343 NEW LAWS EFFECTIVE IN OREGON SUNDAY

By A. L. LINDBECK State Capital News Bureau of the Southern Oregon Miner SALEM—Better watch your step a little more closely Mr. and Mrs. Oregon. A long list of new rules and regulations governing your daily life becomes operative next Sunday when 343 statutes enacted by the recent legislature become effective.

But the situation is not as serious as it might appear at first glance. Most of the new acts are merely minor amendments to laws already on the statute books. A lot of the others are strictly local in their application such, for instance, as those providing pay increases for county officials. A few of these local laws which will affect a lot of people having business at their respective court Pasadená playhouse, Cottrell, Dorhouses provide for Saturday afternoon half holidays for county active in previous festivals under offices. Employes of 17 counties tedly sending one another in all will enjoy this boon hereafter. Included in this list are in Spain Uncle Sam was Benton, Deschutes, Douglas, Columbia, Klamath, Jackson, Josephine, Lake, Lane, Linn, Marion, Multnomah, Polk, Umatilla, Wasco, Washington and Yamhill.

Three of the new statutes are under the shadow of the referendum and may not become operative until approved by the voters if the referendum petitions are completed in time. These are the slot machine and pinball acts and the fair trade act.

Amendments to the hit-and-run driver act require the driver to report any damage inflicted to an unattended vehicle and make accident reports strictly confiden-

TO GATHER ON BANK OF ROGUE

HALF a hundred unregenerated sons of the desert will tread specially heated sands of the banks of Rogue river as Hillah temple, AAONMS, initiates a class of novices to the Mystic Shrine in elaborate ceremonials at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at the Elks picnic grounds 10 miles up the river from Medford, climaxing a day of festivities for Shriners from all of southwestern Oregon, according to publicity committeeman Noble R. E. Detrick of this city.

The spectacular affair will be the first outdoor conclave in the history of the southern Oregon temple which has its headquarters in Ashland. General chairman E. Jerome, Medford, has secured cooperation of Lem C. Carter former Hollywood scene builder and now stage director for Sac ramento's Ben Ali Temple, in constructing scenic backgrounds for Saturday's Arabic settings. Noble Carter will supervise a crew of 10 trained technicians in the work.

Illustrious Potentate John E Enders, formerly a resident here, will preside over the day-long festivities which will feature, besides the ceremonial, a golf tournament at 9 a. m., concert by Hillah Temple band and maneuvers by the game, Manager Leonard Hall will Temple patrol and drum corps at take his Lithian nine to Glendale 3 p. m., a parade of all Shriners Sunday when they will meet the at 4 p. m., and open air banquet veteran but disgruntled Loggers at 6:30 p. m. at the picnic in the first of two consecutive grounds. J. J. Deakin Weds Florida Doctor Here

Dr. M. Grace B. Hanna became the wife of J. J. Deakin immediately preceding the mid-week prayer service at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday in the Baptist church. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. C. E. Dunham.

The couple was unattended as they made their way to the altar to the strains of the Wedding March played by Mrs. C. E. Dunham, Elaborate floral decorations of roses and St. Joseph lilies were used in the church auditorium where more than 50 friends witnessed the wedding.

Deakin is a well known real estate operator of this city and his bride, before her marriage, was a doctor in Lakelands, Fla.

Copco Recognizes Union of Workers

Organization of the California Oregon Power company operating department workers recently wil see negotiations of unannounced union demands begin after June 15 between the power company and representatives of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

A temporary agreement signed by the Copco president, C. M. Brewer, and J. Scott Milne, of the Yreka local, recognizes the union's right to represent 65 per cent of workers of the operating department in any necessary bargaining.

Guides Conclave! BOOSTER GROUP DELAYS PLANS FOR JULY 4 FETE

WITH July 4th only a month away members of the celebration committee from the Chamber of Commerce advertising group met last night at the chamber office but failed to crystallize any definite plans for a fiesta.

Originally it had been planned to stage an elaborate hosiday here, with athletic contests, carnival, a parade, bands and other amusements but curtailed financial backing led to a lessening of enthusiasm.

Refusing to set up for the stipulated price of $600 offered by H. L. Claycomb as agent for the committee, the Browning Amusement company countered with an offer to pay $300 for privilege of showing here June 28 through July 5. A wire was drafted at Thursday night's meeting accepting those terms with a rider preventing any carnival confliction with a tentatively planned wrestling card promoted by Mack Lillard for the evening of July 5. Last year's card was a successful attraction.

It now appears likely that the July 4 affair in Ashland will be advertised lightly in southern Oregon and northern California by radio and local newspaper, and invitations will be sent to Granges and other organizations extending them the city's hospitality over the holidays and to enjoy picnics in Lithia park, entertainment to include a tentatively planned baseball game, band music, and regular amusement facilities such as resorts, golf and swimming. Members of the committee, after a canvass of business men, regarded the idea of an elaborate parade and municipal fireworks display as being more expensive than practical.

Committeemen agreed that the more complete celebration of other years was a splendid step in a program of advertising to make tourists Ashland-conscious, but all conditions existing this year.

Definite assurance of carnival Applications for licenses now acceptance is expected to be the are being received at the rate of cue for more detailed plans.
