

JOHN J. DALY SUICIDES

Former Grand Master of the A. O. U. W. Dies In Pueblo, Col.

(Scripps-McRae News Association.)
PUEBLO, Colo., July 7.—John J. Daly, a lawyer prominent throughout the Northwest, suicided by taking morphine in a lodging house here, today. The cause of the deed is unknown. He left a letter addressed to his son, Floyd Daly, of Dallas, Ore., or to the Grand Master Workman of the A. O. U. W., Portland. From 1879 to 1891 Daly was Grand Master Workman for the jurisdiction of Washington, Oregon and British Columbia.

John J. Daly was well known in Portland. He was of a genial nature and personally was well liked, but was rather a heavy drinker. Some time ago he became involved in serious trouble over money matters in his home town, Dallas, where he had spent practically all his life and is said to have departed there from between two days. Inquiry among prominent workmen in the city has developed the fact that in his relations to the order he was always very scrupulous and his death is very generally regretted by those who were his friends in happier days.

GOVERNOR'S FOURTH

Governor Geer came in on the belated O. R. & N. train from Baker City this morning. The Governor was just returning from Eastern Oregon, where he spent the Fourth at Cove, in Union County.

"The celebration lasted four days at Cove," said he, "and despite the rain the order and enthusiasm of the people were not dampened. Saturday was Grand Army day, and I delivered an address to the old soldiers, and a great demonstration was had.

"I enjoy spending the national independence day in Union County, because it is the scene of my boyhood days," continued the Governor, "and I always make an effort to be there if possible.

"A day later, when I arrived at Baker City, the dust was flying, and I was surprised at the extreme difference in the conditions of weather in so short a distance as that which intervenes between Cove and Baker City, for at the former place when I left the mud was six inches deep. Nevertheless, everybody thoroughly enjoyed the big celebration.

The Governor will leave this evening for Salem.

Evening Star Grange Meets.

A meeting of Evening Star Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, was held Saturday evening in Multnomah hall, on the Section Line road. F. Miller, master, presiding. The committee having in charge the raising of $200 for the purchase of ground upon which the proposed new hall will be erected reported that the sum of $171 had been already raised and that it was not thought that any difficulty would be encountered in raising the additional $23 needed. It was decided by the grange that there was not any great hurry erecting the proposed new building, as the grange already owns Multnomah hall, and it has enough room for the accommodation of the members at present. A special invitation was received and accepted to attend the meeting of Clackamas Grange July 12, a special program being promised. At the meeting Saturday several candidates were initiated.

No Addition to School.

At a special meeting of the patrons of the Russellville school district Saturday evening, the proposition for enlarging the school building was defeated by a majority of five. The directors have decided to hold another meeting, when a definite plan for the enlargement of the building will be submitted. It is said that the enlargement project was defeated on account of the fact that no definite plan was submitted at the meeting. The Russellville school district is growing very fast in population and something will have to be done toward increasing the facilities. The general opinion among the patrons of the district is that the building should be enlarged by the addition of two rooms.

STRONG EVIDENCE

Detectives Snow and Kerrigan have discovered evidence against A. T. Gladissee and Ed. Johnson, held for the murder of Louis Bagus, in this city June 19, that will go a long way toward convicting the colored men. The watch and some other articles known to have been the property of the murdered man have been found in the possession of the suspects.

The prisoners were brought before the Circuit Court to plead this morning, but owing partly to the fact that their attorney had abandoned their case, necessitating the appointment of a legal advisor by the court, they were allowed till the next term of court to plead.

With such practices as these it is a miracle that not a single fire was reported yesterday.

Four East Side boys, Frank Thompson, Joseph Laberge, Albert Richards and John Grill, are under arrest on suspicion of having robbed about a dozen stores and saloons across the river. VIOLENT MAN

Attempts to Prevent Relief of Fatherless Family.

The passengers on the steamer Mascot were treated to a little excitement this morning by the violent actions of Henry Archer of San Francisco, who attempted to throw Julius Adler, an insurance agent of this city, overboard. The cause of Archer's violence was his objection to a collection being made up among the passengers by Adler for the benefit of the invalid widow and seven children of Emil Muller of View, Wash., who was going to death by a bull yesterday. Despite the efforts of Archer, over $30 was collected among the passengers on the Mascot.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

The batteries were Enaming and Buckler for the John Drews and Trowbridge and Magnus for the Twenty-sixth street. Some fine work was done by Enaming, who batted out 4, and by Trowbridge, with 7 to his credit. The star feature of the game was a running by Martin Meyers.

Goodall Loses a Leg.

George Goodall, who has been at the Good Samaritan hospital for more than a month, suffering from an injured knee, was forced to undergo an operation last Saturday, the right leg being amputated, as a last means of saving his life. The trouble was not regarded as very serious when he entered the hospital last month, but the injury grew steadily worse, and the extreme measure resorted to Saturday had to be undertaken. He stood the operation well, and it is now considered almost certain that he will soon be out. Goodall had been for several years a student at the State University, and was granted a diploma without an examination at the end of the school year just closed on account of his excellent standing in his studies.

Soule Bros. Piano Co.

Carry only the highest grade pianos, which they buy at the lowest prices in carload lots. They can save you from $50 to $100 on a piano, as it costs them less to sell an instrument than other dealers. Their pianos—the Steinway, A. B. Chase, Estey, Emerson, Starr and Richmond—are so well known that they sell themselves, thereby saving a big expense which other dealers have to pay to salesmen to dispose of their pianos, which, of course, the purchaser has to pay.
