Wallace Schuffler, hailing from Happy Camp, Calif., was a week-end visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Osborne of Jacksonville.

Miss Leora Culy of Ashland spent the week-end at her home on Applegate. She is employed at the Edwin Dunn home near Ashland.

Jack Lovell of Little Applegate chose to spend July Fourth with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Combest at the forest guard post at Wagner Gap.

Leon Hanna, brother to H. K. Jacksonville city attorney and prominent Medford barrister, arrived here Monday morning for a visit.

Mrs. Edwin Dunn and children and mother, Mrs. A. H. Peachey of Ashland, were guests of Mrs. Dunn's sister, Mrs. L. C. Port, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McKee and Mr. and Mrs. Adams of Klamath Falls are spending their vacation camping on Big Applegate this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Childers of Middleton, Calif., spent the week-end visiting the latter's brother, Ansil Gilson, and other southern Oregon relatives.

Clarabelle Baptiste, Sacramento, while enroute through Jacksonville Saturday to her home, communicated with her uncle, Peter French at Sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Littell visited in Jacksonville over the week-end, arriving at the home of the former's parents while enroute to Crescent City from Klamath Falls, their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barrie and daughters Hazel and Beatrice and Mrs. James H. Barrie of Seattle are spending two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Barrie in this city.

Ernest Hueners of this city and Miss Marie Rankin of Medford spent the Fourth on the Applegate. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Hueners and family, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Rankin.

As H. C. puts it, the Machem family spent a glorious Fourth at home eating, sleeping and resting. No salves, ointments or bandages were required as an aftermath of their Independence observance.

Upon her return to her home at Seattle after spending some time at San Francisco, Mrs. Walter Irvine and two children are spending this week visiting her brother, Robert Fletcher, on Big Applegate.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Eldridge and two children, former Montana friends of the Cadys, were Sunday callers at the Summit service station. They were on their way to the Applegate river to go swimming.

George and Claud Manke of this city, accompanied by Miss Grace Olson of Drain, who is attending normal school at Ashland, spent the recent holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saltmarsh on Tallow-box peak.

Dr. H. B. Gillis and father, Dr. J. B. Gillis, spent the fore part of the week in Portland on business. They were expected to return Thursday. The younger doctor was attended by his wife, whose former home was in the northern city.

A daughter weighing 8 1/4 pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McKee on the morning of July Fourth. The little newcomer was named Enid Colleen. Mrs. McKee is remaining with relatives in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cantrall and daughters Norma and Gayle of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Cantrall of Ruch, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cantrall and children were guests of Amy Dow and Grandma Cantrall Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. York Richardson, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Richardson and daughter Isabelle, and York J. Richardson of Salt Lake City were guests in this city Saturday of friends. The party was enroute to Salem.

Ernest Holbrook of San Francisco arrived on the Applegate a few days ago to spend the holiday week-end, joining his wife, who had been here for the last two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McMullen and son Dale spent a few days last week visiting Mrs. McMullen's sister, Mrs. Fred Straube, on Applegate. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McMullen. All are from Glendale, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Severance and daughters, Ruth and Florence, motored to Klamath, Calif., Sunday, returning in the early hours of the Fourth. Monday the family attended a picnic given by the local grange at Bybee bridge on the Rogue.

Thelma Helen Martin, daughter of Mrs. Paul Demmer, was baptized Sunday in St. Peter's Lutheran church of Medford by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Young. The ceremony was beautiful as well as impressive and was attended by many friends and relatives of the family.

Glorifying the great American trait—wanderlust—the O. C. Dorothy family, en masse, motored to Diamond lake over the week-end, which place was reported cool to the point of goose bumps and shivering. The Dorothys camped out and spent the lighter hours swimming and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. "Scotty" Fairweather, accompanied by the latter's sister, Miss Grace Roberts, left Monday for their home at Arcadia, Calif., after spending the Fourth with Applegate friends. Mrs. Fairweather and her sister had previously spent a short time visiting their parents on Williams creek.

Amy Dow, colorful merchant and philanthropist of a colorful city, spent her Independence day arranging shelves and caring for her many customers' wants and needs. Due to the holiday dance given here, Amy was busy far into the night and welcomed advent of just an ordinary, shop-run 24 hours Tuesday.

This evening, Friday, many Jacksonvillians will attend evangelistic services being conducted by V. Cloud, Assyrian Jew, for the last time. Cloud has enlisted the interest of many and has brought to this city two weeks of campaigning and Bible school which has proven of great value to the community.

Ruth Severance, who last year taught classes at Butte Falls, will go to Philomath high school September 12 to join the faculty there. The school, located a few miles from Corvallis, ranks second in size in Benton county. Miss Severance will have charge of both commerce and glee and will be one of six instructors for the upper classes.

A Squaw lake bound party of localites composed of Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Beach and children, Oscar Lewis and family, Alice and Lillian Morgan, Lela Smith and Joe Gordon picnicked, swam, ate and sunbathed over Sunday at the popular southern Oregon watering place, according to Vivian Beach, official press agent for the group.

Installation of sluice box and other equipment at the J. B. Renault Mines, Inc., Ltd., is about complete and taking of gold is expected to be underway as The Miner goes to press. Taylor and McIntosh are lessees of the city holding and hope to remove much of the filthy lucre (if you can spell it better, go right ahead) from now on.

The last lookout station to be put on duty this summer in the Applegate district is Whiskey peak. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Winningham of Klamath Falls took charge Wednesday. Mr. Winningham is a former Applegate man. Mr. and Mrs. Claud Hibbard also went to Fir Glade this week, where Mr. Hibbard is stationed as forest guard.

A large number of people spent the Fourth of July week-end at Squaw lake. One party celebrating there included Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Luy, Mr. and Mrs. "Bub" Crosby and son Raymond, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Serals, all of Medford; Mr. and Mrs. Davis from Drain, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kubli from Junction City.

The Fourth of July passed quietly on Jacksonville hill. The Wright family attended a picnic at Dodge bridge, the Demmer families celebrated at home with Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Garner and Pete Denhoff of Medford as guests while Mr. and Mrs. Cady spent the day "on the job" at the service station as usual, deriving their pleasure from serving others.

H. F. Nelson of Thompson creek suffered the loss of his light car which was burned Friday morning at the home of a neighbor, Roy Johnson. Mr. Nelson had just driven into the yard when a blaze started, the vacuum tank exploding and scattering burning gasoline about the car. Occupants barely had time to escape serious injury. The car was a total loss.

Celebrating the founding of the United States of America in a different manner, Ray Wilson, Homer Lontz and Hubert DeHaas practiced the art of home wrecking. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have purchased a home in this city and are busy remodeling the structure, which commands an impressive view of Mount Pitt from South Oregon street. Mrs. Wilson and daughter Vivian busied themselves at the Nugget confectionery as usual, catering to the nutritional desires of humanity.

Yielding to the urge to get outdoors and away from it all, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith journeyed to Steamboat Saturday evening to camp out till Monday evening. Although rumor had it the place was overrun with rattlers, nary a pest appeared to mar the outing, which was featured by home-caught fish fries. Relaxation and rest was the principal objective and, according to the hardware dealer's own statement, only enough fishing was accomplished to supply the camp larder.

Some people stir their coffee as though they were mixing a cake.
