2ND-YEAR CLASS PREPARES FOR SOPH-FROSH TILT

A noisy group of sophomores held its first class meeting at 1 o'clock last Friday afternoon to elect officers and to decide upon effective and ingenious methods of punishing the freshmen for being members of that class.

Morris Byrne of Applegate was elected president. Others holding offices are Mary Fisk, vice president, and Maxine Boone, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Edith Fenwick, English teacher, was chosen sophomore class advisor.

PAUL HESS HEADS NEWLY ORGANIZED BOYS CHORUS

Twelve boys of Jacksonville high school tuned their vocal cords and organized a glee club under the direction of Miss Ruth Currin, commercial instructor, at the first meeting of the group Monday afternoon.

Paul Hess, junior, was elected president of the club. Other officers are Cal Lusk, vice president; Wayne Combest, secretary-treasurer, and Vyron Bostwick, librarian.

Meetings will be held three times a week on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

THE FRESHMEN SPEAK (An Editorial)

By VALERIE PEARCE (Freshman Class President)

Be it known by these presents to all classes and especially the sophomores:

That although the deep, dread secrets of our coming initiation are still unfathomable mysteries to us, we all intend to be good sports and let me come what may tonight.

Our attitude toward the event is hard to explain. We do not dread it, but yet we are not anxious for the time to come when we shall meet our doom.

Some of our valiant band may not be present tonight but their absence will surely be due to lack of means of transportation, not lack of courage.

We, as loyal members of the class of '37, will be on hand to meet bravely whatever may occur.

FULL YEAR OUTLINED AT FIRST P.-T. A. MEETING

Mrs. George Wendt, president of the Parent-Teacher's association, will wield the gavel at the first regular meeting of the new school year this afternoon at the Jacksonville high school.

Parents will be entertained with an impromptu program by grade and high school students. During the year outside talent as well as students will furnish entertaining features for the meetings.

Mrs. Wendt is including in her plans for the year a full evening program for Halloween and Christmas. She also is planning an early spring band concert. The next meeting of the association has been set for October 6 and many parents of new students as well as old members are expected to attend.

BERNADINE ARNOLD HEADS SCHOOL SONGSTERS CLUB

Election of officers for the year occupied members of the girls' glee club at their first meeting Thursday, September 14.

Bernadine Arnold was chosen president. Other officers are Ethel Caulkins, vice president; Madeline Metzger, secretary-treasurer, and Mary Fisk and Maxine Boone, librarians.

The club is conducted by Miss Ruth Currin and will meet every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 1 o'clock.

Because most of the girls voted popular songs "more fun" and frowned on singing of classic music exclusively in practices and programs, popular music will have its place in their work this year. Just now the club is singing "When It's Lamplightin' Time in the Valley" and "Sweetheart Darlin'."

SHINY VARNISHED FLOORS REPLACE LAST YEAR'S BLACK OILINES IN SCHOOL

Glistening light-brown floors gladdened the eyes of Jacksonville students when they returned to school this fall and many a tale was told about horrid "spills" (including Miss Fenwick's) on the sticky black boards they had replaced.

The "new" floors, upon examination, turned out to be not new after all, but just the old ones re-conditioned. During the summer they had been scrubbed, then varnished. They had even been patched a bit in badly worn places.

Repairs also were made on the school sewage system during the summer in order that the ball-field, which has sometimes been flooded by overflows, may be kept in good condition all year.

GRADE STUDENTS WILL 'MARK TIME' WITH OWN ILLUSTRATED CALENDAR

Hard work on regular school studies is the main object of the fifth and sixth grades this year, though outside interests in art and music will be encouraged, according to Mrs. Raymond Hunsaker, their instructor.

The art project is that of making a calendar. Each student will portray in original drawings the meaning of each month in the year to him. When his calendar is finished an outside cover representing the entire year will be made for it.

This week these classes are studying MacDowell's compositions "To a Wild Rose" and "To a Water-Lily."

SHE WOULDN'T TELL ON HIM, ANYWAY

Third and fourth grade pupils sometimes are just a little bit inclined to "tattle." Hoping to discourage the habit, their teacher, Mrs. Lewis, gave them quite a "talking to" one day last week, asking them to tell her nothing unless it was something really serious.

Soon after this talk a certain little girl came up to her teacher and said "Mrs. Lewis, you don't like tattlers, do you?"

"I certainly don't!" replied that lady.

"Well," the little one continued resignedly, "Jimmy hit me a little while ago, but I'm not going to tattle!"

2ND GRADE 'BROWNIES' PROVE THEY DESERVE FAERY NAME

Two months work completed in four weeks is a record of which anyone might be proud.

In spite of the fact that several of their classmates are ill with whooping cough and one has typhoid fever, the second grade "Brownie" class is progressing rapidly. They have already finished work in their readers which ordinarily takes a second year class two months.

FADS AMONG THE FASHIONABLES:

TO HIS FLAIR for finding effective color combinations (and wearing them!) Vyron Bostwick ascribes his tremendous popularity. The details are a secret, of course, but we were able to wrangle out of him that it all has something to do with the gentle science of gastronomy: he decides, early in the season, upon the general tone of his wardrobe for the ensuing months. Thereafter, as we understand it, he permits nothing to be served to him at meals but those viands which will harmonize particularly well with his chosen basic color.

NOT CONTENT WITH INTRODUCING such a unique fancy as arm-bracelets for boys to the masculine element in the student body, the freshman boys are out to set a new style. This time it has to do with hairdressing. Having evidently gone back to the days of the cave-dwellers for their inspiration, they have evolved a creation which could appropriately be named "Au Naturel." The method of creating this effect is simple, but involves long preparation. For those who are interested in experimenting we include it: "After a warm bath, run the fingers of both hands repeatedly through the hair until it stands up quite stiffly, under its own power. Then go to bed. Next morning, as you finish rubbing your eyes, gives the tousled top-knot or final stir, using a brisk circular motion, with the fingers. Then go to school."

FOUND IN THE DIGGIN'S

MELVIN MILLER at the principal's desk engaged in serious conversation . . . AUDREY LEE and FRIEND coming hand-in-hand up the hill . . . MR. COE vigorously demonstrating to the student body how students look—to the rest of us—while chewing gum . . . THIRTY HAPPY FRESHMEN receiving their bids to the sophomore Pirate party . . . VYRON BOSTWICK, rethinking of somebody's kitten, relating in history class how Drake was "stroked on the back" by Queen Elizabeth . . . ELEANOR CLARK after a refreshing swim in a bottle of black Skrip . . . SHIRLEY CANTRALL telling them again how it SHOULD be done . . . BILLIE LORTON remembering to take his books to class . . . HOWARD KIEKHOEFER reading his sixth library book this term.

The Editor Speaking

Now, with another outbreak of earthquakes in Los Angeles, it is time for the mails to be full of letters to the folks who stayed back home telling what a wonderful place southern California is.

Southern Californians remind us of old flivver owners. The more their great loves shake and rattle, the more they boast of them.
