

AND THEN THE FUN BEGAN!

HINDSIGHT ON SPORTS

By I TOLD YOU SO

SPORTS FANS, and those who are not yet aware that in them is an enthusiasm for basketball should make certain they see the Junior high school cage team action tonight against Corvallis on the local floor and on Saturday night when the Roseburg Juniors come here. Coach Earl Rogers' little lads have been doing big things this season and this week-end's series will be the Juniors' first home game in more than a month. During the meantime the youngsters have been traveling from Klamath Falls to Corvallis, Salem, Roseburg and Grants Pass licking the tops off everyone and lifting high athletic banners of Ashland.

Even those persons who wouldn't walk across the street to see the world's best teams play could thrill deeply while watching the long-legged boys in their early teens scamper over the maple in dead earnest.

There's something about the Ashland Juniors have at that arouses enthusiasm and pride in watching hometowners, and there's something about the Rogersmen go after that that dismays opponents up and down the state.

Following the games here with Corvallis tonight and Roseburg Saturday, the Juniors will meet Medford, Klamath high Frosh and Ramont Juniors of Klamath Falls on the Junior high floor in rapid succession.

Their appearances in Ashland would be the occasion for breast-swelling pleasure on the part of prideful fans who will be surprised to see for themselves the handful of boys who have become the outstanding junior high basketball team in the state.

See the games tonight and tomorrow evening in the local gym. We promise you'll be glad you did, and proud of the clean-cut, hustling lads who represent our city.

One Willie Hulen, who writes a sports graft column in the Medford Mail Tribune, denies by innuendo that it was he who stopped red paint onto the Ashland high school's rear wall despite the circumstance of incriminating crimson evidence coloring his nose. And if Hulen doesn't know who wielded the brush, The Miner wonders if his ghostwriter, I. Pickem nose.

Hulen referred to I Told You So as a forgetful host, in defense of which all we can say is that this writer never forgets when he's a guest. At least, not that we remember.

And thanks, Willie, for referring to the refreshments as tasting like anti-freeze. (Prestone costs $2.95 per gal, and nothing's too good for our friends!)

Miss Jeanette Talent was an overnight guest at the home of Miss Veeda Williams Sunday.
