

STRIKERS ARE GLOOMY NEW LEAD

Barricades Are Being Built in Anticipation of Grave Trouble.

(Scraps-McRae News Association.)
WILKESBARR, Pa., June 10.—Gloom has again fallen upon the anthracite region, now that it is generally known that nothing tangible in the way of a settlement of the miners' strike is expected to follow the conference between President Mitchell and Commissioner Wright. Today there is every evidence that the miners and operators are as far apart as ever.
The work of erecting barricades and homes for the non-union men is being pushed with vigor.
The strikers this morning induced the fire fighters at the Jersey colliery to quit work, leaving only six men in the mines to check the flames that have been raging for six months. Unless the company can manage to fill their places there will be an immediate loss.

President Mitchell and Secretary Easley of the Civic Federation held a conference this morning. Both declined to say that they had any bearing on the situation.
GUARDS DESERTING.
(Scraps-McRae News Association.)
WILKESBARR, June 10.—Large numbers of desertions have occurred at Nantcooke, and the question of providing for the men in the stockades threatens to resolve itself into a serious matter. The merchants have threatened the operators with a boycott, and are refusing to sell goods for use in the barracks.

Miss Winkleman Jumps to the Top

In the Journal Contest for Free Vacation.

Miss Etta Winkleman takes the lead today in The Journal voting contest. Her friends flooded the office with votes yesterday, and there were so many that it took the contest editor an hour to count them all.
As a pointer to the voters, it would be a good plan to inclose your coupons in unsealed envelopes, so that they will not become scattered and lost.
The contest, like the weather, is warming up. There were some new names added today. Let the good work go on.
The vote today is as follows:
Miss Etta Winkleman 1394
Miss Margaret Benedict 1066
Miss Margaret Chapman 1066
Miss Rose Franklin 715
Miss Barbara Westendorp 650
Miss Lizzie Saub 539
Miss Lizzie Lind 391
Miss Minnie Harris 388
Miss Elizabeth Reiffenbach 250
Mrs. Catharine Adams 238
Miss Alice Stayton 141
Miss Lizzie Wilson 78
Miss Mildred R. Webb 48
Miss Ursula Michel 42
Miss Emily Byrne 23
Miss Waddell 15
Miss Lucy Bateman 11
Miss Beesse Zimmerman 7

STRIKERS ARE NOT ANXIOUS

Everything, They Say, is Well With Them.

The Building Trades Council met last night, but all the business done consisted of the usual routine work. No action was taken regarding the strike situation, as the members of the various unions seem well pleased with the outlook.
They say that building material is arriving in increased lots from San Francisco, as well as from Salem and Vancouver, Wash. This makes it possible to carry on the large amount of construction work now in progress.
One of the union men this morning said:
"There are fully as many men at work now, not counting the Amalgamated Woodworkers, as there were prior to the strike. The carpenters are pretty well employed on fair material, the plumbers are at work and there is not an idle palster in the city. The general situation, under the circumstances, could not be any better than at present. The strike will probably prove a good thing for Portland in the end. When it is finally settled there will be one of the busiest building periods ever known here."
The submit planing mill, the union concern on the East Side, will begin operations tomorrow, and in a few days the management expects to employ two shifts of 40 men each.
This, in addition to the other small union mills here, will give employment to nearly all the locked-out woodworkers. The latter are skilled workmen, and the union mills will be in a position to make it interesting for the boycotted concerns, which are running, in great measure, with unskilled labor.
The union mills are showing no particular anxiety about their being unable to secure lumber from the sawmills. On the contrary, they say that they can get all the lumber they wish, from almost any source, by putting up the cash for it. The resolutions passed by the mill men, sawmill men and master builders the other day, stating that any firm would be boycotted for selling lumber to any one employing union help, do not seem to be accomplishing the result intended. Lumber is being sold promiscuously without any questions being asked, and evidently the resolutions have not created the amount of terror that it was calculated they should.
The proprietors of the boycotted mills still refuse to talk on the situation. Manager Neppach of the Nicolai mill was seen yesterday, but referred the reporter to William D. Fenton, the millmen's attorney. Mr. Fenton was out of town, but it is well understood that the association is as bitterly opposed to arbitration as ever.

