

CITY BRIEFS

Superintendent of County Schools R. F. Johnson has set the date for the next annual teachers' institute for September 9, 11 and 12.

G. W. Banks, the Bellwood painter, underwent an operation at the Good Samaritan hospital Sunday night. He is rapidly recovering.

Very low rates to the East and return via the Chicago & Northwestern Railway. Tickets on sale June 28, July 1 and 7. For further information call at 153 Third street.

Among the lecturers at the Holmes English and Business College summer course are City Superintendent Frank Rigger, County Superintendent R. F. Johnson, D. A. Grant and J. Burham, principal of Park and Couch schools.

The To-Locagon Society held its seventh annual banquet at Kruse's last night, about 50 members being present. This is the debating society of the Portland High school.

Hotel Flavel diagram of rooms now ready, 615 Marquam bldg. Season opens July 1. Book now; get your pick; perfect bath, steam heat, electric light, private bath in each suite, sea bathing, table unexcelled; rates unprecedentedly low: $7, $10, $12, $15 per week with board.

C. J. Reed has returned from the East after an absence of two months. He says he is glad to return where it is his home. Mr. Reed was called to Auburn, N. Y., on account of the sickness of his father, who is a man quite advanced in years.

The Board of Trade will issue a special edition of 100,000 copies of the Northwest Pacific Farmer in about two weeks. The paper will be about 25 pages and contain concise information regarding the agricultural, horticultural, stock and kindred resources of the Northwest in such form as will be most valuable to intending settlers.

Visitors to Long Beach all speak in high terms of the well known hotel, "The Harvest Home." Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McKean are well known, having resided there for over 19 years. They grow all their vegetables, which enables them to serve them fresh and crisp every meal.

An open meeting will be held at the Machinists' hall, Alley building, corner of Third and Morrison streets, on Friday night by the various iron trades for the purpose of organizing an Iron Trades Council. It is the intention to make an effort to have all the different branches of the trade to amalgamate on the same lines as those of the Building Trades Council.

PERSONALS.

Harry Smith of Baker City is at the Imperial. R. J. F. Thurston, a prominent citizen of Dallas, is in the city.

Henry Blackman of Heppner is spending a few days in the city. J. R. Whitney, State Printer-elect, is at the Perkins from Albany.

Will Ingram is in the city from Pendleton to spend a few days. J. W. Campbell was on the street yesterday, the first time in four weeks, having recently undergone a surgical operation.

Dr. Boyd Richardson of Salem was in the city yesterday. He has been practicing medicine at Republic and other Washington cities for the last year, and has now returned to Salem to enter into partnership with his father, who has been located at Salem for 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ottenheimer of San Francisco are guests at the Portland. They were married last week and are now making a tour of the Northwest. Mr. Ottenheimer is the Pacific Coast agent for Lillenthal Bros. of New York, with headquarters at Salem, where their future home will be.

BRIDGETENDERS' HARD JOB

The special officer placed at the east end of the Morrison-street bridge to prevent teams from proceeding faster than a walk, is meeting with considerable difficulty in enforcing the order of the court. The custom for vehicles to break into a trot while covering the span next to the approach has become so well set that an example will likely have to be made of a number of them to avoid a continuance of the violation.

SIX BURGLARIES.

House wives during the coming hot weather would do well in observing all ordinary precautions against burglars. During the recent sultry spell six night burglaries have been reported to the police, and in each instance a window had been left open for ventilation.

HOME SWEET HOME

Been thinking of going back to the farm, old home to spend vacation? You'll want to take some little thing to the folks—to brother, sister, friends, some little present for—you know whom—and you'll want it to be the best and just the right thing.

Upbuilding the State.

And this is how the Southern Pacific land and immigration agents handle matters in increasing the population of Texas. They held a congress at Galveston June 20. A special run from New Orleans bearing these bustling individuals, and each had with him a score or more of actual homeseekers.

PROGRAM FOR FOURTH

LITERARY EXERCISES PROGRAM.

