Easter week-end with Applegate friends.

• Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kubli and daughter Helen of Junction City spent the week-end with Applegate relatives.

• Miss Leora Culy, student at the Ashland Normal school, spent the week-end with her parents on the Applegate.

• Glenn Smith, Johnny Black and John Davies of Ruch motored to Murphy Sunday, where they visited Lew Stone.

• Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kinsman of Thompson creek attended the funeral of Dr. R. W. Poelnitz at Medford Monday.

Right now you can buy a setting hen and 15 eggs, all for $1.50 at the Summit service station.

• Mrs. Laura Hamer, East Medford, spent Thursday with Mrs. Helen Anderson of this city, who has been ill of late.

• Mrs. Harlan Cantrall taught at the Ruch school last week, substituting for Mrs. Walter Armprist, who was ill with the flu.

• Miss Brooklin, fifth and sixth grade teacher in Jacksonville public school, went to Portland to visit with her father over Easter.

• Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor of Yreka are visiting Mrs. Taylor's mother, Mrs. Julia Curtis, at the Lone Star mine on Big Applegate.

• Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Kradel and Mr. and Mrs. Danks Newcomb of Williams creek were Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. J. R. Hoffman.

• Dr. Warren L. Cameron, who has remained at the home of his brother, Frank Cameron, for several months, left for Portland Saturday.

• Mrs. Hansen, mother of Louie Hansen of Applegate, was seriously ill at her home Tuesday. A physician was called to diagnose her case.

• Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Phillips of Squaw Lake left a few days ago for Roseville, Calif., where Mr. Phillips has employment in an ice plant.

• Miss May Mankins celebrated her 14th birthday anniversary Monday of this week. Miss Mankins, however, found time to attend school that day.

H. Hungry Farley was Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dunnington at dinner-serving time and is reported to have done right by his utensils and hosts.

• Medford people visiting friends on the Applegate Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Stevenson and Mr. and Mrs. Orval Thomas.

• It seems that the entire countryside observed Easter with extensive banqueting. Sam Reynolds was a Sunday dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Dunnington.

• Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Martin, formerly of Mantion, Calif., are new arrivals to the Applegate valley, having purchased the Renfro ranch on the Little Applegate. They are moving in this week.

• Among those visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. West Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Roy West, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chadwick, Archie West and Miss Mildred McIntyre, all of Medford.

• Mr. and Mrs. Brookfield of Medford have moved to the Applegate, having leased a house from Harry Brown on the E. J. Brown ranch.

Their son has entered the Applegate school in the primary grades.

• Mrs. H. P. Sellers of Elk Creek came to Ruch a few days ago to care for her mother, Mrs. Mary Hughes, who is ill with the flu. Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes of Medford also visited their mother Saturday.

• H. H. Farley, Jacksonville's bus driver, ball manager, dance conductor, wood merchant, rancher, automobile dealer, ad lib, Monday invested an unknown amount in a milch cow for his ranch on Little Applegate.

• Edison Crandall, Bob Cherry and Kenneth Johnson, all hailing from Griffin creek, were dinner guests of H. H. Farley, junior league team coach, while awaiting conference of backers and players of the young Legion baseball team.

• On Easter Sunday a birthday party for four was given by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hewitt at their home in Medford. Those honored were Miss Louise Laughead, Lloyd Wright, Hugh Wright and H. H. Farley, all of Jacksonville and vicinity.

• The Thompson creek lumber company has its sawmill in operation and is producing a considerable amount of lumber. A large order is being filled for the Blair Granite works above Ashland and at present the lumber is being hauled to that place.

• Merriam Worthington and Al Vohn have returned to San Francisco on a brief business trip. Mrs. Worthington is remaining at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer, where her husband and Mr. Vohn also had been guests for three weeks.

• Another mine on the Applegate that has become active since the appearance of a water supply is the old Layton placer mine a few miles below Applegate store. Six men are employed and two giants are in operation. The mine is now owned by the Pacific Placer company.

• School children of the Applegate observed Easter with some form of an egg hunt. Most of the schools planned the event for Friday afternoon, although Applegate school combined their usual observance with a picnic. The rainy weather resulted in an indoor picnic, however.