MASONIC SESSION

The Grand Chapter of Oregon, Royal Arch Masons, met in annual session at the Masonic Temple, Third and Alder, yesterday, Grand High Priest H. F. Thelien presiding.
The reports of the secretary showed an increase in membership during the last year of 113.
Officers elected for the ensuing year were:
Grand high priest, W. A. Cleland; deputy grand high priest, E. W. Davis; grand king, T. F. Ryan; grand scribe, Edward Hilde; grand treasurer, D. F. Mason; grand secretary, J. P. Robinson; grand captain, L. L. Pierce; grand lecturer, J. B. Cleland; grand chaplain, S. M. Yoran; grand royal arch captain, A. H. Steiner; master of third vale, E. K. Kildie; master of the second vale, F. J. Miller; master of the first vale, A. J. Marshall; sentinel, Gustav Wilson.
The Order of High Priesthood met in annual convention and conferred the order upon the following candidates last evening: E. H. Bidwell, Union; W. A. Helms, Ashland; W. Boyd, Portland; G. L. Hawkins, Independence; K. Osborn, Astoria; W. H. Daney, Portland. The next evening, the following were conferred: D. O. Hudson, Vancouver; J. M. Hatcher, chaplain, M. S. Woodcock; treasurer, L. L. Pierce; recorder, J. P. Robinson; master, D. W. Taylor; conducting, A. J. Stiles, Haral; F. J. Miller; steward, L. H. Irviss.
The Grand Lodge of Oregon, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, meets at 10 o'clock tomorrow and will continue for three days. Their exercises include the corner stone laying of the new Scottish Rite Cathedral. On Friday the grand lodge will visit Salem and Saturday will be held the installation and annual banquet.

DEBATE ON CORLISS BILL

(Scraps-McRae News Association.)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—The House this afternoon began the general debate on the Corliss bill providing for the construction of the Pacific Cable by the Government. The President today sent to the Senate the nomination of Benjamin Crocker to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the state of Washington. The Secretary of the Treasury has received the resignation of Col. Elias Wright, Deputy Collector of Customs of the Alaska district.

THE CANVASS

Driscoll Leads Storey in Fifteen Precincts.

Fifteen precincts in this county have been officially canvassed and Chamberlain has gained two votes.
The count on Sheriff stands: Storey, 1289; Driscoll, 162. The lead of Driscoll in these 15 precincts is accounted for by the fact that precincts 4, 8 and 18 went heavily against Storey. He claims the other precincts will more than give him 103 plurality, which he claims an unofficial figure.

LAND RUSH

(Journal Special Service.)
OREGON CITY, June 10.—A rush was made on the United States Land Office here today by 35 persons applying for homesteads in Lewis and Clark range 10 west, just thrown open for settlement. The township contains about 800 claims, all situated in Clackamas County. Complicated litigation will ensue between those who have filed, as of the 25 who have thus far made application, only 18 are sure of their title.

GROWING WEAKER

(Scraps-McRae News Association.)
DRESDEN, June 10.—The King of Saxony is not so strong as he was yesterday, despite the fact that he had several hours' sleep last night.

Were Not Guilty.

In the United States District Court today, Scott Lane and William Metcalf were found not guilty on the charge of selling liquor to Indians on the Siletz reservation.

WHEAT MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Wheat, 7 3/4 and 7 1/2.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Wheat, 1 1/2 and 1 1/4.

WAS A QUEER WAY.

Who knows the whereabouts of W. R. Way? About 50 laboring men would like to know the answer.
A few days ago one W. R. Way, representing himself to be an agent of the De Lamar Company, a big mining concern of Colorado, came into a local employment bureau and requested 50 men to establish a smelter in a place about 20 miles from Roseland, B. C. He explained that he could get the men in Spokane, but did not like to risk it. He went to a restaurant and ordered lunches put up for the men and told them to meet him in the employment office on Morrison street at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. As he did not appear at that hour, inquiry was made at the Esmond Hotel, where he stopped, and the information given out that he gave up his room yesterday morning and left on the Northern Pacific train for Spokane.
Some of the men he hired gave up other jobs to take this one, and, as one of them said, "We're in a nice fix."

