

PERSONAL NEWS NOTES

Both from Jacksonville and Over the Hill

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lynch and daughter Eleanor and granddaughter, Jean Ellen, spent Thursday as guests of Mrs. Lynch's sister, Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dawson are expected to return this week from a 10-day motor trip to coast points, including Newberg and Astoria. They planned to return through the Willamette valley.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Straube Sunday included Mrs. Rena Collie and son Tom and Mr. and Mrs. John Dodge and two children of Medford; Mrs. Herriott Taylor and daughter, Miss Hazel Taylor, of Butte Falls, and Miss Lola Blackford of Willow Springs.

Fred Crabtree left Saturday for his home at Seattle, having spent several months camping and prospecting on Big Applegate.

Miss Olive Duffey expected to leave the first of the week for her home at San Francisco, having spent the last month at the home of her son, Robert Fletcher, on Big Applegate.

Miss Ruth Pidgeon of Everett, Wash., who is spending a month visiting Applegate relatives, is a guest at the present of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold.

Having motored to this section to attend the Gold Rush Jubilee, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McKee and daughter Jeanette of Klamath Falls, accompanied by a friend, spent Sunday with relatives on Applegate.

Stanley Glick of Malin is spending the week as a guest of his cousin, John Harr. Both boys are considering with amazement this thing called a vacation, for both young men, John having earned a week of freedom from duties as a Brush Marine at Camp Applegate, are pitching hay and not on the plan of the NRA either.

Mrs. Dean Saltmarsh of Medford spent the week-end with her husband on Tallowbox lookout. Mrs. Saltmarsh had just returned from a brief outing at Union Creek, where she was accompanied by Mrs. Phil Whitlock and children of Medford.

Mrs. Robert Fletcher and very young son, James Edmond, were expected to return to their home late this week from the home of Mrs. John Porter in West Medford, where Jimmie made his debut to this world on August 15, when the thermometer soared its highest. James is the second boy in the family and is foreordained to rule the household for some time.

Miss Lola Straube spent several days last week as a guest of Miss Frieda Young of Willow Springs.

Mrs. J. C. Green of the Ruch section is entertaining guests from the south this month. Those arriving a short time ago from Los Angeles are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilmore, Mrs. A. B. Eberhart, and Dr. Greenhill. Friday Miss Mary Kestenholtz and H. L. Smith arrived by plane from Long Beach, making the trip in 10 hours, including stops. Mr. Smith, who piloted his own plane to Medford, will inspect alfalfa and grain fields of the Ruch vicinity with the expectations of landing his airship in that community during his visit. Sunday Mrs. Green and her guests visited Oregon caves.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cole, who have made their home at Steamboat for the last two years, are moving to Dallas, Oregon.

After attending church services at Camp Applegate Sunday, Mrs. Bert Harr entertained the following guests at dinner at her home: Mrs. Ervin Lewis and sons Dow and Bob, Mrs. Alice Hedberg, Wm. Dorn, Mrs. Jim Arnold and three children and guest, Miss Ruth Pidgeon. All enjoyed swimming during the afternoon.

Mrs. Glenn Saltmarsh went to Medford Monday, where she will be employed during fruit season at the Bear Creek packing house.

Mrs. Maud Kubli visited recently at the home of her niece, Mrs. Kathryn Dallaire, in Medford.

Mrs. Merriam Worthington and little daughter, Dianne, left Saturday for their home in San Francisco after spending the last five weeks visiting southern Oregon friends and relatives. They were accompanied by Mrs. Vern Sutherland of Medford, who will join her husband in the Bay City, where the couple will make their home.

Miss Beulah Patterson has returned to Portland, where she is employed by the Bushnell photo-

Gold Rush Jubilee as their memory of the old town included much that was represented there.

David Adamson of Roseburg is staying at the Norvell home for a short visit.

Mrs. P. M. Lee and daughter Audrey left Saturday for Portland, where they will visit relatives.

Mrs. Alice Roth and Percy McLain of Chico visited at the Oscar Lewis home last week-end. Upon returning home Tuesday Ray Lewis accompanied them.

Frank Godward, brother of G. W. Godward, with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Scott and children of San Francisco, arrived here Monday. Mr. Godward will remain in Jacksonville while the Scott family proceeds to Portland.

Hats cleaned, blocked and remodeled at Adel Lee Millinery, M. M. Dept. store. (8-25)

Kermit De Haas and Mrs. Verna Hood, nephew and sister-in-law of Mrs. Hubert De Haas, were in this city for the jubilee. The came from their home in Eagle Point.

Mrs. Alice Applegate Sargent presented a copy of "The Oregon Trail and Some of Its Blazers" to the Jacksonville public library. The author of the volume, Maude A. Rucker, is a niece of Mrs. Sargent.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Smith moved to Medford last week.

Mrs. Sarah Guern, Mrs. Ressie Carlton, Mrs. Celia Holmes and Mrs. Lottie Van Scoy of Portland were in Jacksonville Saturday.