Selection.....Orchestra Solo.....Miss Caroline Johnson Reading, Declaration of Independence.....Prof. M. L. Pratt Solo.....Miss Edna Kippel Oration.....C. E. S. Wood Song, "America".....Quartet Prayer.....Rev. M. D. McLelland Song, "Star Spangled Banner".....Orchestra Selection.....Orchestra

The above program will be rendered at the Marquam Theatre on the afternoon of July 4, following the parade. This was decided upon at a meeting of the committee on literary exercises and approved by the general committee of the Fourth of July celebration at an enthusiastic meeting held last night at 306 Chamber of Commerce.

A letter from General G. M. Randall, commander of the Department of the Columbia, was read stating that Portland could have one battalion of infantry and one battery of infantry on July 4, provided free transportation was allowed them.

A letter was read signed by Mayor A. B. Eastham, of Vancouver, and John H. Elwell, chairman of the Fourth of July committee of that place, requesting that Portland should not take the troops from Vancouver, but leave it for them, as Portland had many attractions on the Fourth, and they had very few. It was decided that "a fair exchange is no robbery" that if they would give Portland the balloon which they engaged, Portland would give them the troops.

AMOUNTS SUBSCRIBED.

Secretary Maloney reported that the following amounts were collected by the committees named: Finley and Duffy, $2; Matheson and Klein, $23.50; Selling and McAllen, $50; Rich and McIsaac, $28.50; Adams and Robinson, $38.50; Adams and Berry, $33.80; Orr and McPherson, $25; Morrow and Barr, $20.25; Newhall and McIsaac, $52.50; Meir and Newhall, $1200; H. Whitney, $50; sale of program, $50; balance, from 1900, $73.27; total money subscribed, $53.28.00.

Captain J. P. Shaw, of the parade committee, reported that everything was going along nicely, but that he would need more money as prices of horses have raised since last year. By motion, it to all Texas prairies with productive rice farmers, fruitgrowers and manufacturers will be gathered into a special train for an educational tour of the state. Of course, these energetic land men have been eloquent upon the glories of Texas, even though many of them were never in the state.

When the Southern Pacific Company gets through showing them how cotton, corn, rice and other things grow in Texas, their eloquence will have a solid foundation of demonstrated fact which will make their work easier and more largely effective.

Following this may be gathered the methods now being pursued by Mr. Harriman, in connection with all his vast, colonization schemes. It is probable that the course followed in building up a great area of productive territory in the South will be practically that to be followed in the development and population of Oregon and Washington.

The fact that these are practical ways in which to produce revenues are a sufficient argument for Mr. Harriman. A railroad must have traffic; if it does not exist, conditions must be made such that it will not only exist, but that it will continue to exist. These are the things that Mr. Harriman is doing. To be sure they will enrich the Harriman lines and increase dividends, but they will also enrich the territory through which the Harriman lines pass.

Freak Fishboat.

At the opening of the season a fish boat appeared on the river with a marine engine and a boiler in it and was used as a gillnet fish boat. It was generally considered as a freak and the "Joey," as it was called, and was expected to not only be a failure for the purpose for which she was intended but might also drown those on board.

ALCOHOL VICTIMS RECOVER

Alexander Brill and Lee Rosseter, who were burned in the alcohol explosion at the Portland Cracker Company on Saturday, have left the hospital and will soon be completely recovered. According to the statement made by Griffin before his death, the explosion was due to the incorrect labeling of the barrels. He had a lighted taper to a barrel which he thought contained vanilla extract, but which held alcohol instead, which at once ignited.

FREE BATHS

Given a Backset by County Commissioners.

Who Refuse to Allow an Anchorage for the House.

Unless the County Commissioners show some disposition to help Messrs. Hoffman and Samuels out in locating the free bath house, the matter may be dropped indefinitely.

Yesterday they were asked for a permit to cut a gate in the south railing to Morrison-street bridge to open onto a stairway leading to the water. It was proposed to anchor the bath house 100 feet south of the bridge so that people passing would not see into the swimming pool.

The request was promptly refused, notwithstanding the fact that the Portland Rowing Club has more privileges than the free bath house people ask. Their boat house is moored right at the east approach to the bridge and they have a gate and gangway leading to their float.

