

PERSONAL NEWS NOTES

Both from Jacksonville and Over the Hill

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Demmer visited friends in the Applegate valley this week.

G. E. Wright and son George drove to Klamath Falls on business and returned Sunday.

Mathew Dawson of Roseburg spent Sunday night at the home of his son, Ben Dawson, on Steamboat.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer spent Sunday at the home of the latter's brother, H. P. Anderson, near Medford.

Harold Worthington of Medford bicycled to the Applegate Sunday and spent a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kober and family, Thompson creek residents for the last four years, have moved to Medford to make their home.

Emil and Molly Britt and Dr. J. W. Robinson, a trio of Jacksonville's native sons and daughters, spent Thursday of this week in Medford.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harr Sunday were Nellis Larson and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ferns and family from Fern Valley.

Cliff Smith of Applegate, accompanied by his brothers, Clyde and Lee of this city, returned recently from a hunting trip in the Crater lake country.

L. J. Gober and family are moving from their home on the Applegate for the winter. They expect to spend the next month or more in Klamath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Reynolds returned to their home at Fresno a few days ago, having spent 10 days here as guests of Mrs. Reynolds' sister, Mrs. F. J. Rippey.

Mrs. O. C. Dorothy, who was stricken a few days ago with rheumatic pains and has been bedridden since, is expected to be up and about again over the week-end.

While spending a short time in southern Oregon last week, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus C. Holman of Salem motored to the Applegate and visited Mrs. Holman's aunt, Mrs. Maud Kubli.

A Salvation Army officer from Medford was on Jacksonville hill and down the Applegate valley Tuesday soliciting donations and investigating cases of need reported to him.

John Winningham, who was operated on a few days ago by Drs. H. B. and J. B. Gillis, has been recovering rapidly. He reports little discomfort and has been up and around for several days.

Glenn Young of Macon, Ga., arrived on the Applegate recently, and will remain for an indefinite visit with his brother, Albert Young, his mother, Mrs. William Harlow, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis of Prospect visited Mrs. Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mee, recently. The Prospect couple expect to leave Friday for a motor trip to Washington and Canada.

C. A. Whitney, who was granted a lease on city property for mining purposes this week, has been busy with the help of Walter Schuler sinking shaft on the lots and approaching pay dirt near bedrock.

On their return from Fairview, Wash., where they attended the funeral of a relative, Mrs. Vern Buck and mother, Mrs. Jess Cooper of Colusa, Calif., spent Saturday night as guests of Mrs. M. R. Buck.

Those making up a successful hunting party which camped in the Carbury section during the last week are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Brown of Applegate, and Jack Dellaire of Kerby.

William Fruit, fire guard in the Steamboat country, who had enjoyed camping in the open in the wide, brushy spaces for several years, will soon enjoy the comforts of a house. Maybe not this year, if it rains as soon as everybody predicts, but surely next year. Lumber has been hauled for a two-room structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Probt and Mr. and Mrs. Pine of Medford spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. R. S. Birchard on Little Applegate. Mrs. Birchard returned to Medford with her guests, where she will remain for a short time.

Mrs. William Harlow is recovering from slight injuries she sustained when she fell about 15 feet from a flume on which she was walking near her home on Elliott creek recently. Besides bruises, she received a cut on the temple.

Both faculty and high school student tennis tournaments are being planned on the local school courts for the near future. There will be both doubles and singles competition and definite dates will be announced soon, it was said.

Charlie Dorothy, Harold Reed and Fred Combest this week journeyed to the nearby hills in search of jerky and returned with aches, pains and dissatisfied ambitions. It is reported by eyewitnesses that the trio had packed all the portable bedding in Jacksonville with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murray and son and Mr. Harley of Hollywood visited Mr. Murray's niece, Mrs. Edward Kubli, Sunday. Mr. Murray and Mr. Harley expect to be in southern Oregon for some time, making their headquarters in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. James West and family, who had resided on Little Applegate for several months, are moving to Medford this week. Mr. West is employed in the hay harvest at the B. M. Lush ranch, and later expects to work on the highway reconstruction between Medford and Central Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson of Klamath Falls returned to their home Sunday, having spent a month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Winningham in the Whiskey peak vicinity. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Winningham, who had been visiting here from the Klamath town for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Murphy of Medford were calling on relatives on the Applegate Monday. They had just returned from a hunting trip to Silver lake vicinity, on which they landed a fine buck. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy expect to leave Friday for Berkeley, where they will visit Mr. Murphy's daughter, Gladys, who is attending school there.

Royal Neighbors lodge of Jacksonville, meeting Tuesday in regular session in their hall in the old U. S. hotel building, exchanged gifts between members of the Polyantha group and decided to meet again next Tuesday at the same place for an afternoon of sewing. There were about 20 members present.

Among those applying for camp fire permits at the Star ranger station this week were Charles E. Lindley and father and two brothers of Portland, who expected to camp near Steamboat; Fred Schollars of Medford, who planned to hunt on Beaver creek, and Rudolph Brown of Home, Ore., who expected to spend some time mining on the Applegate.

Miss Eva Couch and brother Virgil of Pomona, Calif., arrived in southern Oregon a few days ago and will spend a month as guests of their sister, Mrs. John Pernoll. The speed and safety of their journey here has resulted in complete satisfaction to Miss Couch, who was anxious for a tryout of her new eight-cylinder automobile in which the couple made the trip.

Joe Bar, principal city of the upper Applegate country, has been a nucleus for vacationists recently. Ernest Fairchild and son of San Jose, accompanied by George Booback and nephew of Solo, Calif., have returned to their home state after a 10-day camping period at the ancient town. While here, the men were rewarded with one deer after an excessive amount of hunting. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson of Oak Grove, Calif., also are spending a few days at Joe Bar, where Gibson is hunting.

Howard Lewis' bantam automobile, which has been taking a rest cure in the Jacksonville garage, necessitated the borrowing of all of Viv Beach's jeweler's tools to take the motor down. A bell is tied to the block while removed from the chassis so that it will not become lost, stated Jimmy Guin, assistant, when interviewed yesterday. "Our ignition tools were too large and bulky," added Theron Applebaker, another mechanic assisting in the work, "and we had to buy a pair of tweezers to extract connecting rods with."

Amy Dow, enterprising merchant, hotel operator and restaurant owner of Jacksonville, known from the green Siskiyou to the black hulk of Table rocks for her personality, philanthropic kindness, generosity and mannerisms, has been offering the public the kind of service than which there is no whicher. Ed Coffman has been added to her staff of bus boys, and may be observed any day now vigorously polishing silverware, washing dishes and waiting tables. Ed admitted to a reporter that he enjoys working anywhere when there is food involved, and intends staying on the job.

MISS WILSON MAKES DEBUT AT RIALTO THEATER SUNDAY

At the Rialto theater for Sunday and Monday Dorothy Wilson makes her debut as a star of the motion picture world. This is the girl who, not so very long ago, was just another stenographer in the RKO studios in Hollywood.

In "Age of Consent" Miss Wilson plays the lead in the very story she typed, of a boy and girl in college who find campus rules and conventions thwarting the natural expression of their love. This is not a "rah-rah-rah" type of college story but a sincere and human insight into the lives of college students of today. Richard Cromwell, Eric Linden, Arline Judge and John Halliday are in the supporting cast.

Carlyle once said that people could only be taken in by quacks when they had a certain element of quackery in their own souls.

Some people can do anything—except live within their income.

If we do less than our best for two months, we'll find ourselves doing work we're ashamed of at the end of three months.

Considering that history always repeats itself, it's a wonder some of us don't learn faster.
