

PERSONAL NEWS NOTES

Both from Jacksonville and Over the Hill

Sam Wheeler and son Roy have gone to the hills where they plan to mine for a while.

Miss Esther Rollins of Sterling visited a few days this week with Miss Caroline Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McDonough and family of Persist spent the week-end with relatives at Ruch.

Lois and Eunice Sanden spent the week-end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Viale of Phoenix.

Mrs. Ed Smith of Cascade, Ida., is in this city visiting her brother, Frank Wooten, who is ill at the sanitarium.

Miss Jesse Smith, freshman in the local high school, has been confined to her home at Ruch with mumps for over a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Savage and son Jimmie and Mrs. Esther Borough of Grants Pass called on their niece, Mrs. Ray Stevenson, Sunday.

A. N. Krause, who sustained a broken leg over a month ago, went to Medford recently, where the cast was removed and replaced with another.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powell and baby daughter, Margaret Yvonne, were afternoon visitors of the Cadys at the Summit service station Tuesday.

At a board meeting of the Applegate school held Monday evening Mrs. Ethel E. Ludwig of Medford was employed to teach the next term of school.

A lady's black purse, with contrasting trimming, was found at Applegate grange hall after the dance May 14. It contained a small compact and a new handkerchief.

H. Gunderson, prospecting near here, this week left some very promising quartz samples with George Little to be assayed. The ore came from a new strike of Gunderson's.

Miss Carolyn Benedict of Applegate, 5-year-old pupil of the Ruth Luy dance academy at Grants Pass, was presented in a recital at the Holly theater at Medford Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hodges plan to move back to their homestead up Spencer gulch this week as soon as school is dismissed. Alice and Joe Hodges attended school in this city all winter.

James Buckley, who underwent a serious operation at the Sacred Heart hospital a month ago, is slowly improving. Mr. Buckley was able to sit up in bed Monday, and is receiving visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Demmer, formerly of San Francisco but now living on Jacksonville hill, are enjoying the visit of a former friend, Mr. Fred Nelson, who arrived Tuesday from San Francisco.

Mrs. Ben Woodruff of Los Angeles, formerly Loretta Brown, is spending a few weeks at the home of her father, Ray Brown, near Ruch. Mr. Woodruff is visiting relatives in Idaho at the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burrelson, having remained for several months at the home of the former's father on Thompson creek, have returned to their home, which is located on the California-Oregon line above Copper.

Miss Alma Perkins and Percy Paul, young people of the Applegate, were united in marriage at Grants Pass Tuesday of last week. The couple are making their home with the groom's father on Little Applegate.

Roy Edwards, Seattle, who has been combing the countryside in search of either cinnabar, quartz or placer location, has been unable to locate favorable property to date. Edwards is in the market to buy any likely looking prospect.

J. R. Hoffman, Thompson creek rancher, is successfully combining farming and mining these days, and is hauling several tons of quartz ore to the mill near this city on the Jacksonville-Ruch highway. The mine is known as the "Maid o' the Mist."

Among local people witnessing the Southern Oregon Boat club's thrills and spills at Emigrant dam Sunday were Miss Virginia Fick, Mrs. Maud Kubli, Mr. and Mrs. John Pernoll, Clarence Buck and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Finney and daughter.

Mrs. Paul Anderson of Medford, well known in the Applegate community, was able to return to her home over a week ago, following a serious operation performed at the Sacred Heart hospital. Friday Mrs. Anderson was able to resume her task on the city election board.

L. C. Welch of Murphy is remaining at the home of Tom Nickerson at Applegate, owing to Mr. Nickerson's continuance in ill health. These two men are old-time partners, working together in mining, farming in Klamath county, and numerous other occupations.

Mrs. William Heckman and children, Billy and Annah, of Modoc Point, are spending several weeks with Mrs. Heckman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Buck. Billy will spend most of the summer with his grandparents. His brother, Bobbie, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vern Buck at Colusa, Calif.

L. E. Markham of Seattle, manager of the New Method Mining company there, has returned to the northern city, after spending a few days on the Applegate in the interest of mining. He was accompanied here by Mr. Matson, also of Seattle, who is spending some time in the Shasta river country at present.

Miss Pearl Arant of Little Applegate expected to resume her classes in the Medford senior high school Wednesday after a week's illness from an appendicitis attack. She was confined at the Sacred Heart hospital for two days, although avoiding an operation, and spent the remainder of the time at her apartment.

Clint Dunnington and H. H. Farley, coach and manager of the American Legion junior leaguers of Jacksonville, plan to take their team members to Squaw lake today for a week-end picnic. Fishing poles and plenty of eats will be provided by the hosts and it is expected the vacationists will return about Sunday afternoon.

The "Buddy poppy" sale found a ready response among Applegate people who were anxious to display their gratitude to "the boys" by wearing one of the brilliant Flanders flowers. Fifty poppies, released to Mrs. E. H. Taylor, Auxiliary member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, for local distribution, were quickly disposed of.