Mrs. Jessie Jones of Salem and Mrs. Jack Porter of Medford visited with their cousin, Miss Isie McCully, here this week.

Miss Roberta Metzgar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Metzgar, became the bride of Robert Forbes August 19 at the home of the bride. The Reverend Joseph Knotts of the Medford First Methodist church officiated. Relatives and a few friends were present for the ceremony. Misses Lula and Audrey Metzgar acted as bridesmaids and Andrus Smith was best man. The bride wore a blue satin gown with corsage of white gardenias. The couple left immediately for Medford, where they will make their home.

Dr. Thos. W. Hester, Newberg, Ore., was among the visitors to Jacksonville last Saturday. He wrote in advance that he "was coming to attend Big Mogul Duke Lewis in case the latter was injured by Bad Eye Pete, and that he might render first aid to Bad Eye himself if he got careless and shot himself in the foot again. Dr. Hester and wife, however, found little attending to do of this nature and converted their attending to the Bean canning in the relief kitchens of the Applegate is practically at an end and tomatoes will be utilized next, according to the canning chairmen. The second meeting for the Ruch district was held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Kleinhammer Tuesday and the second meeting for the Applegate district, where Mrs. Fred Offenbacher is chairman, was dispensed with Wednesday on account of scarcity of beans. The Applegate group canned 114 quarts last week.

Thursday evening of last week Mrs. Sophia Demmer of Jacksonville hill gave a special family reunion party for her sons and daughters and their families. Seventeen guests were present to enjoy her hospitality. On Saturday and Sunday the guests from California departed, going to their various homes, each with pleasant memories of a most enjoyable visit at the old home place.

Monday afternoon a fire broke out on the Jacksonville-Ruch highway and burned fiercely for some time before it was checked. A passing motorist saw it and told T. S. Cady of the Summit service station, who at once reported it by telephone. The "fire ladders" responded promptly and soon had the fire under control, which action was greatly appreciated by all the residents of the immediate vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Craig of Los Angeles and San Francisco, who were driving through to Seattle, stopped over to see how much Jacksonville had changed in the 27 years since they were last there. They were much interested in the Gold Rush Jubilee's many features. Dr. Hester expressed satisfaction with The Miner, he being a regular subscriber.

Mrs. Harry Wortman of Medford and sister and niece, Mrs. Jacks and Miss Jacks of Chicago, visited here Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Simpson of Ashland were among Jubilee day visitors in Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bell of Ruch were visitors in this city Wednesday.

Mrs. Helen Johnson fell and dislocated a shoulder Monday. She is being cared for at the Jacksonville sanitarium.

Helen and Muriel Coke visited at the F. W. Clogston home Saturday.

Members of the Eastern Star lodge of this city gave a farewell party for Mrs. R. A. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Taylor at the Edward Bell home Monday evening. The Taylors left the following day for Kellogg, Idaho, their former residence.

Joe Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Beach, left Tuesday morning by train for Portland, where he will visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Weaver, and be treated at the Shrine hospital for rheumatic affliction. Joe, who starred as junior league pitcher early this summer, hopes to return soon a "new man" and none the worse for travel.

Mrs. Mary Norvell expected to be hostess to the Presbyterian Missionary society at her home here Thursday of this week.

J'ville Stork's Buddy Pays Friends Visit

After spending a short time camping at Sulphur springs on Little Applegate, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hester left Monday for their home in Newburg, Oregon, going by way of Grants Pass, where they expected to visit Mrs. Hester's sister.

The couple, formerly of Jacksonville, enjoyed attending the Jubilee, where they saw many old time friends and they also have spent much time visiting old acquaintances on the Applegate. During Dr. Hester's practicing period in the old town he acted on the reception committee for many a local person who made his appearance in this world about 25 years ago and who since has found his lot among the stock raisers, Grangers or scribes. Somewhere on the Applegate the doctor has a namesake, too.

Envoys of Yreka Gold Rush Here for Jubilee

About 60 bewhiskered men and long-skirted ladies from Yreka attended the Gold Rush Jubilee held here Saturday. They came as guests and good-will emissaries from the California mining town which, like old Jacksonville, got its origin from goldfields and which now observes its past romance and history with annual gold rushes.

The Yrekans, picturesque in blood-red shirts, black satin jeans and flat-crowned, wide-brimmed hats which must have come over the prairies in ox carts, added flavor and color to the old town and aroused much local interest in the Yreka celebration, which will hold forth Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 15, 16 and 17. The delegation was headed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ling and Mr. and Mrs. Don Avery, gentlemen and gentlewomen of the Yreka press and officials of that city's gold rush committee.

Plans already are afoot for several cars of Jacksonvilleans to drive to Yreka next month to see how they "do it in California."

One Tree Is Not a Forest . . .

A lone tree may snap in a high wind. A thousand trees make a forest that provides protection for every tree and for the man who seeks shelter from storms. One or two savings deposits, made and then forgotten, can offer small protection for the man who needs reserve funds. But many deposits, made regularly, will guard the saver from the winds of adversity.