DEGREE OF HONOR

The Seventh Annual session of the Superior Lodge of the Degree of Honor convened in the Salling-Hirsch building at 1 o'clock this morning. After the formal opening, the Superior Lodge Degree was conferred on 18 representatives.
The Superior Chief of Honor invited Mrs. Wilda Bellanap to the platform and in behalf of the Grand Lodge of Oregon welcomed the Superior Lodge officers and representatives. She concluded her address of welcome by presenting the Superior Chief of Honor with two handsome gavels mounted with silver and suitably inscribed. The Superior Chief of Honor responded in a happy vein.
A resolution of sympathy was extended to Past Superior Chief Mrs. Mary J. Stewart, of California, a member of the Committee on Arbitration and Appeals, who is ill and unable to be present.
One of the pleasing incidents of this morning's session was the introduction of Mrs. Ella Kettredge, Grand Chief of Honor of the State of Washington, who united with Oregon in welcoming the Superior Lodge.
In the name of the Grand Lodge of Oregon, D. of H., Mrs. Ollie Stephens, Grand Recorder of Oregon, presented the officers and representatives a badge that represented an eloquent description of the history and resources of Oregon.
There was a short meeting this afternoon, when various committees will be appointed.

Monument Association.

The Soldiers' Monument Association held a meeting Sunday afternoon. The matter of raising funds by subscription for erecting the proposed monument in Lone Fir Cemetery will be submitted to the annual encampment of the Indian War Veterans and also the reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association. The next meeting of the association will be held at 64 Grand avenue, June 29.

RIVER BULLETIN.

Edward A. Beals, the forecast official, promises some river surprises next week. The river is falling this week, but next week it will start rising. On Wednesday it will come to a stand at 18 1/2 feet at Portland, and at The Dalles the river will rise during the remainder of the week.

COMPROMISED

The personal damage suit of Joseph Acton vs. Jack Fahle and "Billy" Smith will never go to trial, as the attorney for the plaintiff has received orders from his client to drop the case.

THE WEATHER.

Thunderstorms and light rain occurred last night at Los Angeles and San Diego, and light rain has fallen in North Dakota. The weather is clear, with moderately mild temperatures elsewhere in the Western portion of the United States.

'ROUND TOWN.

There will be a meeting of the Fourth of July committee this evening at 308 Chamber of Commerce building. Reports will be handed in by the various soliciting committees.

Captain Charles E. McDonnell was unanimously elected Major of the Third Regiment, O. N. G., last night, at a meeting of the officers of the regiment. This position was formerly filled by Major F. S. Kelly, who resigned last week.

The steamer Alliance entered from San Francisco yesterday with a general cargo of planing mill stuff, consisting of shingles, doors, etc., consigned to Portland consumers.

While standing in front of the Oregonian building at 2:55 o'clock this morning, A. W. Belding, the jeweler, fell in a faint, due either to the heat or to heart trouble. A half hour's work by three physicians revived him, after which he was taken to his home.

The doors will open at 8 o'clock tonight for Miss Mary Case's concert at Parsons' hall. The concert will begin at 8:30.

MONTAVILLA ACTIVE.

At the next meeting of the Montavilla Board of Trade several brands of fire extinguishers will be tested and an adoption made of one of them for use in that suburb.

The matter of appointing a committee for the purpose of seeing that all the houses in the district are properly numbered before beginning the free mail delivery there, will be attended to.

The giving of $50, as at present, to each of the teachers in the public school by the board of directors will also be aired.

TEACHERS ELECTED.

The directors of the Mount Tabor school district met last evening and elected the teachers for the ensuing term. Only two vacancies were open and they were filled, the rest of the teachers being re-elected.
