

CITY BRIEFS

G. E. Rowley, an aged religious fanatic, is being held at the city jail until his relatives decide what to do with him. The general committee having in charge the erection of a monument to the Second Oregon Volunteers met late this afternoon at 240 Washington street. If you wish to be correctly entered in the new City Directory, soon to be issued, see to it that all changes are sent to our office without delay. R. L. Polk & Co. Charles Deo, charged with vagrancy, had a partial hearing yesterday, and will be given a chance to prove his good character tomorrow. Deo is a Chinese gin fiend. It is probable that the Chamber of Commerce and Lewis and Clark Centennial Corporation will issue a booklet jointly, which will advertise Oregon and the 1905 Fair. Webfoot Camp, W. O. W., will give one of the best Excursions of the season Sunday, July 27. Tickets 75c, 50c, 25c. Wait for it. In a North End row between a woman known as Jennie Violet and Maggie Whacker, the latter came out of the scrimmage with a black eye. The Violet woman is being held for trial under $50 bail, as it is alleged she used a hatchet. The Water Committee meeting, which should have been held yesterday afternoon, did not materialize, there being no quorum present. The subject of a 2-inch water main for Seventh street was the principal business slated for discussion. The Gold Mining and Investment Company received notice of location of eight mineral claims—veins running from 10 to 16 feet in thickness—in the Bohemia district, on Frank Brass Creek, three miles and a half from the survey of the railroad now being built in Bohemia. The second division of the Mazamas, to the number of 40, left last night for White Salmon River on the steamer Metiako. All the expeditioners are filled with enthusiasm over the prospect of making the ascent of Mount Adams. It is estimated that by the time all are ready to make the climb that there will be fully 100 in the party. The fastest time ever made by a train-load of sheep from Eastern Oregon to Portland was that made by the 29 cars shipped out of Baker City a few days ago. They were destined to San Francisco, and the run from Baker City to Portland was made in 18 hours, almost passenger time. Officials of the O. R. & N. say this is the record run over their line for a similar distance. Portland Club, Fifth and Alder. Finest lunch in city. Portland Club, Fifth and Alder. PERSONALS. J. L. LeRoy, a mining man of Bohemia, is in the city, registered at the Imperial. Robert Smith, prominent in the sawmill business at Westport, is in the city today. Walter L. Harshman, of the United States navy, and his wife, are guests at the Imperial hotel. O. C. Geiger, prominent in business and politics, of Heppner, is in the city, a guest at the Portland. Henry Ellers left Tuesday on a business trip to San Francisco and expects to be away about two weeks. L. K. Adams, a prominent attorney of Salem, came down this forenoon to attend to legal matters in this city. L. B. Reeder, ex-speaker of the House, of Pendleton, arrived in this city today. He is a guest at the Perkins. E. C. Giltner, of Salem, private secretary to ex-Senator McBride, is in the city today, a guest at the Imperial. K. H. The East Side Lawn Tennis Club gave a reception to its members last night at the home of Misses Bruce, Sixteenth and Belmont streets. The evening was devoted to music, games and refreshments. Exhibits Again at Home. The Oregon exhibits at the Charleston Exposition reached Portland yesterday, and with them came two howitzers, three shells, a slug and several fragments of exploded shells. These are reminders of the Civil War, and were dug from the sands about historic old Fort Sumpter. Through the efforts of Henry B. Deach these relics of the past were obtained during the time he was stationed at Charleston as the representative of Oregon. Colonel Deach first applied to the government for permission to remove the relics to be utilized in the monument to be erected in Portland to the memory of the volunteers of the Spanish-American war. COUNTY COURT NOTES.

