

Personal News Notes

Both from JACKSONVILLE and OVER the HILL

● Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson and daughter Lois of Marysville, Calif., spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lusk of Jacksonville.

● Applegate Grange is planning to be host at a meeting of the Pomona Grange to be held here Saturday, July 28. Members will enjoy a picnic at noon, and the lecturer's hour is open to the public. The meeting was scheduled for Sams Valley but, owing to the coolness of the Applegate, for which the river and community are well known, the two Granges decided to make the trade. The January meeting, scheduled for Applegate, will be held at Sams Valley.

● C. U. Thomas, who left some time ago on a business trip to Bunkerhill, Kansas, plans to remain away another two months, he writes relatives here, expecting to spend a month with relatives in Los Angeles. Mr. Thomas writes of the rejoicing of the Kansas farmers over a downpour there a few weeks ago, which brought five inches of water in two days, which saved burning pastures and crops for a time, at least.

● The Nugget for cold drinks.

● Andrew Jeldness, well known resident of upper Applegate, journeyed to the Ruch vicinity Tuesday in the interest of taking home a burro. Mr. Jeldness, owner of a valuable copper claim near his home, remained overnight with friends enroute and recalled days of the Alaskan gold rush in which he was a participant. When in Medford, Mr. Jeldness says friends inquire about the make of car he drives, and he replies in all seriousness, "Burro," which often puzzles the inquirer. This seasoned miner came to America from Norway when he was 17, and learned to drink sweetened coffee in England, he says.

● Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis and four children of Crescent Mills, Calif., spent last week visiting Mr. Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Lewis, of Applegate. Friday the Newton Lewis family met in reunion at the Truman Lewis home here with all of the children present except Ervin Lewis, on forest guard duty at Perk's pasture. Twelve of the 14 grandchildren also were present.

● Mrs. E. J. Cameron, Applegate pioneer residing in Medford, was a guest at the home of Misses Rose and Kate Buckley Tuesday.

● A serious minded young Applegate farmer was known to order two pairs of overalls during the week-end, which he said was in preparation for possible results of the longshoremen's strike.

● Western Union at the Nugget.

● Mr. and Mrs. Lester Throckmorton and son and daughter visited relatives at Ruch a few days ago.

● John A. Riley, formerly associated with Dividend Bar, has returned to upper Applegate to locate, after spending several years farming at Haines, South Dakota. Mr. Riley tells of the deplorable farming conditions in central states due to drought.

● Miss Ardith Renard of Oakland, Calif., is spending the summer at the home of her mother, Mrs. Harry Helms, on upper Applegate.

● Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hartley planned to entertain a large number of friends with a dance at their home on Little Applegate Saturday evening.

● Mr. and Mrs. Henry Budd of Salinas, Calif., have purchased the D. O. Garrison home on upper Applegate.

● The thrill that comes to boyhood with possession of a horse and saddle for a few days vacation in the cattle range was experienced by Arthur Dunford and Lee (Sonny) Boyd of Little Applegate Saturday, when they accompanied Claus Kleinhammer to the Siskiyou with Freezeout as headquarters. One of the boys thought the trip better than 40 shows.

● The Nugget for magazines.

● Walt Garrison and Mr. Denzer of Phoenix have completed a road extending three quarters of a mile from the Squaw creek divide to the Grub Stake mine built for the purpose of transporting ore from the mine.

● Dr. Harry J. Knapp and son and father from North Dakota are on a few days inspection trip to the Slottick mine on Ward's fork.

● Rollin Crump, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Crump, received lacerations about the nose and face Saturday when he was bitten by a dog with which he had been in the habit of playing. Rollin was taken to Dr. James C. Hayes for treatment.

● Mrs. John Cantrall, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. John Langston, and Miss Norma Cantrall, and nephew, Earl Saltmarsh, all of Medford, visited relatives on Applegate Sunday.

● The remaining portion of the old Ruch hall, where basketball games and dances once lived the city, is undergoing improvement, and can flaunt to the world some of its old pride. Mrs. Anna Ruch has employed Larkin Reynolds, local carpenter, to build a new porch on the old structure, which is used now only to hold elections.

