. Carr, manager of the celebrated Quebec mine in the Alamo district, reports that development work on that property is progressing most satisfactorily. The Quebec is a close corporation, has no stock for sale, and makes a point of keeping its business to itself, but Mr. Carr added: "We are getting good values in the mine, and will start ten stamps of our 20-stamp battery about the 15th of June with a full force of men. You can say also that the entire Greenhorn district is looking well; is one of the best mining camps I ever saw, and is filled with splendid prospects, besides several fine producers."

Mr. Carr is one of the most successful mining men in Eastern Oregon, and has put three splendid properties on their feet. He is not much of a talker, but accomplishes work. Memorial Day was observed in Baker

The Portland baseball club made no mistake in giving Pitcher George Engle a substantial increase in salary, and thereby preventing him jumping to the California League. The work of Portland's crack pitcher yesterday was perfect, and, coupled with almost faultless support, the local team had no trouble in shutting the Tacoma aggregation out and piling up five runs.

Tacoma did not put up a poor game, by any means. On the contrary, they played good, snappy ball. Portland did not earn a single one of their runs, but made them on unfortunate errors by the visitors.

Jake Deisel made another of his sensational one-handed catches, and distinguished himself by general all-round good playing. Tacoma's man at short, McCarthy, also showed himself to be a splendid man in the position. Among other good men in the Andrews bunch may be mentioned Murdoch, who covers a great deal of ground out in the left garden.

The attendance yesterday warranted the splendid game which was played. Until the returns from the down-town sales of tickets come in it will not be known the exact number present, but it was very close to 4000. There was not a seat vacant in the bleachers, and two sections of the grandstand were packed. Besides, hundreds took up positions lining the fences and on the outer field. The score:

POOR GAME AT SEATTLE.

Seattle had a poor exhibition of Decoration Day ball yesterday. Corbett started to pitch for Spokane, and retired after the first four runs had been scored on two bases on balls and two hits. Hickey pitched an indifferent game, and Seattle did slowly work in the field. The score: Spokane & Seattle 7.

BUTTE OUTPLAYED.

Excellent fielding by the home team, good pitching by Partridge and poor box work by Carter gave the third game of the series to Helena on their grounds yesterday. Shaffer, who was kicked in the back by Weed in the third Portland game, played for the first time since his arrival home. He did excellent work. The score was: Helena 10, Butte 7.

UPCHURCH DEFEATED.

The most exciting game of the season at Forest Grove took place yesterday between Upchurch of Portland and the Cornellius team. The latter won by a score of 11 to 10. The visitors scored six runs in the last inning. The line-up follows:

Broad jump—Coates, Albany, won; Gilbert, P. U., second; Morrison, Albany, third. Distance, 20 feet 5 inches.

WASHINGTON AGAIN WINS.

The University of Washington scored another victory over the Washington Agricultural College in the dual field meet at Pullman yesterday. The total score was 84 to 37.

W. A. Krugel, the crack distance runner of the local college, won the mile run in the fast time of 4:33 1/4, breaking the Northwest intercollegiate record of 4:42 1/2, held by Clyde Foley of the University of Oregon. Krugel simply ran away from the Washington runners, almost distancing them at the finish. Alas Gardner of the University of Washington broke the Northwest record for the discus throw, hurling the missile 119 feet 8 inches. No startling performances were recorded in any of the other events, although a number of them were hotly contested. The Pullman athletes won but three first places out of the 14.

ROSEBURG.

ROSEBURG, Or., May 31.—Decorations Day was observed in Roseburg. The Oregon National Guard, members of the Oregon Soldiers' Home, the G. A. R., Woman's Relief Corps and the Ladies of the G. A. R. took part in the ceremonies.

Mon. C. E. Moore, State Treasurer, and F. J. Dunbar, Secretary of State, came in on the train from the south on Thursday evening, and spent Friday in this city.

MCMINNVILLE.