Charles P. and Carrie B. Leavenworth and A. A. Lindsay have filed articles of incorporation of the White Cross Gold Mining Company, capital stock, $200,000. Articles of incorporation of the German Mining & Milling Company have been filed by A. R. Zeller, R. Patrick and George W. Howe. The capital stock is $1,000,000. Jane Schaefer has been appointed administratrix of the estate of her husband, Eugene L. Schaefer, deceased, valued at $200. The inventory and appraisal of the estate of Kate Watson, deceased, shows the property to be valued at $439. Julie F. McDaniel has been appointed administratrix of the estate of her husband, William McDaniel, deceased. The property is worth $200. AT SHIELDS' PARK. Dalton and Lewis, dancing comedians, are making a big hit at Shields' Park this week. Dalton's wooden shoe dancing was perfect in every particular and he is being the large audiences are satisfied. Miss Lewis introduced national and character dances which are proving as great an attraction as the management anticipated. This popular couple will be on the bill all week. Despite the raging elements Monday night the show was largely attended, and when the weather is favorable it is almost impossible to accommodate the crowds. An entirely new program is on for this week, and every number is bright and entertaining.

INSURANCE UNION

(Journal Special Service.) COLUMBUS, O., July 16.—The American Insurance Union, a beneficiary organization, with a considerable membership in Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and a number of other states, assembled in annual convention in Columbus today and will continue in session through the remainder of the week. Officers' reports show the affairs of the organization to be in satisfactory condition. Elaborate entertainment has been provided for the delegates by the local members of the union. THE WEATHER. The disturbance which caused the wind squalls in the North Pacific states Monday night moved rapidly eastward and is central this morning near the western portion of the Great Lakes. Light rain occurred yesterday and last night in Western Washington, Northwestern Oregon and British Columbia. Showers and thunderstorms have also occurred in Arizona and Southern Utah. It is decidedly cooler this morning in Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana. The indications are for fair and warmer weather in this district Thursday. Oregon: Fair tonight and Thursday; warmer south and east portion tonight; warmer north portion Thursday, except near coast; northwesterly winds. Washington: Fair tonight and Thursday; warmer southeast portion tonight; northwesterly winds. Idaho: Fair tonight and Thursday; warmer southeast portion tonight; warmer Thursday. EDWARD A. BEALS, Forecast Official.

CHAUTAQUA Exposition Discussed by Prominent Oregonians.

Today is Women's Day at the Chautauqua this morning the regular time between 8 and 11:30 o'clock was devoted to classes, after which Rev. H. J. Talbot, D.D., of the Taylor Street M. E. Church, delivered a highly interesting and instructive address on "Preaching of the Present Day." This afternoon the program will open at 1:30 o'clock with a band concert after which many important topics of interest to club women and all interested in the work of the various women's organizations of the country will be presented by Mrs. Helen D. Harford, Mrs. C. E. Wade, Mrs. Trumbull, Miss McIlroy, Mrs. Lillian Cole-Bethel, Mrs. C. R. Tompion and Mrs. Galloway. Mrs. Edith Tozier Weathered will speak on "What Women Can Do for the Lewis and Clark Exposition." Following this there will be a baseball game. All music-lovers will be delighted with the evening's program, which will commence with a band concert and continue with the oratorio "Elijah," under the direction of Professor W. W. Boyer. The soloists are: Soprano, Mrs. May Dearborn Schwab; contralto, Miss Evelyn Harley; tenor, H. W. Hogue; basso, Professor Irving M. Glenn. Yesterday was Lewis and Clark Centennial Day. H. W. Scott, first vice-president of the Lewis and Clark Centennial Corporation, was introduced by Secretary Cross, of the Chautauqua, as presiding officer at the afternoon exercises. Mr. Scott delivered an address giving the history of the discovery of the Northwest, and concluded by giving the reasons for the exposition. He then introduced Judge Richards, the orator of the day, who spoke of the Fair from a commercial point of view, and forecasted some of the openings which Oregon will have in the Orient. He concluded his address by reminding those present that communication by water by the shorter route with the East is necessary. When the Eastern people come out and see this country they will readily recognize the need of a canal, or two, if necessary. Governor-elect Chamberlain was then introduced by Mr. Scott, who said: "Why should I attempt to be formal in mentioning the next name on the program? You know him as well as I, and I suppose the people of Oregon know him better than I, for they elected him Governor, and I did not."

