

Upstaters Offer Aid To Talent Industrial Fruit Alcohol Plans

In response to the Talent planning commission's plan to promote a power alcohol industry in this area, using waste fruit products as raw materials, the Portland chamber of commerce replied with, "We have checked with many of the distributors of industrial alcohol and they assure us that there is an exceptionally good market in the Pacific Northwest for industrial alcohol as well as on the Pacific coast."

Edward N. Weinbaum, manager of the trade and commerce department, wrote to Karl Baylor, president of the Talent commission and offered aid of his industries department in the Talent project.

Fire Destroys Small Frame House Sunday

Fire caused by a living room heating stove completely destroyed a small frame dwelling occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Webster, about 3 p. m. Sunday while residents were away.

The blaze was detected by a passing hitch-hiker but was a blazing inferno when firemen arrived and nothing was saved.

The building is owned by Ralph and Hower Billings, and was rented unfurnished to the Websters. Loss is estimated at several hundred dollars.
