

FOREST MEN TO GET NEW STYLE FIELD CLOTHES

The forest ranger, a familiar figure to the millions of visitors to the national forests, is to have a new uniform. Revised specifications for "field clothes" have just been issued by the U. S. forest service. The new uniforms supplant the old forestry green outfit with stiff brim hats, no longer distinctive of the service's field men, since similar types of uniform have been widely adopted by other agencies.

The new clothes will be made of a fabric designated "U. S. forest service bronze-green heather." This tough fabric will be standard for all field uniforms, except those worn during the summer in the deep south, which are to be made of "twill-green," a light weight cloth.

The new coat is a loosecut, single-breasted, two-button style with leather buttons and bellows pockets. The familiar pine-tree badge appears on the lapels.

The ranger's wardrobe may include three styles of trousers—straight cut trousers, riding breeches, and knickerbreeches suitable for hiking or horseback. Dark tan or cordovan are the specified colors for boots and shoes.

Hats are of light tan color known as "Belgian Belly." They have the old wide brim, but are softer than the old regulation type.

Shirts are of light olive-gray green, much like the Belgian belly color of the hat, except that when no coat is worn the standard shirt is of dark forestry green flannel, arctic worsted or serge. Neckties are dark green four-in-hands.

New regulations also have been issued on field clothes for forest guards and other short-term personnel of the forest service, and for supervisory personnel on duty with civilian conservation corps camps.

● Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blake returned to Ashland on Monday from a visit of ten days in Salem and Tillamook.

● Mrs. Bertha Smith, and daughter, Miss Harlett Smith left the latter part of last week for Beverly Hills, Calif., to visit friends and relatives for several weeks.

The standard color for these uniforms is forestry green; riding breeches or straight trousers may be worn with "sand-tan" shirts and a variety of coats including Cosack jackets, reefers, and leather windbreakers. Collar insignia designate the particular service to which the wearer belongs. Leather and woolen leggings, not regulation wear for regular members of the forest service, are on the specified list for CCC supervisory men. Wide-brimmed hats are standard for the CCC supervisory men; however they are of a bronze-green mixture instead of "Belgian Belly."

TRADING WITH INDIANS 200 YRS WITHOUT A DISPUTE

THE HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY! WHAT A RECORD THIS NAME REPRESENTS OF PLUCK AND DARING OF BOLD INDUSTRY AND HARDY ENDURANCE, OF WILD ADVENTURE AMONG THE SAVAGE INDIAN TRIBES, AND EXPOSURE BY MOUNTAIN PEOPLES AND SEASIDE (TORRENT AND WINDY PLAINS)!

FOR TWO CENTURIES THE HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY UNDER ITS ORIGINAL CHARTER, GRANTED IN 1607, UNDER THE FINANCIAL ESTROGES OF GREAT BRITAIN, PROMOTED EXPLORATION AND DISCOVERY, GOVERNED A VAST DOMAIN IN THE NORTHERN PART OF THE AMERICAN CONTINENT AND PRESERVED TO THE BRITISH EMPIRE THE VAST TERRITORY NAMED OVER CANADA IN 1827. FOR NEARLY A GENERATION SINCE THAT TIME THE VETERAN COMPANY HAS CARRIED ON SUCCESSFUL TRADE IN COMPETITION WITH MANY SMALL AND HAS INCREASED THE VIGOR OF YOUTH. IT HAS THE HONOR OF TRADE WITH THE INDIANS AND DURING THAT TIME NOT ONE ACT OF HOSTILITY WAS COMMITTED BETWEEN THEM AND THE INDIANS. IN FACT, THE HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY EXERCISED GREAT INFLUENCE OVER THE CONSTANTLY WARRING TRIBES AND WAS INSTRUMENTAL IN KEEPING THEM AT PEACE AS MUCH AS POSSIBLE.

LETTERS to the Editor

To the Editor:

Dear Brother Barny: Do you think the business men of Ashland appreciate your statements?

Mud slinging, (and pretty thick mud at that) how we all abhor it. We should get enough to spare in politics, but here it comes again. One would think you had been campaigning for the office of dog catcher, or janitor in some high or low place, by listening to you rave.

If you are such a human savior, why don't you ever turn over your hand to get justice for that man Mooney, who you should know is an innocent man? At least you will find it out when he is freed. But no, you would let him rot in durance vile.

You are too much like the parrot man, play follow the leader; and I agree with the able writer David Mark, "too much bully." Better go give yourself up.—P. J. AMES.

● Mrs. H. L. Claycomb, Miss Jean Claycomb and Miss Alice Coggins will spend the next ten days at the Claycomb cottage at Lake of the Woods.
