ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES.

ASTORIA, June 20—Sailed—Steamer Elmore, for Tillamook.

San Pedro—Sailed June 19—Schooner Abbie, for Astoria.

Algoa Bay—Sailed June 16—British bark Madagascar, for Portland, Or.

THE MARKETS.

Not a single change appeared in the local quotations this morning. The steamer George W. Elder arrived from San Francisco late last evening and brought a very light cargo of vegetables, but a fair supply of California fruits. No changes appear in the quotations.

Business on the street was fair today but no excitement of any kind occurred. Everything is quiet at published quotations.

Receipts of strawberries are gradually getting better but all growers claim now that the crop will be at least one-third short of the normal production. It is not expected that quotations will go any lower than they are at present.

Fruit of all kinds is coming in rapidly and prices are fair.

In the Eastern meat markets receipts are liberal but no changes have appeared in quotations. Business in the meat line is rather dull, prices being high and the warm weather having a tendency to lessen consumption.

LEADERS OF ALL BRITAIN

Comparing Notes in the Metropolis of the World.

(Journal Special Service.)

LONDON, Jnue 20.—The annual conversazione of the Royal Colonial Institute took place today at the Natural History Museum and was of unusual interest. The attendance included many distinguished visitors from the colonies and India, here for the coronation, colonial Premiers, privy councillors and officers commanding colonial troops being among the number.

TO FIGHT LABOR

Chicago Merchants Will Combine Against Them.

CHICAGO, June 20.—It is reported today that the plans for the formation of an association of merchants for the purpose of protection against unreasonable demands of labor are nearing completion, and within another week it is expected to have every store owner of prominence in the city enlisted in the movement.

The demands made upon merchants in the past, especially in the course of the recent strike of department store wagon drivers, are said to be the chief force that has caused the business men to get together for mutual protection. Organized labor threatens to retaliate with a general boycott of all the stores that may become members of the new organization.

RIVER AND OCEAN.

The Oceanic Company's steamship Alameda has arrived in San Francisco from Honolulu with a large list of passengers.

The new five-masted schooner H. K. Hall is loading a cargo of lumber at Tacoma for Australia. She is expected to take 1,500,000 feet.

As soon as the Fred J. Wood, which is at Columbia dock No. 2, discharges her cargo of sulphur for the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company, she will take on a cargo of lumber for North China.

Because they refused to salute Captain Bannerson, of the transport Warren, a couple of seamen were placed in irons in the brig of the troopship for five days at San Francisco and now the sailors threaten to take the matter before the United States Commissioner.

The British ship Dunbridge, which finished her cargo of wheat for Cape Town at Tacoma yesterday, has the distinction of having made the fastest voyage on record from Shanghai to Puget Sound, covering the distance in 26 days.

The transport Meade, which sailed for the Philippines, had on board 11 men of the signal corps, 45 recruits, 30 of the hospital corps and 21 civilian packers.

The British ship Hutton Hall is at London discharging a cargo, and when the work is completed will load a cargo for Portland.

William Kelly, who has been a keeper in the pilot-boat service at San Francisco for the past 34 years, will retire the first of the month, says the Examiner, to finish his days ashore.

The Canadian Pacific Railway will not build a steamer at Vancouver, B. C., to enter the Northern trade, as it proposed doing some time ago, on account of the unsettled condition of traffic rates.

The engines of the new steamer Anna Barron, which were built by the Astoria Iron Works, were tested yesterday and found to work perfectly. It is expected that the steamer will be ready to start for the north by the last of the week.

The new Pacific Mail liner Korea will leave New York today for San Francisco. She is the largest and finest passenger steamer ever built in this country, costing $2,000,000.

More lumber schooners are in port than have been for some time. The Eldorado is at the Portland Lumber Company's mill taking on a lumber cargo for Sydney, Australia. The Ariel began loading today at the same dock. She will carry about 1,100,000 feet. The Alcalde is at the North Pacific mill loading for San Francisco. The Fred J. Wood is discharging sulphur preparatory to loading lumber for Northern China.

SAENGERFEST AT CALUMET

German Singing Societies of Michigan in Conclave.

(Journal Special Service.)

CALUMET, Mich., June 20.—Calumet is in holiday attire for the fourth annual saengerfest of the Upper Peninsula Saengerbund, which began today and continues through tomorrow. The visitors, including representitives of all the German singing socities of Upper Michigan, began arriving last evening and by noon today the city was thronged. The decorations at the hall, where the meetings and concerts are being held, present a beautiful and attractive appearance to the eye of every beholder. The national colors of Germany and the United States are blended harmoniously in all the decorations. The program provides for a half dozen concerts in which several hundred vocalists will parcipate under the direction of Merman Brohn. The visitors are being royally entertained by the members of the Calumet Mannechor, which organization is acting as host for the occasion.

WESTERN PROGRESS

(Journal Special Service.)

GALVESTON, Texas, June 20.—Representatives from the Northwest and West as well as from Texas, Lousiana and other states and territories of the Southwest are attending the convention of Southern Pacific land and immigration agents, which began in this city today. The meeting continues three days, during which time ways and means for promoting Western immigration and aiding in the delevopment of the Trans-Mississippi country generally will be exhaustively discussed.

GORED BY AN ANGRY BULL

(Journal Special Service.)

WALNUT CREEK, Cal., June 20.—Ernest Nottingham, the 15-year-old son of a prominent farmer, was gored by a savage bull near here and received internal injuries from which he will not recover.

PAYS PENALTY FOR MURDER

(Journal Special Service.)

BRANDON, Man., June 20.—The execution of Walter Gordon took place this morning. Gordon's crime was the murder of two men named Daw and Smith at Whitewater in 1900. The crime resulted from a dispute over a team which Gordon was negotiating to buy from Daw.

QUEER FLOTSAM.

A mass of poker chips, melted together, and inclosing fragments of playing cards, has been washed up on the beach at Angel Island, at San Francisco and found by a soldier. It is a shaoeless jumble of red, white, blue and yellow bits of celluloid, all retaining their brilliant color and some of them holding their shape. From the center protrudes the ragged and water-washed ends of an entire pack of cards, and the fancy scroll work from the backs of others are imprinted perfectly on some of the chips. Similar impressions were made by cases inclosing other packs, which had once been a part of the mass.

The oldest mariners in San Francisco Bay, who have seen all sorts of things come out of the depths of the ocean at one time or another, were unable to figure with any degree of exactness where this came from or what it meant. The chips do not seem to have been touched by flame and the cards are not burned, two facts which show that they were subjected to a high temperature but not a blaze. Steam might have melted them together. Along the waterfront it was figured out that the thing came from the steward's cabin of the wrecked Rio Janiero. No other sunken vessel in the neighborhood that is known about would be likely to have carried such an equipment, and it is too bulky a thing to have floated for any very great distance.

RECENT LEGAL DECISIONS.

Betting on horse races is not illegal in Louisana, holds the Supreme court of that state in the case of City of Shreveport vs. Maloney (31 So. Rep. 702), and a bet on the result of a horse race may be recovered.

Where a State Food Commissioner charged by law with the duty of determining the matter in the first instance, publishes statements that an article of food or drink is adulterated, and that its sale is in violation of the laws of the state, and threatens prosecution against those who sell it, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in the case of Arbuckle vs. Blackburn (118 Fed. Rep., 316), holds that an injunction will not be granted to enjoin such prosecution whether the statements of the Food Commissioner are correct or erroneous.

Seven Victoria Crosses have been won by Gordon Highlanders during the war.
