

PERSONAL NEWS NOTES

Both from Jacksonville and Over the Hill

Leo Hoffman spent the week-end with Raynor Guy at Medford.

William Ritchey of Prospect spent Thursday at the home of James Buckley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hurst of Gold Beach were visiting friends on the Applegate last week.

Elmer and Lewis Robinson of Phoenix spent the week-end as guest of his father, Walter Robinson.

Leslie Hartwell of Coos Bay is spending some time as a guest at the Walker Lewis home on Applegate.

Jessie Smith and Winnie Rowden are among students of the local high school who were absent during the last week on account of flu attacks.

Mrs. V. J. Beach entertained the Missionary ladies at her home here Thursday of this week. Refreshments were served to the members present.

It has been learned by Applegate people recently that Cecil Boucher, formerly of that community, is attending the Polytechnical School of Engineering at Oakland. Mr. Boucher attended the Applegate high school 12 years ago.

Guests Sunday at the home of Mrs. Tom Mee were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mee and Miss Gertrude Mee of Medford and James Lewis of Prospect.

Sarah A. Cantrall, more widely known as "Grandma," has been suffering with flu this week. Dr. Sweeney has been attending the old pioneer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wollen of Medford spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Cady at the Summit service station, being old friends of the family.

A number of neighbors enjoyed a social gathering at the home of Albert Collings Wednesday. Candy pulling and games occupied the evening hours.

Mrs. Annie Hall is recovering from a serious illness which developed last week. Dr. A. E. Dodgson of Medford was called to Mrs. Hall's home.

Mesdames Frank Knutzen, Jack O'Brien, Leon Offenbacher, and Tom Mee motored to Medford a few days ago, where they visited Mrs. Armond Perrault.

Several people of the lower Applegate are ill with flu. Among those recovering are Mrs. B. M. Clute and daughter, Mrs. Edward Warford, and Mrs. Ralph Pittock.

Mrs. Brennon Witcher of Redding, Calif., left for her home Sunday after spending two weeks with southern Oregon relatives, among whom was her brother, E. H. Taylor.

Mrs. Maud Kubli is having as guests this week her niece, Mrs. Phillip Dellaire of Medford and also two granddaughters, Misses Ada and Willow Kubli of Central Point.

Robert Fletcher of Big Applegate expected to leave a few days ago for Table Rock, where he would have employment on a ranch owned by William Jones of the forest service.

Mr. and Mrs. James Frances and daughter of Klamath Falls spent the week-end at the homes of Mr. Frances' sisters, Mrs. Jess Taylor of Applegate, and Mrs. Ed Dutton of Eagle Point.

Attendance at the dance held in Jacksonville last Saturday night was notably increased, more than a hundred couples being present.

The affair was marked by lack of boisterousness and crowds appeared to be enjoying themselves immensely, in harmony with excellent music the old U. S. hall now boasts.

Repairs of damage wrought by forest fires last summer are under way in the lower Applegate section. Fred Benedict and Harry Brown are replacing burned fencing with barbed wire fence.

Mr. Herd of Medford, owning a mining claim on Muddy in the Little Applegate country, is moving to the mine location to live. He is hauling a considerable amount of equipment to the claim.

Mrs. Nanna Cantrall and daughter Cordelia of Klamath Falls, accompanied by Mrs. S. Caren and Mrs. Edward Cantrall of Medford were guests of Grandma Cantrall and Amy Dow Monday.

H. T. Burleson returned Friday to his Thompson creek home after spending two weeks at the home of his son at Medford while receiving medical treatment. Mr. Burleson is very much improved in health.

Frank Varney and son-in-law, Clair Smallwood, both of Medford, are employed in the upper Applegate country in splitting 10,000 shakes. The work is being done for George Buckley, who expects to recover a barn.

Mrs. Charles Hines of Forest Grove visited with her sister, Mrs. Miles Cantrall, Sunday and Monday. Mrs. Hines is well known for her poems and sound film of Oregon, having had bookings in Medford theaters.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are scheduled to hold a dance and social time Saturday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall in this city. The entertainment is for all members and friends, and will last from 9 o'clock till 12.