• Mrs. Laney Stevenson and son Robert C. Stevenson and wife of Salem arrived Sunday to visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Moore, and two sons, Ray and Marian Stevenson and families of this city. Mrs. Laney Stevenson will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Moore, in this city.

J. C. Yakel, the Rawleigh retailer, carries in stock a full line of medicines, extracts, food products, stock feeds, fly sprays and disinfectants. He will make regular trips every six weeks and is located two blocks north of grange hall, in Central Point.

• The regular Saturday night dance in the old hotel here last week was host to several out-of-town people, two couples from San Francisco, two couples from Roseburg and a Portland man being present for the evening. An unusually large gathering was present early in the evening.

• Mr. and Mrs. Miles Cantrall motored to Klamath Falls Sunday, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Johnson. They also enjoyed visiting other friends there, returning the following day. They called on friends in Ashland and enjoyed the city's lithia water on their homeward journey.

• Contrary to the prevailing depression idea, a new house is well underway in the Beaver creek section. A six-room modern home is being built for Mr. and Mrs. John Byrne. Ed O'Brien of Medford and Bert Higginbotham of Central Point are employed as carpenters. George Peck of the Applegate is applying the shingles on the roof.

• Bill Hargis, Jacksonville's bachelor living on Rich Gulch heights, has caused quite a stir among localities by having his house repapered, repainted and repaired to an elaborate extent. Some have it that possibly Bill's thoughts have lightly turned to something or other, or the grand view from his place has stirred some lady's bosom.

• Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Dorothy chose Easter as an appropriate time to gather together the entire family, plus annexations, for a hearty Sunday dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lawrence, Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davis, Forest Creek, Carmen and Donald (Fatso) Dorothy all being present when the noon-time call to eat was sounded.

• Mrs. C. E. Opperman of Portland, and Miss Babe Demmer, who has spent the winter in that city with her sister, arrived Easter Sunday for a visit at the home of their mother, Mrs. Sophia Demmer, of Jacksonville hill. Mrs. Opperman will return to Portland Saturday but Miss Demmer will stay with her mother for some time yet.

• Mr. and Mrs. Vern Shangle and two small boys and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cave were here Sunday and enjoyed dinner in the evening. The Caves were returning from a drive to Fort Jones while the Medford photographer and family were repeating a wise habit of retiring to the peaceful confines of Jacksonville for a pleasant evening and satisfying meal.

• Mr. and Mrs. Albert Keyser, Medford, spent Sunday with Mrs. Keyser's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Wilson of this city. Mrs. Keyser has been employed for the past two years in the shoe department of a large Medford department store and with her husband plans to leave about April 1 for Elkhart, Indiana, where they will make their home.

• About 20 Ruch people, ranging from tiny brothers to sedate uncles, sallied forth Sunday afternoon to gather mushrooms in the surrounding woods. The afternoon ended with a goodly supply of the popular fungi. In the evening part of the group retired to the home of Mrs. Gene Mee, where all participated in a mushroom fry. Others were invited to the home of Miss Molly Ray to complete the day.

• The Hulet-for-Congress club held a booster meeting at Applegate grange hall Monday evening. Among the speakers were Henry Conger and Charles Hoover of this city, and Mr. Morris of Sams Valley. Several people in the audience were called upon to express their opinion politically. Applegate grange will lend its support to Mr. Hulet, recently resigned master of Oregon state grange. This candidate will not start political speeches until after April 1.

• A day that resulted in a highly satisfactory piece of work was devoted to improvements at the Log Town cemetery near Ruch Monday. A large crowd of men and women assembled and accomplished complete repairs of the fence, planting of flower seeds, and a general cleanup, including elimination of brush and cans. At noon the workers participated in a campfire dinner, which had been supervised by

A Living Institution

A bank is more than the building it occupies. It is more than the capital and surplus. It is a living institution, made so by the men who manage it.

Their reputation for sagacity, for conservation, for good judgment becomes the bank's reputation.

The officers of this institution fully realize this fact and are determined to guard the fine reputation which the bank has acquired.

Farmers and Fruitgrowers Bank
