

A CALL FOR MORE MONEY

Fourth of July Committees Are Arranging the Program.

If Portland people desire the coming Fourth of July celebration to be a top-seller, they had better instill patriotism into their pockets as well as their minds, and this with all possible speed and emphasis.

This was the sense of the general and sub-committees at their meeting last night.

COMMITTEE ON SUBSCRIPTIONS.
Chairman Meier's committee on subscriptions to visit banks, breweries and transportation companies reported that the White Collar Line had written a communication to them announcing that they have made a rate of one fare for the round trip between Portland and Astoria and intermediate points, and they think that the rate they have made will be sufficient consideration for their not making any further donation or subscription to the Fourth of July Fund. The Northern Pacific will give nothing for the O. R. & N. and Southern Pacific. The reason given in the last two cases are that, owing to the many celebrations which are taking place in Oregon this year and the numerous demands they have had from all the towns along the lines, they have adopted the policy of giving nothing. The committee also reported $1200 as subscribed.

REPORT OF MUSIC COMMITTEE.
I. N. Fleischer, of the music committee, reported receiving three bids for furnishing bands for concert and parade, the bids being for concert: Third Regiment Band, $120; Southern Pacific Band, $125; Letter Carriers' Band, $130. The bids for parade are: Third Regiment Band, $125; Southern Pacific Band, $140; Letter Carriers' Band, $154.

The committee reported that $120 is necessary for concerts, and with other expenses the committee needs at least $300.

REPORT OF LITERARY EXERCISES COMMITTEE.

A communication was read from this committee stating that $50 would be an ample appropriation for this committee, if it is not necessary to erect a stand, in which case the amount would have to be increased. The speakers and singers will be definitely selected within a day or two.

James E. Courtney, of this committee, reported that he had secured Rev. Metzger M. McClelland, of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, to read the prayer at these exercises.

HAVANA, June 18.—General Gomez denies the charge that General Wood gave him $25,000 to withdraw as a candidate for President of Cuba and to work for a coalition of all the Cuban parties in support of Palma.

A. O. U. W.

A committee of three women from the Degree of Honor were admitted to the A. O. U. W. convention and introduced by Representative William H. Barnes. Their chairman addressed the Supreme Lodge with words of encouragement and thanks. The Supreme Master Workman responded in fitting terms.

The special committee on relief reported. On motion this will be made the special order of business for 9 a. m. Friday. In 1898, one William McLaughlin, a member of the order in California, died. The claim of $2000 on his death was rejected in 1901 by the Supreme Lodge. The matter came up again today, and at the time recess was taken this afternoon it was under consideration.

'ROUND TOWN.

Flour is needed in British Columbia. This is stated in a letter from W. A. Ward of Victoria, in which Mr. Ward writes that "at the present time we are asked to quote for flour. We can use a considerable quantity of above, if we can get it laid down here at a reasonable figure."

J. Walker, an employe of the O. R. & N. Company, had his leg broken just above the ankle while handling paper at the dock yesterday.

At Turner Hall tomorrow, Max Wiley, Champion middleweight wrestler of America, vs. Joseph Acton, Ex-champion of the world. General admission, 50 cents.

PIONEER OF OREGON.

One of the most prominent attendants at the encampment of Indian War Veterans and the pioneer reunion was Mrs. Eliza Sager-Helm, the adopted daughter of Dr. Marcus Whitman.

Mrs. Helm's home is near The Dalles, and she has relatives in this city, with whom she is at present visiting. In 1845 her parents started across the plains with a large emigrant train, and when about half-way across were among the unfortunates who died from disease. They left four children, who were cared for by people of the party until they reached the Whitman ranch, where the children were left and cared for until they were grown. At that time there was no legal procedure for the adoption of children, yet these are everywhere known in that way.

The temperatures continue below the seasonal average in the entire western half of the United States and the changes in the last 24 hours have been small and unimportant. The indications are for continued fair weather in this district, with slowly rising temperatures east of the Cascades.

ELECTION CONTEST.

The first contest over the recent general election was filed today in the County Court.