MR. SAMUELS DISGUSTED. "Take that little village of Boston back East," said L. Samuels this morning.

NATIONAL MEETING

In Portland of the State Dairy and Food Departments.

Arrangements have already been made for the sixth annual meeting of the National Association of State Dairy and Food Departments which will be held in Portland July 8, 9, 10. The meetings of the convention will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Hall and the headquarters will be the Portland Hotel.

A question box will be kept in the secretary's desk, and all are invited to place therein such questions as they may wish to have discussed during the session. At a proper time, designated by the meeting, these questions will be referred to some one for an answer.

The officers of this association are as follows: President, Alfred H. Jones, Illinois; first vice-president, Jesse K. Cope, Pennsylvania; second vice-president, George M. Whitaker, Massachusetts; third vice-president, R. M. Allen, Kentucky; secretary-treasurer, J. B. Noble, Connecticut.

"NO BENEFIT TO ME," SAYS GEER

In Speaking to The Journal About Extra Session of Legislature.

Governor Geer sees no way in which he may be "benefited personally" by an extra session of the Legislature. While in the city yesterday on route home from Astoria he was conversing with The Journal, and said: "The various newspapers of the state that are attempting to analyze my object and define my motive for proposing to call an extra session of what they call 'Geer's Legislature,' are simply amusing. It is ridiculous to state that I have any personal interest in an extra session. It cannot help me in any way in my Senatorial fight, and as Governor it would be an unpopular action for me to take unless some important measure were to arise.

In case a special session were called, the question of United States Senator could not be discussed at all, but so far as yet considered, it would be to dispose of the flat salary question.

Considering this fact, no personal benefit would result in my issuing the call. As it is not to my interest in any way to have this session, I will not call it unless so desired by the majority of the members of the Legislature and the expressed opinion of the people."

the president, secretary and J. E. Blackburn, Ohio; H. C. Adams, Wisconsin, and J. W. Bailey, Oregon. The program is as follows: Tuesday, July 8, 1902, 1 p. m. Address of welcome (on behalf of the state), Hon. T. T. Geer, Governor of Oregon; address of welcome (on behalf of the city), Mayor of Portland; response (on behalf of association), Hon. J. E. Blackburn, Ohio; appointment of committees; address, Hon. A. H. Jones, president; address, "The Proposed National Food Law," Hon. John Hamilton, Secretary of Agriculture, Pennsylvania; discussion, opened by Hon. H. E. Wright, Deputy Dairy Commissioner of Iowa; and Hon. T. M. Mosser, Dairy Commissioner of Colorado; address, "The Practical Enforcement of the National Law (commonly known as the Gruit Law) in regard to Oleomargarine, Process Butter, Etc., and the General Effect in the Different States," Hon. H. C. Adams, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Wisconsin; discussion, opened by Hon. F. J. H. Kracka, Assistant Commissioner of New York, and Hon. George M. Whitaker, Dairy Commissioner, Massachusetts.

Wednesday, July 9, 9 a. m. Address, "Antiseptics and Coloring in Foods," Prof. A. S. Mitchell, Chemist, Wisconsin; discussion opened by Dr. E. N. Eaton, State Chemist, Illinois, and Hon. R. E. Doolittle, State Chemist, Michigan; address, "Decisions Affecting Our Food Laws," Hon. R. M. Allen, Secretary, Kentucky; discussion, opened by Hon. E. O. Grosvenor, Michigan, and Hon. Scott Bonham, Ohio; address, "Enforcing the Pure Food Law in the West," Hon. C. P. Sherwood, Dairy and Food Commissioner, South Dakota; discussion, opened by Hon. J. W. Bailey, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Oregon, and Hon. E. A. McDonald, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Washington; address, "A Review of the Laws and Regulations Regulating Flavoring Extracts," Prof. R. E. Doolittle, State Chemist, Michigan; discussion, opened by Herman Harms, State Chemist, Utah; Prof. A. S. Mitchell, State Chemist, Wisconsin, and Dr. E. N. Eaton, State Chemist, Illinois; address, "Adulterated Coffee, Glazed and Otherwise," Hon. J. E. Blackburn, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Wisconsin, and Hon. Jesse Cope, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Pennsylvania.