Mr. Chamberlain took as his subject the answer as to what benefits the 1905 Fair will be to Oregon. He handled his subject in a masterful way, giving first the products of Oregon and then saying that two of the greatest benefits which Oregon would get would be an increased immigration from the East and the establishment of an outlet for all surplus products. Ex-City Attorney J. M. Long then spoke on the future of this great Northwest, drawing beautiful pictures and vivid contrasts with the past. The Lewis and Clark Civic Improvement Association was represented by one of its most active workers, George M. Hyland, who, in a brief address, described the work of the association, and said that Portland will lose all of its old shacks and nuisances if they could help it. After Mr. Hyland, Secretary Cross, of the Chautauqua, promised that his organization will render all the assistance possible to the Fair, and that in its interest days would be set aside at the 1902, 1904 and 1905 sessions. Previous to the above program there was an exciting baseball game, in which Oregon City defeated Vancouver by a score of 10 to 5. In the evening Dr. Thomas McClary delivered an address on "The American Home," which was highly interesting, and was appreciated by a large audience. W. C. T. U. AT CHAUTAUQUA. Mrs. Unruh, who conducts the W. C. T. U. institutes, is an assistant superintendent of the department of purity in the National Union, and as such has addressed audiences of men, alone, of men and women, of teachers, of students, and of children in nearly every state of the Union, and is deeply interested in this theme. She presented the subject of "Purity in the Home" in a brief address at Chautauqua this morning. Mrs. Unruh said: "No subject could bear a more vital relation to the home, or be of more interest to the lover of home than this one. The subject of purity in all of its phases is a tremendous one, and one that we must recognize whether we will or not. The failure to recognize it has taken more than 25,000,000 girls out of homes in America and has set them to plying a trade in virtue, turning from tempted to tempter, until your boy, menaced by temptation, without answering to appetite within, falls into the subtle toils of sin and comes forth with his manhood smirched and stained and his self-respect gone. The failure to properly recognize this not alone now but in the generations past and gone, whose mistakes have left a heritage of weakness and passion, that sways and holds captive its victims, has given us today a great army of men who make this trade in virtue possible—men who are partners in degradation with the sinning women to whom that awful name is applied which our shuddering lips hesitate to pronounce. As put into as she—even though popular opinion condemns the sin in her—and condones the mistake in him. The failure to observe the laws of purity has tainted the blood of thousands of innocent persons, through inheritance, with that blood poison whose stain cannot be washed out by time or drugs, which runs riot through the veins as a result of this sin. It has given to children, sweet and innocent themselves, the germs of passion before which they fall or with which they must fight the battle of the giants the long life through. Today experienced teachers tell us, and physical directors confirm the statement that a large proportion of boys, even from good homes, are victims of the secret vice, while even the daughters are not spared this degradation. The columns of the press are reeking with tales of outrage, the court dockets are full of the story of shame. The legislative enactments of many states are so framed as to protect vice, and the sowing of wild oats by the society young man is smiled

SACHEM'S BANQUET.

