

PERSONAL NEWS NOTES
Both from Jacksonville and Over the Hill

Fred Copple was among visitors Saturday evening.

Mrs. Jack Monroe of Medford visited Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer on Little Applegate recently.

Mrs. John Byrne is recovering from effects of a dislocated hip sustained several days ago.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Gillis and Mr. and Mrs. Pinkston of Phoenix visited on Little Applegate Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson were Thursday guests of Mrs. Charles Horn, mother of Mrs. Johnson.

Steve West of Medford is spending the week with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. West, on Little Applegate.

Included in the summer harvest at the E. J. Brown ranch is the baling of about 20 tons of hay, which Brown has sold at Grants Pass.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jellison and two small daughters were business visitors in Medford Saturday. Mr. Jellison is working for the forest service.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and children of this city motored countryward Sunday, and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. William Smith near Ruch.

Mrs. Carl Johnson and son and daughter, Buddy and Beverly, of Malin are visiting Applegate relatives. Sunday they were guests of Mrs. Johnson's aunt, Mrs. Dave Jones, and also are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Copple at Murphy.

Luncheon guests Monday at the home of Mrs. Charles Hamilton were Clarence Roundtree and Ike Matney of Grants Pass and Will Matney of Ruch.

Mrs. A. H. Schuler and granddaughter, Rachel Linville, and niece, Irene Bagley, of Weed, were guests of Ethel Bagley at Amy's Place Wednesday.

Ben Thurston of lower Applegate is busy working his quartz mine on Humbug. He has a small mill on the property and expects to grind ore soon.

Ruth and Florence May Severance returned Sunday from a week stay in northern points, including both Portland and Corvallis, where they visited with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Homes and little daughter Patricia of Medford returned to their home Monday after spending the week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Cantrall.

Norval Taylor of Independence, Ore., is spending a few days visiting his uncles, Edwin and Jess Taylor at Applegate, and other relatives in the Rogue river valley.

Guests during the last week at the home of Mrs. Leon Offenbacher are her sisters, Misses Thelma and Norma Jean Heuber of New Hope and Charles Howard of Grants Pass.

Miss Mabel Mickey of Portland is a guest at the home of Miss Molly Ray. Miss Gale Cantrall of Medford spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith near Ruch.

Saturday's terrific wind, which did so much damage in the valley, did not trouble the Jacksonville hill section, as it passed to the southeast and only the edge of the gale struck here.

Alice Walton, who entered the recent pioneer costume contest in a Medford theater with Jessie and Doris Clark, walked away with honors—and $5—when she appeared on the Craterian stage.

There is some good corn on Jacksonville hill—Mr. J. O. Briney reporting that some of his stands higher than a man's head. As Mr. Briney is an unusually large man—well, it must be some corn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McKee and daughter Jeanette and Miss Hazel Laurenson of Klamath Falls motored to the Applegate Saturday. Mr. McKee returned to Klamath Falls the first of the week, the rest of the group remaining here for a few days.

Mrs. Helen Johnson accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Lester Walton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haines of Ashland to Crater lake Wednesday. This was Mrs. Johnson's first trip to the resort in all her 80 years.

Mr. and Mrs. James Slorah and daughter, Ruth, and Mrs. William Miller of Medford were Wednesday evening guests of friends in Jacksonville. Mr. Slorah is one of Jackson county's old time miners.

Miss Helen Kubli of Junction City is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Maud Kubli. She was accompanied from Roseburg by Miss Laura Thom, who returned to her home city upon her arrival in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Haskins left a few days ago for their home at Pekin, Illinois, having spent some time in Medford this summer. Mr. Haskins' father, Newt Haskins, expected to accompany them on the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hendrickson and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stacey of Medford visited at the home of E. H. Taylor Sunday. Miss Francis Barber of Medford also spent the week-end there as a guest of Miss Erlene Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jordan, accompanied by their son-in-law, Earl Stanley, recently of California, made a business trip to Grants Pass Saturday. On their return they visited Mr. and Mrs. John Perry at Murphy.

Mrs. John Daley of Ruch vicinity is still incapacitated as a result of a broken collar bone sustained in a car accident on Jacksonville hill a few weeks ago. She has been removed to her home from the hospital, but still remains in bed.

Damage in the nearby vicinity last Saturday was scattered and reached a probable total of about five per cent loss to fruit crops and damage to trees. A few pear trees were uprooted near the city and some orchards suffered a 40 per cent loss of fruit.

A. L. Green of Pasadena, Calif., has taken up his residence on Thompson creek, having purchased the Poelnitz property there. He expects to bring about many improvements, and will obtain sheep as a part of his new undertaking. His family will join him later.

Dr. Charles T. Sweeney of Medford motored to his Mountain Grove ranch on lower Applegate Sunday. A few weeks ago the doctor was seen passing through the community with a baby calf from his Medford farm, which he was taking to the Applegate ranch to be cared for.

Mr. and Mrs. Madison Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rice of Seattle were visiting friends on Applegate Wednesday. They report that their mother, Mrs. J. B. Rice, who had been critically ill at the home of Mrs. Jack Allen at Phoenix as a result of a paralytic stroke, is considerably improved.

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. C. W. Culy included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Culy of San Diego, Albert and Bernal Culy of California, Mrs. Mildred Rogers from Merrill, Misses Dorothy and Jean Culy of Medford, Miss Leora Culy of Ashland, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McIntyre of Jacksonville.

In another week it is expected that plans will be carried out for school transportation from the Applegate, parents hoping to get in touch with Professor M. E. Coe concerning the matter. It is thought that more than 15 students are expected to enter the Jacksonville high school from the community.

Having spent the first weeks of her young life in the big city of Medford, little Miss Patricia Joan Mee has decided upon country life, and came with her mother, Mrs. Gene Mee, to inspect her new home on the Applegate a few days ago. Reports are that she seems to be enjoying the Applegate sunshine and fresh air.

Due to the intense interest and activity of J. B. Renault in his yard mining ventures, Mrs. Dora Harbaugh will be stationed in the Jacksonville Exchange for several weeks to attend to the less exciting business connections of Renault, who has enjoyed a measure of success in his John B. Renault Mines, Inc., Ltd., Consolidated and Expanded. Mrs. Harbaugh admits she would enjoy a visit from her many friends while stationed in the store.

It's easier to be well known than to be favorably known.
