

PERSONAL NEWS NOTES

Both from Jacksonville and Over the Hill

- Lloyd Hanscom of Sams Valley visited the Applegate a few days ago.
- Carl Holzgang of Medford spent the week-end as a guest of Louis Buckley.
- Mrs. Chester Purcel of this city spent Monday at the home of Mrs. James Buckley.
- Asbury Beall and son Earl of Medford were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Rippey.
- Mr. and Mrs. Marian Robbins of Medford were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Pernoll.
- Miss Patricia Hogan, teacher at the Sterling school, spent the week-end at her home on Thompson creek.
- Dick and Bob Head have returned to the Applegate from Gottville, Calif., where they have been employed.

● Kenneth Johnson, student at Jacksonville high school, transferred Tuesday of this week to the Central Point school.

● Mrs. C. E. Offerman, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Sophia Demmer, returned to her home in Portland Saturday.

● Mrs. Hattie Logan and Sam Randall of this city spent the week-end as guests of Mrs. Logan's brother, Ansil Gilson.

● G. E. Wright of Jacksonville hill district is getting his farming done in record time this year by having the soil worked with a tractor.

● A. J. Davis and O. L. McDugle of Cedro Wooley, Wash., arrived Friday to visit the former's brother, William Davis at Sterling.

Visit the Native Daughters Museum in the historic Bruner building. Open Wednesday afternoons from 2 until 5 o'clock.

● Mrs. Dolly Swan of Stockton is spending several days visiting at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Gene Mee, and other relatives on Applegate.

● Mrs. William Harlow, formerly Mrs. L. V. Young, was expected to arrive on the Applegate early in the week from Macon, Ga., where she had spent the last four months.

● Mrs. Francis Hansen of lower Applegate is recovering from an operation performed at the Sacred Heart hospital over a week ago. Dr. Charle T. Sweeney was the attending physician.

● Edward Kubli and Floyd McKee both have been confined to their beds for several days with an unusual throat illness, with which many people are said to be affected this spring. Both are recovering.

● Jim Winningham and Red Simmons of Medford are devoting working hours to mining on Sterling creek near the old Gilson place. They have leased a section of ground from Paul Pierce and are running a drift to a back channel.

● Mr. and Mrs. Walker, former residents of Beaver creek section, have returned to that place, following the cessation of work at Boulder dam, where Mr. Walker had been employed. The Walkers expect to build a new house on their property.

● Frank Green of Ruch is recovering from the effects of a paralytic stroke occurring Friday. He was away from the house when he became afflicted, and was ill for three hours before friends found him. He is able to leave his bed part of the time.

● Having rented their home at Oak Grove to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saltmarsh have moved in the Coke house east of town. Mr. Saltmarsh is employed at the J. A. Manke ranch. The family had lived at Oak Grove for about three years.

● A considerably larger amount of interest was displayed in Sunday's baseball game at Palmer creek than was in evidence at the game a week ago. A lively game ensued with Jim Winningham's nine losing to Elmer Ross' players by a score of 16 to 21. Four girls again joined the ranks of players.

● Norval Taylor of Salem, accompanied by his cousins, Venita and Kenneth Anderson of Medford, visited relatives on the Applegate Sunday. Mr. Taylor expected to return to Salem Tuesday after having spent several days visiting his father, Linn Taylor, and other relatives at Medford.

● Another rancher who has taken over sheep raising is Willis Scott, Little Applegate resident. Mr. Scott purchased 110 head. Milch cows were traded to Jeff Lindsay of Eagle Point for about 90 head of the animals, while the remaining number were purchased from M. R. Buck, local rancher.

J. C. Yakel, the Rawleigh retailer, carries in stock a full line of medicines, extracts, food products, stock feeds, fly sprays and disinfectants. He will make regular trips every six weeks and is located two blocks north of grange hall, in Central Point.

● Owing to additional work which comes to housewives in the spring, the Little Applegate sewing club is meeting fortnightly instead of once a week, as had been their custom during the winter. Mrs. D. L. Jones entertained last week and Mrs. Gilbert Barshaw will be hostess to the club at their next meeting.

● While the school faculty was away for the Easter holiday Margaret Norvel held a slumber party for several of her friends at her home near the school house. Margaret Edens, Doris and Jessie Clark, Audrey and Lula Metzger were present for the evening and it is suspected that little slumber overtook the gathering.

● Mrs. Mary Norvel, first and second grade teacher of Jacksonville's public school, was hostess Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hunsaker, Miss Maxine Brookins, Miss Beth Crocker, Miss Helen Kafoury and Paul Hess. It was admitted by several of the guests that activities included reading, games and dozing following hearty partaken edibles.

● Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Brien and son Donald visited Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Armond Perrault at Medford. The O'Briens met with an unusual experience on their return home when their car skidded on the wet pavement at the Poor Mans creek crossing and backed down a 12-foot embankment. There were no serious results from the accident.

● Friends have received word of the death of the seven-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice, which occurred at Auburn, Wash., March 24. Death of the infant resulted from intestinal flu. Mr. and Mrs. Rice reside at Seattle, although previous to the baby's death Mrs. Rice had been remaining with Mr. and Mrs. James Rice at Auburn. Frank Rice is a former resident of Ruch.

● Mrs. Merriam Worthington from San Francisco, who is making an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer, has been complimented with several social affairs at Medford homes. Thursday she attended a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Miss Billie Carless, where bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon. Sunday Mrs. Worthington and her aunt, Mrs. Pete Garret, visiting here from Oakland, were honored with a dinner at the home of Mrs. Clarence Frye.

● Twelve relatives were present at a birthday dinner given at the A. Throckmorton home Sunday in honor of Mr. Throckmorton's 79th birthday anniversary. Others besides local people present for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Throckmorton and son and daughter of Eagle Point, and Mr. and Mrs. William Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Luy of Medford. Forty-seven years ago this pioneer and his wife and family came to Ruch from Sutter county on the Sacramento river, and have lived in the Ruch vicinity ever since.

● The Girls' league of Jacksonville high school held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon of this week and discussed many important issues of the day, some of them overheard concerning six dozen buns for something or other, two potatoes apiece, one being more than reducing diets permit, and pairing short girls with short fellows. Mystery surrounded the meeting and The Miner's correspondent was unable to unearth further information regarding business transacted but it is understood Friday evening of this week has some connection with the whispered discussion.

● After almost a year of procrastination people of the Beaver creek district gathered Sunday and furthered the work of leveling the school grounds. The men brought teams and scrapers and filled gullies at the rear of the school building, in addition to replacing a section of the pipeline from the spring. The women were engaged in brush burning. An indoor picnic was staged at noon, with a monstrous kettle of chili beans as the chief dish. Leveling of the grounds was started last spring, and will be
