

PERSONAL NEWS NOTES

Both from Jacksonville and Over the Hill

Miss Maude Comstock of California, accompanied by her brother and nephew of Medford and Mrs. James of Ashland, is spending the week camping on Little Applegate. Miss Comstock's nephew is a son of Larkin Reynolds of Applegate.

O. S. Blackford and daughters Lola and Vidal of Willow Springs visited the Applegate Sunday, returning by Grants Pass.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Straube and family motored to Grants Pass Sunday and spent the day as guests of Mrs. Straube's sister, Mrs. Earl McMullen. The two families enjoyed a picnic dinner in the city park, which was given in honor of the 10th birthday of Dale McMullen. Dale had spent the last three weeks here with Mr. and Mrs. Straube, returning to his home Sunday.

Lee Port Jr. went to Ashland Sunday, where he visited his grandmother.

Robert Kleinhammer of Berkeley spent a few days last week as a guest of his uncle, A. S. Kleinhammer. He spent the early part of this week on an outing party at Diamond lake which included Claus Kleinhammer and Mr. and Mrs. Merriam Worthington, who are visiting here from San Francisco. Medford people expecting to join the party included Mr. and Mrs. Vern Sutherland and Miss Kathryn Applegate, Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Kleinhammer and their guests and a number of relatives enjoyed a picnic in the evening on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Clyde Young.

Noel Pence of Jacksonville, who had spent a week visiting his aunt, Mrs. Amos McKee, expected to return to his home Wednesday.

Having spent several months in Washington with her grandparents, Miss Juanita Moore, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Moore on Big Applegate, returned to her parents Friday. She was accompanied by her mother, who went to Washington last week for a short visit.

W. H. Smith of Medford was a lumber customer at the Purcell sawmill the first of the week.

Mrs. Floyd McKee went to Medford early in the week to be with her sister, Mrs. Hazel Atkins of Central Point, who expected to undergo a goiter operation at the Sacred Heart hospital. Dr. Charles T. Sweeney, who studied this type of surgery in the east several years ago, is her physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ernest and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Whipple of Sacramento are spending the week as guests of Henry Paul at the J. A. West home on Little Applegate. Mrs. George Beaman, also a guest of the West family last week, returned to her home at Canby, Calif., Sunday.

A rattlesnake about three and a half feet in length was killed Wednesday morning on the front steps at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Peckham. The rattler carried nine rattles and is the fifth to be killed on the ranch in the last two months.

About 15 head of fine horses and mules attracted considerable attention a few days ago, when they were driven through the Applegate valley. They were owned by Frank Wooleridge of Provolet section, who was taking them to California to trade at Scotts valley.

With work on his farm increasing at this season of the year, E. H. Taylor has employed Eddie Daily of Medford to operate the Cloverleaf dairy truck. Mr. Daily, formerly occupied by Gilman's dairy, will have employment till fall. Mr. and Mrs. Daily are camping on the Taylor ranch for the present and later will have a cabin in which to reside.

Going to the mountains continues to be the popular thing to do, and many Applegate folks are taking advantage of the mountains at their back door, so to speak. Among those going to the Silver Fork and Middle Fork sections recently for a few days indulgence in mountain air and scenery are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Saltmarsh, Mr. and Mrs. Fred West, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McKee and daughters Enid and Marcene, Clifton Childers, Louis and Bill Straube, Miss Lola Straube and Morris Byrne.

Miss Shirley Offord of Medford, accompanied by a group of friends and relatives, spent Sunday on the Applegate picnicking and swimming.

Allen O. Hess and daughter Ruth Elenore, will leave Saturday for Grants Pass, where they will remain for a short time before going on to Portland to make their future home. Grapevine rumors circulating here are to the effect that Mr. Hess will become a benedict soon, his fiancée being a well-known Portland lady prominent in social and musical circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Shores and family of Central Point, Miss Ruth Sorber, Gold Beach, and George Buckley of Ruch were visitors at the C. B. Dunnington home this week.

Bobby and Merle Miller have returned from Oakland, Calif., where they have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Eddie Stokes.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Barrett of Eagle Point spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hunsaker. Jessie Gaddy spent a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Garrison on the Applegate.

Miss Gladys Guin, accompanied by her niece and nephew, Janet and Jimmy Oftadahl, went to Napa, Calif., where they will visit Mrs. Edward Callan.

Leo Dresser of Crescent City, Calif., is visiting his sister, Mrs. George Campbell, of Jacksonville.

George Brownley and John Kirk went to Halsey, Ore., where Mrs. Brownley is living at present. They are expected to return in September, as Mrs. Brownley will teach the Sterling school this year.

Mrs. F. I. Knowlton returned home with her baby boy, who was born at the Sacred Heart hospital early last week.

Hank Frazier, who played left field on the Miner baseball team, has returned to his home in Texas.

Malcolm Jones left for Salem, Ore., last Saturday. He is to assist in the Y. M. C. A. work there this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Fick and family, Mrs. Inez Gleason and daughter Betty, Donna Cantrall, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Wyant and family, Eleanor Clark and Lillian Brown picnicked in Lithia park in Ashland Sunday.

