Godfreys Cause Dike-man to Leave Red Boy Mine.

(Journal Special Service.)

BAKER CITY, Or., June 12.—J. N. Dikeman, superintendent of the Red Boy mine, is no longer in charge of that property. It seems that while E. J. Godfrey, one of the owners of the mine, was in Portland, the superintendent had a disagreement with the brother of Mr. Godfrey, one of his nephews and Mr. Godfrey's son, and "fired" them from the premises, and at the same time nine men walked out with the Godfreys. Upon E. J. Godfrey's return, he insisted upon the reinstatement of his brother, nephew and son, which Superintendent Dikeman declined to allow, and consequently Mr. Dikeman left the employ of the Red Boy Company. It was reported that 20 more men in the Red Boy had struck in sympathy for Dikeman.

Further development of the Red Boy mix-up has just come to light. Ex-Superintendent J. N. Dikeman, who has left for San Francisco, gave out a few other interesting facts before he departed.

Dikeman states that it was not only because the brothers and other relatives of Mr. Godfrey were too officious about the mine that he left them out and had his consequent trouble with the management, but that W. H. Godfrey, who was foreman of the mill, was allowing, through negligence or otherwise, $2000 of gold per month to go floating down the stream from the plates, and the superintendent did not want to see this waste go on any longer. He thought the lower tailings a very good place for gold to accumulate, so he took the stand he did. Nor was this all. Superintendent Dikeman found the mill was consuming 70 pounds of cyanide per month to do the work that should have been accomplished with three pounds.

It is understood the Godfreys will be restored to their places in the mine and mill, now that Dikeman has resigned. The affair has created a sensation in Baker City mining circles, and the outcome will be watched with considerable interest.

Oregon City Council Take Action Against P. C. & O. Railway.

OREGON CITY, June 12.—At the adjourned meeting of the city council held last night several of the councilmen expressed some pretty loud kicks against the way in which the Portland City & Oregon City Railway Company replaces the brick pavement on Main street, when it makes track repairs. Complaint was made at the last meeting of the council by the water commission that the loose joints connecting the rails were injuring the water pipes. Recorder Curry notified the company, and it made the desired repairs, but in replacing the pavement where it was taken up the brick were laid back in a loose manner. This raised a kick among the councilmen, but Mayor Dimick promised to personally interview Fred Morris in regard to having the repairs made properly. The finance committee recommended that the finance committee be required to pay $500 for one year for the privilege of running an express car through Main street, to be paid quarterly in advance from the first day of June. The report of the committee was adopted unanimously. W. H. Zumwalt was elected by a unanimous vote as a member of the board of water commissioners for the term of three years, to succeed B. D. Wilson, whose term expires July 1. It was voted to purchase the Darling property in Ward No. 3 for $275, the same to be used as an engine house for Hose Company No. 4. The street committee also was authorized to purchase a 10-foot strip of the Reddaway property for a more convenient stairway from Falls View addition to the city.

A MOST REMARKABLE ORGAN PROPOSITION.

Many Homes All Over the State Being Benefitted Daily by Eilers Piano House—New Organs and Pianos Selling Rapidly at Exceptionally Low Prices—Significant Facts.

It is a remarkable and significant fact that there is a music house in the Pacific Northwest that sold during the past two months the largest number of pianos and organs that were sold by any single house in the United States during the same time. This, of course, is Eilers Piano House, one of the most progressive and up-to-date music concerns in the country. This enviable position has been reached through their appreciation of the fact that the public wants fine goods at reasonable prices.

The remarkable organ proposition that it is now making is a key to its success in this direction. During the recent large number of organs, pianos and organs about sixty slightly used organs were taken in exchange as part payment. These organs have all been taken to the large factory of the company on Marshall street and have been thoroughly overhauled. Eilers Piano House now guarantees each organ in every respect. The demand for space in the commodious store at 321 Washington street is so great on account of new goods arriving daily that all of these slightly used organs must move at once—at the purchaser's price, if necessary.

BUT THEY MUST MOVE.

To make them move, Eilers Piano House says: Take your choice of the entire lot. Pay $5 or $10 down and $3 to $5 a month. At any time within two years from date of purchase we will accept your organ in exchange for a new one for full price you have paid us for the organ. This means plainly that you get the use of the organ for two years absolutely free-time in which to learn the instrument well—and then you go to Eilers Piano House and take your pick of the finest pianos manufactured in the world. You can't equal, much less beat, this proposition if you look everywhere or wait a lifetime. It is your opportunity. Don't let it slip. Here is a list of some of the organs:

- Smith American, $15
- Estey, beautiful fancy oak case, used two months, $5
- Smith American, a first-class instrument, $5
- Feloubet, a bargain for, $3
- Western Cottage, $3
- Starr, walnut, $3
- Crown, exceptionally fine tone, $2
- Storey & Clark, beautiful case, $5
- Estey, nearly new, $3
- Maslin & Hamilton, good value for, $3
- Estey, a superb instrument, $3
- Chicago Cottage, practically new, $1
- A. B. Chase, $1
- Orpheon, self-player, $2
- Chapelleite, self-player, $3
- Earhuff, $3
- Earhuff, a very fine instrument, $3
- And many others.

If you live out of the city, kindly write for catalogue (free and complete list with full description of each instrument).

THE SCOTTISH RITE CATHEDRAL

Laying of the Corner Stone This Afternoon—Address by W. D. Fenton.

The corner stone of the Scottish Rite cathedral was laid this afternoon.

At 1:30 o'clock the Grand Lodge of Oregon, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, escorted by Oregon Commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar, marched from the Masonic Temple to the corner of Lowndes and Morrison streets, where the building will stand. The procession was headed by two uniformed bands which together with the regalia of the Order, made the column a brilliant one.

On reaching the cathedral the bands gave selections and the M. W. Grand Master, W. B. Grace, conducted the ritualistic service for the laying of the corner stone of what will be one of the finest edifices of its kind in the whole Northwest.

The address was delivered by W. D. Fenton. It was a beautiful tribute to the works of the Masonic Order and its emblems and beliefs were explained with similes. The requirements of a member and the origin of the Order were also explained. The spirit which prompted the erection of the cathedral he said, was to preserve the signs, symbols and spirit of the craft within these four walls here to be erected. The sweet benediction of a thousand years shall fall upon us and upon our children until we and they shall be no more. The same lessons of love, of service, of equality, of brotherhood, of justice and charity that enriched our hearts in the beginning shall continue to be read from the ancient landmarks, and our united work shall not fail.

"The Masonic Lodge is a changing and mortal constituency. Its members come and pass out and into the eternal. Its officers serve their terms and succeed each other, and each year, decade and cycle new men pass over the threshold and enter from the outer door. The Temple of yesterday, last decade and of a former generation endures. This corner stone looks young and new today, fresh from the hands of its craftsmen—but it was made in the crucible of the world and will endure until the day in which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise and the elements shall melt with fervent heat."

"This cathedral, builded by the hand of man, fashioned and adorned by the genius of his brain, will stand as a mute sentinel guarding the fame and glory of our noble Order."