Miss Helen Kafoury and Miss Beth Crocker, high school faculty members, served their sixth period bookkeeping and English classes Monday with home-made ice cream and cake. The afternoon of gastronomy took the form of a farewell party, the two young ladies being scheduled to return north to their homes at the close of school Friday of this week.

Lance Offenbacher was honored with a surprise birthday party a few nights ago when about 35 friends gathered to extend their greetings. Cards and games were played and as usual ever man in the group went home under the accusation of being a crook because a bean in the birthday cake was missing. Cake and punch were enjoyed by the guests.

M. E. Garner and guest, Bert Butler, who have been on a prospecting trip into the Squaw lake district, returned by way of Grants Pass, where they visited a mutual friend, Frank McTavish, and secured some wonderful local strawberries. Mr. Butler left Monday morning for Gold Beach. He is driving through from Baker City and prospecting on the way.

During October, November and December economical meals will be the subject for three meetings of the Applegate extension unit, according to plans made at a recent program planning meeting conducted here by Mrs. Mabel Mack. During the following three months the group will study organized housework. Further details of work for the coming year will be arranged in the near future.

A number of young people from Ashland made a trip to Squaw lake Saturday. The following normal school students went as guests of Miss Leora Culy: Misses Impa Tatio, Clara Attabury, Marguerite Wgtson and Amy Lynch. All five girls are members of the hiking club and took advantage of the trip by walking, hiking a total of 28 miles. Those enjoying the trip by automobile as guests of Lee Port Jr. are Benjamin Goldy and Misses Mary Herbert and Helen Tjosdal. All of the Ashlanders found boat riding an interesting event.

L. H. McGuire, mining engineer now located here, has returned from a scouting tour on the forks of Salmon and Klamath rivers. He staked a couple of claims while over the border into California but will continue his assay work and headquarters in Jacksonville. George Little, local insurance and real estate agent with offices in the old Judge Roe building, has been taking samples for the assayer and reports tests are run twice a week. All miners desiring a doubly-checked assay, either gold or silver or both, at unusually low rates, should leave ore with Mr. Little.

L. Houghton, general manager of the Jacksonville Gold Mining company, which has taken over the Old Town property, is confined to a Medford hospital from effects of gas administered while in a dentist's chair. Work at the mine has been continued, chutes having been completed and filled with ore awaiting erection of a mill, preparations for which are underway. But one car of ore was shipped, to check on assay work, and bore out completely estimates of L. H. McGuire, who laid out plans being followed at the mine. One crew is now working, due to piling up of ore in the bins.

Walter Anderson, eighth grade pupil in Jacksonville schools, had the misfortune to fall from an old automobile skeleton Saturday and break his right arm close to the wrist. Walter has been having a season of unusually tough luck this year, scarcely having recovered from a sore hand, pneumonia and flu. It will be several weeks before he will be able to resume his place on the American Legion junior league team lineup. He reports he is having no small amount of trouble learning to write with his southernmost hand but has hopes, if all goes well, of becoming a lefty hurler at the end of his acrobatic convalescence.

"Sleepy Hollow," sung by Richard and Hugo Baize of Eagle Point with a guitar accompaniment by their mother, Mrs. S. W. Baize, was one of the outstanding numbers on the program presented at Applegate grange hall Saturday evening. As encores the boys sang "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain" and "My Pretty Quadroon." The boys, one in his early 'teens and the other a few years younger, possess unusual vocal talent and won many comments of praise for their singing. The family is recently from Los Angeles, where the boys have sung over KFI and the two young singers will be heard over KMED some time soon.

The tenth annual convention of the Ida Hamblin district of Royal Neighbors was held Tuesday, May 24, at Klamath Falls. Members representing Central Point, Medford, Ashland, Bend and Jacksonville were present for the occasion. Those making the trip from Camp No. 4265, Jacksonville, were Mr. and Mrs. Vivian T. Wilson, Mrs. Sadie Adams, Mrs. Myrtle Merrifield, Mrs. Catherine Wendt, Mrs. Anna Coleman, Mrs. Ardena Stevenson, Mrs. Reva Henspeter, Mrs. Flossie Backes and Mrs. Lottie Bowman. The Jacksonville camp took part in the memorial, a very beautiful ceremony presented in the evening. Mrs. Vivian T. Wilson was one of the new members of 10 initiated by the Medford camp.

RELIEVED

Bret Harte was once lecturing at Harrisburg, in Virginia, and on the morning of his arrival had such a terrible headache that he would cheerfully have died there and then. He went for a walk, accompanied by the person who was to take the chair at his lecture. The latter told him that Harrisburg was a very healthy place, the death rate averaging only one per diem. "Good heavens!" said Bret Harte, who had been telling his companion how he felt, "has today's man died yet?"

WELL, WHY?

The clock struck eight, nine and then nine-thirty. Still the new maid did not get up. Reluctantly the mistress went to the foot of the stairs. "Mary," she called, "are you awake?" "Yes," answered the maid, "why?"
