

GRANGERS MEET; EAT

of Mrs. Frank Knutzen, Mrs. Jack O'Brien, Miss Marcella Nelson and Miss Dorothy Andren are practicing the "auld" songs in preparation for a brief St. Patrick's program to be given at a meeting on March 11.

In keeping with the custom of the granges Applegate will organize a home economics club this week. Among numerous activities of such a club it supervises plays, dances, suppers and cooperates with all committees. Meetings are held at the homes.

The grange is giving a dance at Applegate hall on March 12. The exact nature of the dance was not given, although it may be a combination of hard time, old time, apron and overall, and St. Patrick's affair.

BASKETBALL SUMMARY FOR EIGHTH GRADERS

Final results of the basketball season for the eighth grade boys of the Jacksonville schools are, for the season just closing, as follows:

Games were lost to Central Point, high school second team, Talent, Williams high and Rogue River. The boys managed, however, to set down the fast Phoenix and high school frosh teams during the tournament.

Ray Hunsaker coached the boys and players of the year were Donald Godley and Walter Anderson, forwards; Harry Pitts, center; Harold Godley and Chester Fliteroft, guards; Bob Coke, Albert Andre, Byron Backus, Albert Johnson and Simon Johnson, substitutes.

MILL INSTALLED THIS WEEK TO RUN OPP SUBLEASE ORE

A three-stamp mill was moved to the Wabright property adjacent to the Opp mine property on Jackson creek a short distance from town. The mill will be used to recover gold from about 75 tons of ore placed on the dump by John and Hagen Hayenga, Jimmy Anderson and another partner who have a sublease on a quartz ledge on the Opp location.

Equipment was trucked in Tuesday of this week and it is expected the mill will be in operation within a few days. The three-stamp outfit will probably handle about three tons of ore daily.

"LOST MINE," FOUND IN FALL, BEING WORKED

At last a lost mine has been discovered that is not like the gold at the rainbow's end. Such a mine was unearthed in the fall by a group of Medford men, J. H. Fredricks, John and George Tucker and Robert Stillman.

Located on the upper extremities of Little Applegate at the mouth of Jack's creek on Glade fork, the digging, which the men have renamed The Lost Mine, yields ore rating $70 per ton, Mr. Fredricks said. In digging out an old shaft the men found nuggets as large as their fingernails. Work on a tunnel is in progress now.

An old cabin, suggesting somebody's ambition years ago, is located on the claim. In it is a chair made of manzanita wood. Carvings on the piece of furniture in the shape of faces, animals and snakes led Mr. Fredricks to believe that innumerable people have visited the cabin at some time. He expects to put this bit of antiquity on display at the Medford Chamber of Commerce soon.

For a short time past Mr. Fredricks' three companions have remained at Medford where they own small orchards. Mr. Fredricks has stayed on the claim alone working his tunnel until Sunday. Hitting a rock which retarded his progress, he decided to go to Medford for a few days.

The men have built a new cabin on their holdings which are under four feet of packed snow. About the only diversion in this mountain solitude is the cougar's cry.

COMMERCE DANCES HAVE ADDITIONAL MUSICIAN

Saturday evening dances which have been held in the old U. S. hotel weekly have constantly been gaining in popularity. So much so, according to H. H. Farley, floor manager, as to warrant adding another piece to the snappy orchestra, a saxophone, making this undoubtedly the best music-producing group in the valley.

Last week's dance proved to be the most remunerative affair for some time, netting a fair margin for the chamber of commerce, manager and players. Mrs. Ben Coffman has been busy this week redecorating the hall for Saturday's dance.

hoarding but himself and bring back good times. His fortune is only slightly less than the national deficit.

The man carrying the tray is headed for someone else's house. Headed for the home of a man who is a non-producer but lives comfortably off those who do. Probably runs a finance company. And the gent gaining perspective on a cup of coffee is typical of Mr. Average American. Note particularly the empty saucer and the man's very lean features. Gustav Inkbloch did this for us. And the final illustration, most potent of all and a fitting climax to the extensive collection, presents The Miner's version of what caused the depression. Now if the wings were only those of a homing pigeon!

RUCH PEOPLE HELP REBUILD RESIDENCE

People of the Ruch vicinity, feeling a desire to aid their neighbors, instigated what might be called a helper's bee Sunday. Twelve men combined their efforts and helped Ray Offenbacher with his house building. Siding was put on the house and rafters were placed. The workers attained a wholesome appetite for the chicken dinner served at the home of Mrs. Offenbacher's sister, Mrs. Ralph Smith. During the afternoon several women gathered to assist Mrs. Smith in quilting a spread.

HUKLE HOLLOW HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

A two-story box house on Hukle Hollow, property of Mrs. William Davis (Corinne Ginet) was destroyed by fire Wednesday of last week. It is not known how the fire originated.

Frank Leming and Gene Cerkins of Talent, who had occupied the house since Christmas, lost articles of small value, as did Mrs. Davis. The loss of the building was partially covered by insurance.

The two men, who are engaged in wood cutting, are building a new cabin.

REBEKAHS, ODD FELLOWS TO GIVE SUPPER DANCE

A combination midnight supper, dance and card party has been planned for Friday evening of this week to take place between the hours of 9 and 12 o'clock by the Jacksonville Rebekah and Odd Fellow groups.

Clyde Smith, entertainment committee head, announced that an excellent supper, five-piece orchestra and tables for cards have been arranged for and members and their friends are invited to spend a pleasant evening in the local lodge hall. There will be a moderate charge made for the meal, of course, and the new floor laid recently promises to furnish an excellent foundation for the entertainment.

Both old-fashioned and modern dance music will be featured by the orchestra, which has been organized by Howard Lewis.

GUN CLUBBERS GET BUNCHED TARGETS

Three members of the Jacksonville Gun club, shooting Sunday at the range located on V. J. Beach's property, turned in several difficult scores, one being perfect. Jeff Clogston managed to shoot 50 from a possible 50 at a distance of 50 yards, Beach and Martin Clogston making scores of 49 for the same event. At 100 yards Martin Clogston made 166 from a possible 200. Jeff 188 from 250 and Beach 315 from 400. At 50 yards in another shoot Martin made 233 from a possible 250, Jeff 274 from 300 and Beach 351 from 350.

Interest in target work has been increasing with the advent of spring and many more participants are expected in next Sunday's aiming.

ARANT MINE CLEANUP BRINGS JOY TO OWNER

That J. J. Arant's placer mine near his home is a good mine and well equipped for a small holding is the opinion of a local visitor looking over the property recently. A cleanup was made a short time ago, with which Mr. Arant seemed to be pleased. At present equipment is being moved to new ground. Bert Tubbs and Delmer Atkins, newcomers to the valley, are assisting Mr. Arant. Sam Israel, formerly associated with him, has returned to Medford.