Grand Inchoee Wiley was present at a meeting last night of the Past Saches' Association of the Red Men. He was presented with a pair of mounted Montolian pheasants. After the presentation the members gathered at the Quille and partook of a banquet. F. M. Saylor acted as toastmaster. The address on behalf of the home organization was made by Dr. Lewis King. Dr. Wiley responded. The toasts were: "Great Council of Oregon," by Grand Sachem J. H. Howard; "Great Council of Washington," by T. J. Bell, representative to the grand council of the United States; "Fraternity," by Past Grand Sachem Otto Schumann; "Great Council of the United States," by Great Representative A. B. Cherry; "My Country," "Is of Thee," by Past Sachem Lewis Carstenen. An excursion was given the Saches today to Cascade Locks by water, and the return was made by rail. Those present at the banquet were: Great Inchoee, Dr. Edwin D. Wiley, Des Moines, Ia.; Great Sachem Dr. Lewis King, Past Great Sachem J. V. Lanikin, Past Great Sachem F. H. Saylor, Past Great Sachem J. K. Carr, Past Great Sachem J. H. Howard; Great Representative A. B. Cherry, Past Great Representative T. J. Bell, Tacoma; Past Sachem B. F. Finkle, Past Sachem H. Gurr; Past Sachem George Baker; Brother P. Buehke, Past Sachem E. J. Hyland; Past Sachem John Englehardt, Past Sachem Joseph H. Jones; Past Sachem G. M. Orton; Past Great Sachem Otto Schumann; Great Keeper of Wampum J. H. Griebel; Past Sachem P. S. Langworthy, Past Sachem J. Reisch, A. E. Buttner, G. L. King, E. W. Klutsh, Past Sachem L. Carstenen, Past Sachem E. Froesner.

POLICE RECORD.

Harry Trenchoff pleaded guilty in the Police Court yesterday to a charge of dumping garbage into the street. The spectacle of Millionaire Henry Weinhart pleading the case for the defense was an amusing one. It cost Mr. Weinhart just $10, as the defendant was an employe of the brewer, and was working under orders. Howard Skoog was fined $5 for committing a technical offense on a boy named Judge Snyder. Charles Deo was sent to the rock pile for 20 days for vagrancy. The new directory just issued by the Columbia Telephone Company shows that company to be growing.

In Justice Seton's Court.

Richard Montague has begun suit in the East Side Justice Court against former Sheriff William Frazier for $150. The case is brought on account of the seizure of a bicycle by one of the Sheriff's deputies and the compelling of the defendant in making the plaintiff pay a penalty of $1.50 before the wheel was released. The garnishee proceedings brought against George B. McKeeney by the Ames Mercantile Agency for the sum of $10, was dismissed. Justice Seton said that as the suit upon which the garnishee was brought was against the father, M. K. McKeeney, and as that the young man had absolutely nothing to do with the debts of his parent, the suit was ordered dismissed.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Maud Belding, 28, 295 Flanders, on July 11, shot. Mrs. Deborah McCroskey, 61, 236 Flanders, on July 11, shot. The Edward Holman Undertaking Co., funeral directors and embalmers, 280 Yamhill, Phone 507. J. P. Finley & Son, Undertakers and Embalmers, corner Third and Jefferson streets, do first-class work and deal honorably with all. Otto Schumann, monumental and building work, 204 Third St. Estimates on first class work only.

RIVER JETTY Report Upon the Subject by Captain Langfitt.

A partial project for the continuation of the improvement at the mouth of the Columbia River has been sent to the Chief of Engineers of the United States Government at Washington, by Captain W. C. Langfitt, of Portland. This shows that it will not be possible to extend the jetty by placing more stone in the river this year. Instead, the time will be occupied in finishing the trestle work, repairing the superstructure, etc., and in letting contracts for stone for next year's work. It will probably be possible to utilize the appropriation to the extent of extending the present jetty next year two miles, though not its full height. The chances are encouraging for the maintenance finally, of the 40-foot channel at the mouth of the river. The recommendation of Captain Langfitt for a continuance of the dredging of the Willamette and Columbia below Portland have been approved. He advises against building a dredge at present, but suggests the use of the dredge already in the river for this purpose. No change will be made in the snagging processes in vogue in the Willamette above Portland. ARKANSAS REPS. (Journal Special Service.) LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 16.—The Republican state central committee held a meeting here today in response to the call of Chairman Remmel. Plans were discussed looking to the pursuit of a campaign which is designed to be without precedent in the annals of the Republican party of Arkansas as regards its scope and vigor.

BIG SHOOT

(Journal Special Service.) TITUSVILLE, Pa., July 16.—A number of well-known sportsmen are taking part in the big shoot of the Interstate Association, which began here today. A three days' program has been arranged, calling for 10 events each day.

