

Science Lecture At Lithia Theater Is Heard By Many

According to Prof. Herman S. Hering, member of the board of lecturership of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., the removal of abnormal conditions, structural, organic, or functional, has so frequently resulted from the study and application of Christian Science, that there is no longer any question regarding the fact that these changes can be brought about through divinely mental means, through spiritual prayer, as the Bible teaches.

An understanding of Christian Science, he said, can be gained only through faithful, thorough study and intelligent, scientific and persistent application of the teachings of Mary Baker Eddy. He explained to the audience, gathered in the Lithia theater last night, how Christian Science with its "Key to the Scriptures" enables the student to grasp, appreciate and understand the teachings of the Bible, by giving the spiritual sense of these teachings.

Prof. Hering spoke of his acquaintance and association with Mrs. Eddy, and of his observance of her as a master metaphysician, a genuine Christian, having the highest, purest sense of God, and having the deepest affection for mankind. When it was revealed to Mrs. Eddy, he said, that God is infinite Mind, she discerned that word to mean infinite consciousness, infinite intelligence, infinite understanding.

Throughout his lecture, which was given under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Lithia theater last night, Prof. Hering quoted frequently from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" to illustrate important points in his lecture.

RADIO PROGRAM GETS THANKS FROM INVALID

A touching sidelight on the concert played by the Ashland Orchestral society under the direction of Lawrence Hubert Tuesday evening over KMED gives a very vivid reason why such things are worth while.

A telephone call was received Wednesday from Mrs. Frances Damon, who stated that she is a shut-in, totally blind and very advanced in years. Her sole communication with the outside world is derived through her friends and her radio.

The program played by the orchestral society struck her as being one of the best she had ever listened to and she called to express her thanks for the pleasure it gave her.

She was deeply appreciative but not more so than the director and his musicians, who realize that if the programs give such pleasure to those who are denied the blessings some of us receive, then the effort and time expended in producing good music for the benefit of the community is certainly well repaid.

JOHN JOHNSON MYERS Funeral services for John Johnson Myers, aged Civil war veteran who died November 30, were held at the Dodge Funeral Chapel December 2 at 2:00 p. m., with interment in the Ashland cemetery.

My Neighbor Says:

Don't forget to water hydrangeas stored in your cellar. They should be watered occasionally during the winter.

When restringing beads use two strands of dental floss instead of one. Beads are not so likely to cut through two strands.

Potatoes bake more quickly if placed on the broiler instead of the floor of the gas oven and the flavor will be much improved by quick soaking.

Celery, onion and green pepper, when they are to be added to stuffings or meat fillings, are better when cooked for five minutes in a small amount of water.

Mince pies can be made two days prior to serving and reheated when time to serve. For variety sprinkle or thinly slice cheese over the top of the pie. When heated, the cheese melts.

PENNEY'S J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, Incorporated

SPORT SHORTS By Bill Hulen

We were wrong about that football coaching business at University of Oregon, and we are glad of it.

Some two weeks ago, just before the Oregon State-Oregon affair, it was our honest opinion that if old Oregon didn't snap out of it and beat their ancient rivals, Mr. Prince Gary Callison was going to lose his position as head coach. We'd almost have bet our last plugged penny on it.

But now, according to reports up Eugene way, Mr. Callison has been offered another contract, so everything is hunka-dora. Even though it only is a one-year agreement.

With another shot at that murderous round-robin schedule the Pacific Coast conference employs, Prink really ought to go places with his Webfoots next year. He loses very few regulars from this season's eleven, and coming up from the frog gang are some of the potentially greatest pigskin performers in many, many years.

Especially this fellow, Jay Greybeal from Pendleton high. After watching him scoot over, around and through the Sons at Grants Pass this year, we wonder how any team (ANY, we said) can hope to stop him if he is back of a good line and has a couple of blockers to shake him loose.

Don't think this Skeet O'Connell doesn't know his basketball. After watching him send his high school Grizzlies through their paces at the opening practice session early this week, we were ready to concede the fourth straight district championship and trip to Salem to Ashland.

O'Connell knows what it is all about, and what's more important, he had the undivided and entire interest of his squad all through the practice. In fact, the boys liked it so much that there was a great cry of disappointment when they finally were told to take a shower.

And while on the subject of basketball, which is what we will be on mainly for the next four months, the Sons of Jean Eberhart are going to have a whale of a team.

Already they are clicking in mid-season form, and after only three weeks of practice, Eberhart almost has too many good men, and we can only send up prayers that the Sons won't turn out like Howard Hobson's Oregon team last year, a victim of too much great material.

KITTY HILL NICHOLS

Kitty Hill Nichols died at her home in Dallas, Ore., Sunday, December 6. She was born in Kansas City, Kan., December 3, 1870 and was aged 66 years. She is survived by her husband, George, and by eight children, three of whom are George, jr., Milton and Edward, Ashland. Funeral services, in charge of Stock-Litwiller, were held at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday at their chapel with interment in the local Odd Fellows cemetery.

Miss Velma Brower and M. M. Brower were Medford visitors Tuesday, calling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Madden.

POTPOURRI Witch-Hazel Divining Rods

Because the twigs of a shrub found in northeastern United States had a peculiarity to twist and point in various directions, they were used by some in early days as divining rods for locating water, oil or other treasure. Represented as possessing supernatural power, the shrub soon came to be known as the witch-hazel.
