

The Past Noble Grands club plans to meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hertert Specht. Mrs. Guy Applewhite and Mrs. J. E. Gowland will assist.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church will have a meeting tomorrow evening, the social period of which will be featured by a Thanksgiving party.

C. C. Directors Minus President

So far as the office of president of the Ashland chamber of commerce is concerned, it was a case of the "office seeking the man" instead of the other way around, following the resignation of President C. W. Fortmiller at Monday noon's meeting of the board of directors.

In fact, the presidential office of the best chamber of commerce in southern Oregon looked right smart dazed when it learned that O. F. Carson, vice-president and heir to the job, has lumber interests at Klamath Falls that require his absence to an extent that makes it impossible for him to accept the honor.

There's plenty of good chamber of commerce presidential timber in Ashland however, and a choice was scheduled at an early date. The regular election is in March.

Mr. Fortmiller, who has been president since the resignation of Dr. B. G. Barkwill, resigned on account of business duties.

At the meeting Monday the directors passed a resolution against the establishment of any retail or wholesale wood yard on Main St. from Helman to the Boulevard.

TIME

Runs Into Money

The cash value in your Life Insurance contracts increases as time goes on. BUT—all of the money you started to save will be paid to your family if you are taken away.

Life Insurance is the only property you can buy ON TIME PAYMENTS that your widow will not have to finish paying for.

SCORE CHART

Since 1919, Ashland and Medford have played each other 25 times, and sad as it is, a check of the records show that the locals have won just six times; Medford has won 18 games and one ended in a tie.

Ashland has not beaten their ancient rivals since 1929, when Medford was defeated twice. Ashland has scored a grand total of 219 points over the 6 year span while Medford has garnered 609 markers.

In 1921, Ashland ran up 56 points to Medford's 7 for the high point record to that date, but in 1927, the red and black trounced the Grizzlies 72-6, to crack the old mark.

Following are the Ashland-Medford scores since 1919:

Mrs. F. M. Carter and little daughter Paulina Elizabeth, having spent some time here visiting relatives and friends, returned to Sacramento last week. Mrs. L. A. Phillips, mother of Mrs. Carter, who has been ill, is improving.
