Seed Quarantine To Protect Vetch Growers

The request of Oregon seed producers to have a plant quarantine placed against imported vetch and certain types of pea seed has been approved by Washington authorities and such a quarantine went into effect on August 1, O. S. C. officials have notified.

The quarantine order, issued by the secretary of agriculture, says that it has been determined that certain imported vetch and pea seeds are frequently infested with one or more species of seed weevils, particularly the vetch bruchid. Heretofore no inspection had been made of these seeds for this pest, but from now on entry of such seeds will have to meet rigid inspection requirements.

This affords additional protection to the Oregon industry to that now provided by state quarantine, say the O. S. C. men. The highly destructive vetch bruchid has already become established in certain eastern and south Atlantic states where it is said to threaten the eastern vetch seed industry. Not been worked out and every effective control of this pest has fort is being made to keep it from spreading to the western states.

ASHLAND BOY ENLISTS IN ARMY

Among the recent applications for enlistment at the U. S. Army recruiting station in Medford was Robert L. Wheat, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wheat, 309 Pioneer Street. Wheat was enlisted and assigned to duty with the 91st Observation Squadron, Air Corps, Fort Lewis, Washington. Wheat has lived in or near Ashland nearly all his life and is a graduate of the Senior High School, class of 1935. There are many openings in the army now says Sergeant Charles R. Hill Recruiting Officer, not only in the air corps but in other branches of the service where many technical trades can be learned.

For young men interested in horses there are vacancies in the 11th Cavalry at Montarey, California. Hawaii is also open for those who wish to travel. Whether one wishes to travel, join the Cavalry, or enlist for a post in the Northwest, Sergeant Hill points out, the opportunities are the same. Army trained men are continually leaving the service for civilian jobs and the new man in the army steps up to fill his shoes. For those who wish to remain in the service there is always room for good men at the top.

A post card addressed to the U. S. Army recruiting station, city hall, Medford, will bring full information.

Electricity TO WASH MY CLOTHES COSTS LESS THAN THE SOAP

An electric washer abolishes forever those many hours spent over steaming tubs and washboard. Just put the clothes in, turn the switch, attend to other duties, and in no time at all, the entire week's laundry, from dainty handkerchiefs to sheets, is gently, thoroughly washed, without your touching a hand to the sudsy water. And a modern electric washer costs so little to buy—you pay for it in the longer time clothes wear!