Thursday, July 10, 9 a. m. Address, "How to Label the Different Food Products and Rulings of Same," Hon. E. O. Grosvenor, Michigan; discussion, opened by Hon. J. E. Blackburn, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Connecticut; address, "United States Food Pharmacopoeia," Dr. E. N. Eaton, State Chemist, Illinois; discussion, opened by Dr. A. S. Mitchell, State Chemist, Wisconsin; Dr. R. E. Doolittle, State Chemist, Michigan, and Dr. J. M. Nelson, State Chemist, Nebraska; report of committee on rulings, Hon. J. R. Blackburn, Ohio; Hon. John Hamilton, Pennsylvania, and Hon. H. C. Adams, Wisconsin.

COURT NOTES.

Articles of incorporation of the Bohn Lumber Company have been filed by Wm. J. Bohn, James Steel and J. E. Ryan. The capital stock is $25,000. In the State Circuit Court yesterday the suit of Mrs. K. L. Meier against Alex. Barrell, to recover $738 on a note, was dismissed.

The will of Gustav Ludwig Christian Winter was admitted to probate in the County Court yesterday. The property, valued at $500, is bequeathed to the widow, Anna Winter, who is named as executrix without bonds. Ten dollars is devised to each of the children—Gustav, Frederick and William Winter, Anna Simpson and Anna Ruelh.

A Stitch in Time Saves Nine. Do not slouch around looking like a tramp, all to save one dollar. We call for, clean, press and deliver one suit of your clothing each week, and give you a shine ticket good for eight shaves a month, all for $1 per month. Unique Tailoring Co., 347 Washington street.

FOOT BRIDGE

Funds Being Solicited for Plank Crossing.

Al. Schapiro and other first-street business men are circulating a petition among the business men of the district around the Madison-street bridge for the purpose of collecting funds for the building of a temporary foot passage across the burned structure.

Since the bridge was burned last Saturday, the traffic that usually goes over it has been diverted to the Morrison-street bridge and the trade that formerly went to the southwestern portion of the city is now transacted elsewhere.

The petition is receiving numerous signatures and there is no doubt but that the temporary bridge will be made. The management of the Tamm & Poulson mill was asked to lend some rough lumber for the structure, as were the other mills of the city.

SCHOOL BOARD DOES BUSINESS

The Board of Education last night voted to erect a new school building at Woodlawn on the site of the present one, in preference to locating the new structure on Woodlawn Heights, several blocks away, to meet the desire of a number of residents of that district, who claimed that the heights would be more central.

The plans for the new building, providing for a cost of from $12,000 to $15,000, were accepted. Estimates for the construction of the new school at Sellwood, placed at from $8000 to $7000, were accepted. The buildings will be constructed during the summer vacation.

Chairman Williams, who has succeeded Mr. Beach as presiding officer, announces the standing committees for the year as follows: Examination of teachers—Mrs. L. W. Sitton, Frank Rigger, Judiciary—J. V. Beach, R. K. Warren, Finance—R. K. Warren, Mrs. L. W. Sitton.

Insurance—H. Wittenberg, J. V. Beach. Construction of new buildings—R. K. Warren, H. Wittenberg. Repairs—J. V. Beach, R. K. Warren. Supplies—Mrs. L. W. Sitton, H. Wittenberg.

School Clerk Allen was re-elected for the ensuing year. A cement floor in the basement of the High school was authorized, and the matter of sewer connections for the South Portland school was referred to the repair committee.

On recommendation of Superintendent Rigger, the date for the opening of the next school year was set at September 15.

Astoria Labor Trouble.

The members of the Carpenters' Union at Astoria have notified the master builders at that place of their decision not to work with material from the boycotted mills of Portland. The men have agreed to work with material which was ordered prior to the boycott, but will use none ordered subsequently.

The contractors state that they will force them to refuse to take any new contracts, as they will be unable to get certain kinds of material from any other source than here in Portland.