Edward Littlepage, Independent-Republican candidate for Road Supervisors of district No. 11, precinct 54, claims that he is entitled to the certificate of election over his competitor on the Citizens' ticket, James N. Hillyard, by a plurality of 13 votes cast in his favor. The petition for a recount, addressed to James Hillyard, contains the following:

"I am informed, believe, and therefore allege as a fact, that when the votes of said election in precinct 64 were counted, there were irregularities and errors committed by the judges by which your vote was increased and my vote was diminished.

He states that of the 306 votes cast, J. C. Sheehan, Republican, received 94; Hillyard, 113; and the contestant, 198. But by an error in calling of the ballots, Hillyard was made to receive 124 votes, taking 11 votes from those credited to Littlepage.

BROTHER SUES BROTHER.

C. A. Babcock today filed suit in the State Circuit Court against his brother, R. S. Babcock, charging him with using undue influence in procuring a deed to two lots in Watson's Addition from his mother, Pemmelia McCully, prior to her death, in this city April 17, 1902.

It is claimed that the mother was 75 years old, feeble, illiterate and that E. S. Babcock, who was acting as her agent and adviser, secured the deed without consideration. The court is asked to set the deed aside.

"Fine Building," Says He.

W. M. Sawyer, furniture inspector of the United States government, was in Portland today inspecting the furniture in the new government building. He leaves tonight for Salem, where a new post office building is being built.

Speaking of the new government building here, Mr. Sawyer said that this is a fine building. "Yes, the general equipment is very good. I cannot say much before I report to the Secretary of the Treasury. I suppose the report will be accepted, as the furniture was manufactured under government contract. The carpets are made under treasury specifications, and the United States treasury stamp is woven into the back of every yard. These carpets were sewed at Washington in the rooms of the treasury department. The gas fixtures were supplied by competitive design and supplied by leading manufacturers."

Basement Work Begins.

Work was begun this morning on the foundation of the new building for the Pacific States Telephone Company, corner East Sixth and East Ankeny streets.

The new building will be two stories high and will be constructed of brick and the finishing of pressed brick. The brick work will be done by Freeman & Cooper. The contract for the construction of the entire building was awarded to Peter Hopkins, who has sublet several small contracts.

The building will be 60 by 70 feet, and will be of the old mission style of architecture, somewhat like the building owned by the company on the West Side.

GRANTED NON-SUIT

Matthew Geldard's $3000 damage suit against Contractor J. I. Marshall, for injuries alleged to have been received while helping to construct an elevated roadway for Inman & Poulsen's saw mill, in 1901, was this morning nonsuited by Circuit Judge Frazer.

Counsel for the defendant, Bronough & Bronough contended that Geldard well knew the nature of the work he was doing, and in submitting himself to the dangers thereof, had no recourse for damages from his employer.

Geldard was working on a platform about 25 feet from the ground when a large brace which was being let down from above, broke away from the guy rope, descended on the frail scaffolding and carried it to the ground. In the fall Geldard sustained severe injuries to his back and limbs.

PROGRESS OF GREAT CENTRAL

The Great Central Railroad Company is moving into the offices recently occupied by the United States Customs officials in the Alsworth block. There will be seven rooms in all, part of which will be used by the railroad officials and the remainder by the officers and employes of the Empire Construction Company. It is expected that the furniture and carpets will all be in place by Saturday night.

MARINE NOTES.

The schooner Lisette Vance cleared yesterday with a cargo of 56,000 feet of lumber for San Francisco.

The Willamette is falling rapidly, and unless there is an unusually long period of warm weather, it is believed that the water will be off the docks by Saturday.

Henry Westbrook, local agent for the Oregon City Transportation Company, met with the misfortune of having the end of his thumb torn off yesterday while engaged in moving heavy freight.

The Ruth and Pomona, running between here and Corvallis, are complaining about the low stage of water in the Upper Willamette. It is believed, however, that they will be able to make the trip for several weeks yet.