DID YOU HEAR US?

Yowsuh! We still want that Jubilee edition copy for The Miner!

Just two more editions and then the big day . . . when we want to make this newspaper a fiftieth anniversary to the Gold Rush Jubilee. Anecdotes, yarns, poetry, fiction—aw, anything—will be welcomed and the sooner sent in the better, for we plan to start work on the special edition within the next few days.

And you folks over on the Applegate—you have a wonderful country there, one which is sadly unappreciated by many who will visit southern Oregon August 19. A few yarns and stories about the romance and enchantment of your valley (the prettiest in the county, if you were to ask us) might help us both.

Send in your copy as soon as possible. It'll be used—The Miner can't afford rejection slips.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lewis and family and Robert Sweeney were dinner guests of Mrs. V. J. Beach Tuesday.

Rev. Stockton, Mrs. Mary Norvell and daughters Margaret and Barbara left Wednesday for Turlock, Calif., where they will spend a few weeks visiting relatives.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Aletha Cantrall received an unexpected visit from friends from Klamath Falls. They were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hunter, Mrs. N. S. Hepburn and daughter Margaret.

Mrs. Jack Yeoman, Mrs. Miriam Ward and small son Jimmie visited with Mrs. Oscar Lewis last Monday.

Junior Thompson of Medford is spending a few days in Jacksonville with his aunt, Mrs. Chris Keegan.

Mrs. Stella Beach, Robert Lewis, Joe Beach and Bobby Sweeney spent a very pleasant Monday swimming and fishing in the Applegate.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cameron have received word that their son-in-law, Ernest Holbrook of San Francisco, was able to be removed from the hospital Friday, following an accident July 10 in which he sustained serious injuries. Mr. Holbrook was going to work on his motorcycle when he was run over by a truck, resulting in a broken ankle and badly lacerated arm and leg.

Mrs. Lilla Haskins and son were Medford visitors a few days ago. They were guests of Mrs. Haskins' niece, Mrs. John Cantrall.

Earl Bigalow, employed by Atty. O. C. Hoggis in Medford, is at Ruch again, having returned from a vacation trip to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones of the Preston ranch and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newman left Tuesday for a 10-day motor trip to Monterey. They traveled the coast route.

Miss Francis Harber of Medford and John Eddie and Marvin Stark of Central Point were guests of Miss Erlene Taylor Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tenney of Willows, Calif., were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. W. D. Peckham, recently. Frank Scofield, also of Willows and a son of Mrs. Peckham, is spending some time here with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson and two sons, Alvin and Leslie of San Francisco, spent the week-end as guests of Mrs. Johnson's cousin, Mrs. Floyd Rippey. The Californians enjoyed the swimming and prospecting which the Applegate affords and the boys found country life in general especially pleasing. On their return, the visitors expected to drive through the redwoods and to visit way points of interest.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cronmiller of this city is seriously ill, having suffered a paralytic stroke a short time ago. This week her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Helms of upper Applegate, is remaining with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jellison of Medford, known among forest service friends as "Cecil and Sally," expect to resume their post at Anderson Butte, secondary lookout station, this week. They are accompanied by their young son.

Mr. Rosar and Tommy Dixon of San Diego are guests at the Harry Helms home this week.

Two-Thirds Autoists Lack Proper License

Unless early action is taken, fully two-thirds of the automobile drivers in this vicinity will be subject to arrest on the morning of September 1 for failure to obtain their new drivers licenses, according to information just received by The Miner from Hal E. Hoss, secretary of state. An official estimate discloses that barely one-third of the drivers in this section are equipped with proper drivers' licenses.

Police officials state that no motorists will be granted a strict enforcement of the law will be observed in their check on all operators. With the "deadline" barely four weeks away, all persons still carrying cards issued before July 1, 1931, should obtain new cards at the first opportunity. Secretary Hoss warned.

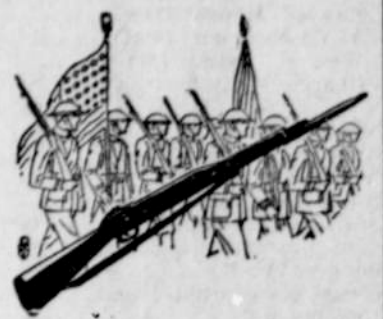

Renewal permits are being granted without examination to all operators previously licensed in Oregon who are now under the age of 70, those with clean accident records and those without physical defects. All applications must be made on regular forms supplied by the secretary of state and must be signed in the presence of a notary public or other person authorized to administer oaths. Examiners will perform notarial duties for all applicants without charge, it was pointed out.

NORMAL SCHOOL FACULTY MEN WIN HIGH HONORS

The degree of doctor of philosophy, the highest academic degree that can be attained in college or university, has recently been conferred upon two faculty members of the Southern Oregon Normal school. Walter Redford, president of the school, was granted the degree by the University of Washington, and Arthur S. Taylor, history instructor, received his degree from the University of Southern California.
