

BUS LINE MOVES DIVISION POINT TO CANYONVILLE

ASHLAND this week was in the process of losing 14 families as the result of the elimination of one division between San Francisco and Portland by the Dollar Bus lines. The new schedule, which went into effect on some trips yesterday and will be completed by Saturday, removes the Ashland division point to Canyonville. The bus drivers and their families residing here for the last several years will move their homes to Canyonville.

Previously, three division points—where drivers changed busses—were located at Red Bluff, Ashland and Eugene. In the future the Dollar lines will change drivers at Redding and Canyonville between San Francisco and Portland.

The Greyhound bus line, which also operates through Ashland, has its nearest division point in Medford, according to Harry Travis,

Lions Club Resists Move To Admit Ladies at Jamboree Party Set for March 8 Here

SHADES of mama's apron strings! Lions of Ashland missed by a whisker turning pantywaist Tuesday night when, during regular dinner meeting in the Lithia hotel, one member dropped a bombshell in plans for the club's stag jamboree scheduled for Wednesday night, March 8, in the VFW hall.

The member, unnamed in deference to his domestic status, suggested that the party be opened to the ladies!

Salads and steaks lay neglected as arguments flew across table thick and fast on both sides of the proposal. However, the problem was solved in good humor, after Lions had ribbed one another with their favorite suffrage jibes, and the jamboree will occur as originally planned—strictly for the entainment, enjoyment and civil liberties of the male species.

The stag party will be open to Lions and their invited guests, as well as to visiting Lions from Medford, Grants Pass, Klamath Falls and Yreka. Games, burlesque skits and unique entertainment ideas are being worked out by a committee including Bill Snider, Walter Leverette, Art Cooper, Earl Nutter, George Goswick, Chan Beebe, John Broady, Paul Finnell and I. C. Erwin. Ticket sales will be in charge of Lions Snider, I. F. Andres and Earl Leever while the club has divided into three competing teams for sales, which got under way this week.

Proceeds of the stag jamboree will be used by the Lions club to finance the new tourist guide service which will be inaugurated in Ashland in the spring.

Marshall Carter To Tackle McShain In Top Bout Monday

Marshall Carter, ex-University of Missouri grappling instructor, gets the chance of his life at Medford armory Monday night, Feb. 20, when he faces the tough Dangerous Danny McShain, lightweight champion of the world, in Promoter Mack Lillard's top main event. Carter is a clever workman and has his pet treatment for the tough ones but it is a question if he can take McShain's dirt long enough to win.

Paul Murdock of Texas returns after quite an absence, during which time he has been wrestling in the midwest, to face dynamite Pete Belcastro, the wild Weed Wop, in the center attraction. Murdock is one of the cleverest men in the business but when his hair is brushed the wrong way he turns villain of the first degree, as Belcastro learned on a couple of occasions some time ago.

In the opening bout another favorite returns in the person of Danny Savich, former all-American football ace from the University of Utah, who faces Frankie Schroll, the crocodile clutcher from Kansas. Savich is a clever but rough guy and this go should be a thrill-provider.

Ingle's Near Cinch For County AAU Championship, Trip

Ingle's Drugstore Cowboys Thursday night moved to within one easy step of the county AAU basketball championship when they smeared Medford's Lamports 33-8. Tuesday night they will play their final game with Jacksonville in the SONS gym. A win then will deliver them the title and right to enter the state AAU tourney in Portland next month.

In the SONS gym last night two other games added interest and comedy to the race, Central Point taking a close 26-23 battle from Lost River Dairymen, and SONS Frosh clowning to a 40-13 rebuff of Jacksonville.

In the Ingle game, Mayberry was high with eight markers for the Cowboys while four Lamport men tied for scoring honors with a lone field goal apiece. Don Burden scored seven for Lost River while his opponent, M. Simmons of Central Point, goaled eight. In the SONS Frosh-Jville farce, a 22-4 half-time score was the signal for sending Harry Johnson, 255-pound Ferdinand, and Waterboy Smith into the game. Two former Ashland high school stars, Buzz Roberson and Harry Hoxie, appeared in Lost River suits.

Besides the Ingle-Jville game here Tuesday, SONS and the CCC teams will play, a victory for the Frosh meaning second place honors.

Second Talent Mat Melee Draws Large Crowd Pleased Fans

The Talent Volunteer Fire department's second monthly smoker held in their new recreation center in the Wolters building Wednesday night was declared an outstanding success by a large crowd in attendance.

Five wrestling matches and four boxing slugfests were included on the program, together with a clever and interesting weight lifting exhibition by George Martin and Don Wilder of Medford.

Boxing results: Willie Daze, 160, Canyonville, drew in the fourth round with Buzz Redkey, 167, of Talent; Dennis Stout, 178, Talent, drew with Don Wilder, 142, Medford; Birma Riggs, 110, drew with Harry Wolters, 108, both of Talent.

Wrestling: George Martin, 165, Medford, met John Childers, 165, Talent; Orval Stocks, 165, Talent, met Don Wilton, 159, Medford, in two of the five pairings.

Ashland Juniors Top List of Conference Basketball Standings

JUNIOR HIGH STANDINGS	Won	Lost	Pct.
Ashland	7	1	.875
Medford	4	2	.667
Klamath Frosh	2	1	.667
Altamont (KF)	2	3	.400
G. Pass Frosh	1	2	.333
Roseburg Jrs.	0	5	.000

The above percentages include only junior high games of southern Oregon. Ashland's two wins over Corvallis and one victory over Albany are not shown. With four more conference games left it looks as though Ashland will win the southern Oregon championship for the second time in a row.

One win over Medford by the locals would likely give Ashland the championship on a percentage basis and two wins would without question establish Ashland as one of the best junior high outfits in the state.

Ashland High Quint Splits Pair Games With Klamath Falls

Ashland high school's Grizzlies last week-end split a hustling pair of games on the Pelican floor, losing Friday night's encounter 26-23, and winning the Saturday game 27-23. A lack of confidence in the first game was given as an impediment to making it three straight with the Klamath county rivals, Ashland having taken an early season game here.

Coach Skeet O'Connell sent a revised lineup into both games with Harris, Silver, Weaver, Jessel and Smith seeing action the first night and Ardis Warren going into the fray Saturday evening. Harris and Silver were outstanding for Ashland. The games concluded the meetings for the two teams for the season.

California Couple Buys Camp Ground

H. B. Curtis, builder and owner of the Bungalow auto court on Siskiyou boulevard at the south city limits, this week announced sale of the property to Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Barnes of Merced, Calif., who will take over the property during the week-end.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Barnes have had a number of years experience in auto camp business, and will personally manage the Bungalow coffee shop, service station and cabins. The camp received wide attention when Curtis, during recent construction operations, uncovered a large quicksand deposit containing dozens of prehistoric bones and museum pieces.

Curtis, early next week, will return to Oakland, Calif., where he will reenter the building business.