MCMINNVILLE, May 31.—Memorial Day was observed here in an appropriate manner. Dr. Alexander Blackburn of Portland delivered an address.

Mr. Nash, an old soldier and respected citizen, died at his residence in this city yesterday.

ELECTION BETS.

Detective Joe Day bet $100 straight on Chamberlain and Inman this afternoon, and $10 additional that Chamberlain would carry this county by 1200. Each of the other five detectives have $100 each saved up to place on the victory of the Citizens' ticket.

RICHARD MANSFIELD, AT THE MARQUAM, NEXT WEEK.

his genius, but has been won by unflagging hard work, study, adhesion to high ideals, unstinted expenditure based on exquisite taste, and the most remarkable series of dramatic creations and pictorial productions which the stage has known.

Mansfield will arrive on Wednesday morning, traveling hitherward in the state with which he surrounds all his professional achievements. He comes by special train of eight cars. To accommodate each of the Mansfield productions, as it is brought to the Marquam Grand, the stage of that theater will be short of everything except its drop curtain. Mansfield brings everything for his plays.

The two characters in which the distinguished player has chosen to return are the most graphic commentary on his versatile skill. They have each found their champions as excelling every other that Mansfield or any other artist has given the drama.

Wednesday night, for the first time here, Mansfield will be seen as the bar-begambler-prince, Monsieur Beaucaire. In the charming comedy Beaucaire, this is his latest creation. All during his winter season in New York, his five weeks' run in Chicago, this spring, and on his visits to the seven or eight other cities, he has this year visited Beaucaire has been the piece de resistance. Although it is disclaimed as a dramatization, the character is the one already made familiar to a wide circle of admiring readers by Booth Tarkington's fascinating romance Monsieur Beaucaire. It need not be assured that Mansfield brings every detail of the exquisite environment which has made this comedy and this picture of the swapper romances and romantic humors of fashionable Bath so rapturously admired.

For Thursday, his farewell night, he has reserved another novelty. He will present here for the first time his much-admired portrait of Herr Eugen Court-winner, the princely musician, of the dramatization of Jessie Fothergill's charming story, "The First Violin." The play is a graphic color picture of musical student Bohemian in a German town, and the role of the prince, who became first violin in the symphony orchestra, is style, with appropriate costumes and stage settings.

There has been a big advance sale already and the week promises big business.

Mr. Stuart will be seen in the part of Wilfred Denver, Wilson Barrett's great success, and the remainder of the company will be cast to advantage.

The production will be well looked after in the way of scenic effects and climaxes, as the scenic artists, stage carpenters and property men have been kept very busy during the past week at the theater.

This play is one of the heaviest pieces produced by the Stuart Company during the Portland engagement, and the many friends are anxiously awaiting its presentation. The Silver King is a pure and wholesome story, and has been made the text for many sermons throughout the nation. It is a production helpful to the betterment of mankind in general, and never has been played without leaving traces of its influence upon those who witnessed it.

Great things are anticipated from Mr. Stuart in his presentation of this piece, as he is conceded to be well equipped with the necessary qualities to make his character a striking one throughout the performance. His fine stage presence, his unaffected style, the depth of soul with which he enters into the character he portrays, all serve to assure the theater-going public that his interpretation of Wilfred Denver will be most successful.

CORDRAY'S.

Tonight closes the comedy Too Rich to Marry at Cordray's, and this popular house will remain closed next week.

W. R. MACKENZIE

If the new charter is approved and enacted, the Council to be elected this year will hold office for three years. It will have important business to transact for the city at a time when the city is growing at a rapid pace. The Councilmen should, therefore, be men of business experience and approved standing. The people of the Fourth Ward have an opportunity to elect such a man in W. R. MACKENZIE, candidate as the CITY ZENS TICKET. He has resided in the city for 15 years, is a property-owner and in no sense a politician. Do not confound him with a man of the same name running on the Prohibition ticket, but see that your ballot is cast for W. R. MACKENZIE, No. 12.