SEVENTH STREET IMPROVEMENT

Seventh street is soon to be improved in the most modern way, and before this is done there is also to be some important changes made in the water supply system now in use on that street. A petition was filed with the water committee yesterday to have a larger main laid in this street at once, to avoid the necessity of such an improvement being undertaken after the street is improved. The petition is signed by all the large property owners on Seventh street and adjoining streets, and the water committee will take up the matter at the next meeting. The members of the Board of Fire Commissioners and Chief Campbell have signed the petition, and there is no doubt but that the improvement will be ordered at once, the demand from that portion of the city being so urgent that the matter cannot be overlooked, especially in view of the fact that the permanent improvement of the street is to be begun at once. The specifications and estimates for the improvement of the street are already out by the engineering department of the city, and the improvement contemplated, as shown by the specifications, is for a concrete base from Yamhill to Gilson street and asphalt pavement from Yamhill to north side of Burnside street, and from north side of Burnside to north side of Gilson street. This improvement is to be constructed of stone blocks, set in asphaltic cement instead of concrete. This is something entirely new in the line of material for street improvement, and the engineering force consider it a departure in that line that will prove most satisfactory, as the great obstacle heretofore has been to find some material for street improvement that would eliminate the element of noise. Just as soon as it can be decided to place the water main in Seventh street that has been asked for, the permanent improvement of the street and sidewalk will be begun.

FOR THE ELKS' BIG CARNIVAL

An ordinance to allow the use of Portland streets for the Elks' big carnival was presented to the Council this afternoon. The ordinance was drawn up by Mayor Williams. It grants to the "best people on earth" the use of Seventh street, from Washington to Burnside, Ankeny and West Park to Flanders and the North End park blocks for a street carnival. There is no doubt that it will be unanimously adopted by the Council. RASPBERRIES NOT SO PLENTIFUL. A prominent canneryman of this city, in speaking of the fruit outlook, said that from all his sources of information he has come to the conclusion that the entire fruit crop of the state will not average one-half of the usual crop. He says that raspberries, though apparently plentiful now, are not half so numerous as last season. The canneries having to shut down about three days a week on account of the lack of fruit. A large quantity of cherries were ruined by the recent rains, the Royal Anne variety being especially spoiled by cracking. The Black Republicans stood the rain much better.

COUNTY COURT.

Sam J. Beswick, administrator of the estate of Charles W. Adams, deceased, has filed his final account with the County Court, showing the receipts to have been $172; disbursements, $225. Paul B. Reeder has been appointed administrator of the estate of his father, Simon F. Reeder, deceased. The estate is worth $2400. The heirs are the widow, Catherine, and eight children. Articles of incorporation of the Great Central Land Company have been filed by John W. Cook, W. L. Green and John K. Kellock. Capital stock, $5,000.

MASS MEETING Visiting Labor Officials Will Speak Saturday Night.

On Saturday, July 19, a labor mass meeting will be held in Cordray's theater. The following distinguished speakers will be present: Organizer James Duncan, first vice-president of the American Federation of Labor and international president of the Granite Cutters' Union; Thomas I. Kidd, fifth vice-president of the American Federation and International president of the Amalgamated Woodworkers, and John E. Lenon, treasurer of the American Federation and international secretary and treasurer of the Tailors' Union. It is the intention of the officers of the local unions to make of the occasion a great labor demonstration. The meeting will be open to the public. Labor topics of interest to everyone will be discussed. James Duncan will deliver the principal address. District Organizer Duke this morning said: "The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock in the evening. Ladies are particularly invited to attend. They are as much interested in labor matters as men, and it is to be hoped that they will avail themselves of the opportunity of attending. The subjects to be discussed will cover a wide field and when handled by such noted men as those coming here, will prove not only instructive, but interesting. We would also like to see present those who do not belong to labor organizations."