The Fred J. Wood arrived this morning in tow of the Harvest Queen. She comes from Hokodate, Japan, with a cargo of sulphur for the paper mills at Oregon City. She is under charter to load lumber for a Southern port.

The British bark Baroda, which was taken off the beach below Coos Bay a few days ago after having been there 10 months, is now at Marshfield. She will be towed to San Francisco shortly to go on the drydock. From all outward appearances the vessel has not been damaged to any great extent.

The Oriental liner Indrapura left Yokohama for Portland June 2, and may possibly arrive here tomorrow. It usually requires from 17 to 20 days to make the voyage. She is bringing a fairly large cargo from China and Japan. It is said that her outward cargo will be an unusually heavy one, consisting of lumber, flour, cotton, sheeting, beer, etc.

The boats running to The Dalles these days are doing an enormous amount of business. The passenger list is unusually heavy, partly due to the new railroad, known as the Columbia Northern, now under construction. Many are going on pleasure trips to the Cascade and St. Martin's Springs, while others are going beyond the mountains into Eastern Oregon, where they usually go in the early summer to engage in various pursuits until fall, when they return to Portland. A great many families are also going out camping for a few weeks, and all of this is making business brisk for The Dalles boats.

SHRINERS RETURN.

The members of Al Kader Temple of Mystic Shriners have nearly all returned from their visit to the imperial council at San Francisco. While there they were located at the Lick House and equally with their demonstration of fraternal spirit, they advertised their home state by the dispensation of unlimited hospitality, Oregon souvenirs, their personal cards bearing half-tone portraits, and badges of bright red ribbon decorated with their temple name and a significant knot of rope.

25,000 equal popularity to all there was the famous "melted snow from Mount Hood" claimed to be 65,000 years old and bottled expressly for Al Kader Temple by the Mount Hood Distilling Company, successors to Adam & Eve.

The Oregon delegation from San Francisco are with other local members still entertaining Shriners as they pass through this city.

Fugitive Arrested.

Detectives Day and Welner arrested J. W. Martin last evening at the request of the San Andreas, Cal., authorities, who want him for highway robbery. Sheriff Thorn, who requested the arrest, gave no particulars of the crime, and as the prisoner will not talk, nothing will be known of the case until an officer arrives to take Martin south.

HELD OVER

Fritz Stahus Must Answer for Assault.

The preliminary examination of Fritz Stahus, charged with assault with intent to kill George Buckley, was concluded in the Police Court this morning.

Stahus was held to appear before the grand jury with bonds fixed at $1,000.

Considerable irrelevant testimony was taken on behalf of the state when the District Attorney rested his case. The defense realizing that the case would go to the upper court anyway, preferred not to disclose the nature of its plans, but submitted the case on the testimony already taken.

Judge Cameron then bound Stahus over.

At the opening of the examination yesterday afternoon, Buckley, the victim of Stahus' knife, told the story of the assault substantially as related in his statement to the District Attorney at the time of the stabbing, when he through he was going to die in Good Samaritan hospital.

A. WALTER WOLF FOR THE DEFENSE.

entered into a very searching cross-examination, but Buckley could not be shaken in any material part of his testimony. He stuck to the story that he and the defendant had agreed to settle their differences with a fist fight, and that, seeing he was getting the worst of it, Stahus drew a knife and stabbed him (Buckley).

This testimony was corroborated in the main, by Jacob Cole and Andrew Castro, eye-witnesses to the fight, but the latter's testimony was given with great reticence, he seeming to try to shield the defendant as much as possible.

When Louis Miller, AN IGNORANT FOREIGNER, was put on the stand, the merit of the day commenced. The man could not talk the English language well, let alone understand it. When he was asked to solemnly swear that he would tell the truth, etc., he made a grand bow and promised to do so. Whenever he would get pinned down to a fact and asked the same question over again.

HE WOULD SWEAR, and swear with a vengeance, to emphasize the fact that he was telling the truth. Finally the court came to the conclusion that the man was intoxicated, and ordered him from the stand. Many thought, however, that the man was doing his best, in his ignorance to impress the court with his truthfulness.