● W. B. Crause is spending this week at Union Creek on business.

● Mr. and Mrs. James Kent and family of Talent visited Mrs. Kent's cousin, Mrs. Paul Demmer, Sunday.

● Courteous service at the Nugget

● Bob Archer and Don Krouse, both of Medford, made a bicycle trip to the Applegate to enjoy the swimming Sunday.

● J. B. Holman, formerly of Jacksonville, is now living in the Steamboat section where he is mining.

● Miss Mabel Meek came home Wednesday from The Dalles, where she spent the winter and spring with relatives while she attended high school. She expects to finish her high school course in Jacksonville this winter, after which she plans to take a business course in preparation for a position in government work.

● Miss Mary Johnston of Ruch visited with her aunt, Mrs. Al Piche, a few days in Medford.

● Mrs. Eva Bostwick of Medford spent Sunday with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Throckmorton, at Ruch.

● The Ruch union Sunday school is being held each week from 10 to 11 a.m. at the Ruch school house.

● Mr. and Mrs. Skinner and Mrs. Grace McDaniel called at the A. Throckmorton home recently.

● Mrs. M. M. Willits of Santa Maria, Calif., has been visiting friends and relatives of the Ruch vicinity, including Mrs. Inez McDonough, a sister.

● Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ogden, Mrs. Dora Cameron and Mrs. Eva Bostwick visited Mr. and Mrs. Throckmorton Tuesday afternoon.

● Mr. and Mrs. L. Reynolds called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Throckmorton this week.

● Victor Holzgang is spending two weeks with his sister, Mrs. R. A. Gildea.

● Mr. and Mrs. Curly Johnston of Ruch spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Charles Hamilton.

● Stop at the Nugget.

● John Patrick, Lloyd Newton,

Ernest Wallace and Bud Peebler enjoyed a weiner roast and swim on Applegate Sunday evening.

● Prentice Petty, from Central Point, was a visitor in Jacksonville Saturday.

● Mr. and Mrs. Jules Taylor were hosts to a family reunion last week when relatives from several western states were in attendance.

● La Von Dunford, employed at Crater Lake during summer months, spent last week-end with his parents near this city, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Dunford.

● Leonard Osborne of this city was among Tuesday business callers in Medford.

● Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Littell and son Shelley returned Saturday from an extended visit with friends and relatives in Iowa and Minnesota. The family drove through and report a pleasant and interesting trip, going by way of Yellowstone national park. Mr. Littell, city marshal, will resume his duties August 1. His position has been filled by Albert Hackert during his absence.

● Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dunnington of this city spent Sunday with Mrs. Dunnington's brother, Leonard McKee, and family, of Big Applegate. Tommy Dunnington, Jr., returned home following a week's visit with his uncle and aunt.

● The Jacksonville Missionary society will hold an ice cream social in the basement of the Presbyterian church Saturday evening, starting at 5:00 p.m. Home-made ice cream and cake will be for sale at five cents per portion.

● The Rev. S. H. Jones, pastor of the Jacksonville Presbyterian church, left for Albany, Oregon, to attend synod of his church. Ladies Aid of the local church recently held a meeting to observe birthdays of members falling on Fourth of July.

● Ernest McIntyre and family and W. E. Finney and family spent Sunday at Crater Lake.

● Miss Alice Morgan, sister of Mrs. O. C. Lewis of this city, returned home Monday evening from a short business trip to Portland.

● Eugene Thompson of Medford has been spending a few days visiting his aunt in this city, Mrs. Chris Keegan.

● Victims of the hot-ink phenomena at The Miner office during the past week include, to date, Elmer Zumwalt, Gail (Big Shot) Lusk,

Edwin Rosa and Donald Sullivan, all of whom promptly joined the black-hand society. The wonder comes to pass when youngsters, elbowing their way around the shop, are baited with the declaration that printer's ink becomes warm when stirred. The ensuing disclosure leaves a handful of very spradable ink adorning appendages of victims.

● Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Littell and son Shelley left Wednesday for a brief tour of the Oregon and California coast.

● Donald Sullivan, young Medford friend of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lewis, has been visiting in Jacksonville this week.

● Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Godward spent Sunday with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Godward.
