

Personal News Notes

Both from JACKSONVILLE and OVER the HILL

● Mr. and Mrs. Jim Winningham attended the commencement exercises for the Jacksonville high school graduating class of which their daughter, Valera, was a member. Others attending from upper Applegate were Mrs. Vernie Stevenson and Mrs. Lester Bealle.

● Construction work is underway at the Purcel sawmill on Little Applegate this week, where a new planer is being installed, along with a 25-horsepower engine which Mr. Purcel purchased two months ago.

● Claus Kleinhammer attended the alumni banquet of the Ashland high school which was held in the Bellview clubhouse last Friday evening. Mr. Kleinhammer, who graduated at Ashland in 1928, was elected vice president of the alumni association.

● Otis Buck, in charge of a group of CCC workers in northern California during the last year, has accepted work with the forest service as fire guard at Happy Camp near Canby, Calif.

● Western Union at the Nugget.

● C. U. Thomas left Sunday evening for Bunkerhill, Kansas, where he will remain for a month or more attending to business matters, and will return by Los Angeles to visit relatives. Mr. Thomas came here from Kansas several years ago, and has since made his home with his daughter, Mrs. E. H. Taylor.

● Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weeks and family from Santa Barbara were guests on Applegate last week at the home of Mrs. Week's sister, Mrs. Sid Hanson.

● Adopting the custom of many organizations to discontinue during the summer months, the Little Applegate Sewing club held the final meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Dave Jones. The club has been active since its organization nearly four years ago, and recently has devoted the meetings, held at the members' homes, to some form of sewing for the hostess. Mrs. Jess Taylor is president of the organization.

● Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Pedersen of Eugene were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crump while enroute to San Francisco. Mrs. Pedersen teaches in the Eugene grade schools, and attended normal school with Mrs. Crump at Monmouth.

● Walter Inch and Mr. Smith of Medford were Applegate visitors a few days ago.

● Miss Marilyn Young of Ashland is spending the week here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Kleinhammer.

● The Nugget for magazines.

● With the Eagle Point drill team meeting with the Applegate Grange at the regular meeting Friday night to give the third and fourth degree work, the evening was one of unusual interest. A beautiful memorial tableau was presented, and memorial services were held in tribute to departed Grange members. Refreshments of strawberry shortcake were served at the close of the meeting, and dancing followed for a few hours. One hundred twenty Grangers were present, including 48 visitors.

● The Nugget for cold drinks.

● Miss Eleanor Maul, who has completed her term of teaching at the Uniontown school, left Monday for Medford, where she will remain with friends and relatives next week. After attending the Diamond Jubilee, Miss Maul will leave for her home in Portland to spend the summer. She will teach at Uniontown again next term.

● Roy Hanscom Jr. and sister Jean sustained minor head injuries a few days ago when the car in which they were riding with their parents collided with another car near their home in the upper Applegate. The children were taken to Camp Applegate for treatment.

● Six pupils from the Watkins school, making the largest eighth grade class ever graduated there, went to Ashland Friday, where they received their diplomas in the county exercises. The students were Ardith Stevenson, Louise Harr, Mildred Burleson, Robert Lewis, Delbert DeWolfe and Russell Garrison. The Watkins school, which is taught by Mrs. Ina Pur-cel, who has been employed for next term, closed with an afternoon program, which was attended by a large number of patrons of the district. Among other eighth grade pupils from Applegate receiving their diplomas Friday were Pauline Rhinesburg, Agnes Dunford and Harold Perkins of Little Applegate school, and Fay Randall of Uniontown.

● Mrs. S. E. Dunnington of Jacksonville spent a few days last week at the home of her son, Cliff Dunnington, on Little Applegate.

● Mr. and Mrs. Lyl Hards motored to Brownsboro Sunday, where they spent the day with the latter's aunt.

● George Taylor of Big Applegate spent last week at Grants Pass visiting relatives.

● T. S. Cady, of the Summit service station, was operated on for acute appendicitis Wednesday at 8 a.m. at the Community hospital. Dr. Charles Haines of Ashland was the surgeon, and Mr. Cady has been reported as recovering from the ordeal as well as could be expected.

● Courteous service at the Nugget Sunday, May 27. Miss Elva Morris and Mr. Arthur Newman motored to the summer home of Judge Stuart Day near Sams Valley and were married at 10 o'clock. They returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morris, where chicken, ice cream and cake was served as a wedding supper. The wedding cake was decorated by a Medford bakery, and guests included Mrs. Helen Johnson, Juanita, Jack and Lucille Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Daily (Mrs. Daily will be remembered as the bride's twin), her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morris. The bride was attired in a white flannel swaggar suit with all-white accessories, and carried a lovely bouquet of orchids. The groom is a native of West Virginia. They will reside near Talent.

● Mr. Herbert Koeppe was dismissed from the local sanitarium Monday of this week in a much improved condition.

● Everyone in Jacksonville having rooms or camp grounds to rent during jubilee week kindly list same at once at the Jacksonville service station, or at jubilee headquarters in Medford, giving name, address, phone number, and whether rooms are single, double, if modern, the price.—S. H. Jones, Mrs. E. S. Severance, Peter Fick (committee on housing and camps.)