To find their fortunes or not, as the case may be, Ernest Armprist and Earl Gibson of Ruch left for southern points a few days ago. Mr. Gibson intended going to Texas, while it is said that Mr. Armprist expected to go to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McKee and daughter Jeanette returned Monday to their home at Klamath Falls after spending the week-end with relatives on Applegate. Mr. McKee is employed by Copeco in their sales department.

Through an error in reporting, it was stated last week that 14 cows at the E. H. Taylor dairy were tested for tuberculosis, whereas 45 was the correct number. About 60 gallons of milk are delivered daily to Medford, while the summer yield is 80 or 90 gallons.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Jennings, taking advantage of the holiday Monday, spent the day at the home of Charles Dunford on Applegate. Among others visiting that community recently are Mrs. Jack Monroe of Medford and George Dunn of Ashland.

Charles Elmore and Ashton Forrest, students at O. S. A. C., spent the week-end at their homes on Applegate. Both are taking up the study of agriculture. Mr. Forrest resuming details of the subject which he had not obtained at the time of his graduation from the college in 1929.

Dispensing with their regular meeting Friday night, Applegate grange members will conduct Jacksonville's grange in this city on that night, taking the chairs of the officers here. A lengthy lecturer's program may be afforded if the lectures of the two granges combine their programs.

The Past Noble Grand club of Jacksonville gave a social evening for Odd Fellows Tuesday evening at the local hall, which has just received a new floor. Special music by Rogers' orchestra from Medford accompanied dancing during the affair. Refreshments were served to 36 guests present.

Tom Dunnington and Duke Lewis were drafted to jury duty the first of this week. Dunnington was picked for grand jury service and is subject to call while Duke is serving on the Reed case jury, Reed being on trial this week for participation in the Knott slaying at Ashland some time ago.

With a house being built, a barn being moved, and the usual spring work getting under way, the Ray Offenbacher ranch below Ruch, the lower section of the Venable ranch, is a busy place. Cement foundation is being laid for the new house, which is being built by William Peckham of the Applegate. In order to move the barn Hartman brothers of Jacksonville are wrecking the structure and will rebuild it.

Mrs. Dora Saltmarsh entertained eight guests at a meeting of the Neighborhood Embroidery club at her home last week. Refreshments were served at the close of an afternoon spent with sewing and social conversation. Mrs. Harold Crump expected to be hostess to the club this Wednesday.

Miss Gloria Krause, who has remained at her home on lower Applegate since November, went to Salem a few days ago, where she entered a sanitarium. Before entering the institution, Miss Krause and mother, Mrs. Albert Krause, spent a few days in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wright have both been quite seriously ill lately, Mr. Wright being threatened with pneumonia. Their son Lloyd also is sick, as is a younger son, Charles, who was forced to miss school for the first time this year. Each member of the family has taken his turn except the youngest, Claude, who fortunately has escaped so far.

Suffering from injuries received when he fell while fighting a forest fire last summer, John Carter of Forest creek is confined at the Sacred Heart hospital. Amputation of a leg is being considered. Before entering the Medford hospital, Mr. Carter received treatments in a hospital in San Francisco. His condition is considered very grave.

Monday, February 22, was George Washington and George Washington Nunn's birthdays, and was honored with H. H. Farley present at meal time on the Sterling ranch. Young Nunn was just 17, only 183 years behind his namesake. Effects of the depression are being felt, according to Farley, as this was the first birthday dinner he has attended this year.

The Nugget confectionery is inaugurating a new service in the Rogue river valley this week—it is planned to give curb service at the popular corner. Mr. Ray Wilson, proprietor, states that those desiring this added accommodation should sound their auto horn for service. This custom is popular throughout the country but as yet the valley is one of the few localities which has not adopted the new idea.

That Harry and Ansil Gilson, famous prospectors of Little Applegate, have ceased their occupation and have started cutting next winter's wood was announced as the latest news from that community Monday. The report also stated that within the last two winters the latter Mr. Gilson has sold 400 tier of wood to numerous Medford people, which shows that the wood industry is one which has not been depleted.
