Beauty School Offers Student Finance Plan

The Medford School of Beauty Culture this week announced a special financing plan for students interested in studying to become operators. According to Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Moyer, owners and managers of the school, the course can be financed, including equip- ment and uniforms, for a small monthly payment starting 30 days after the student has enrolled.
The Medford School of Beauty Culture has been operating for more than five years and now boasts a regular staff of four in- structors. Mrs. Lena Moyer has been a successful operator since 1924, owning her own shop for several years and later working with a facial and scalp doctor in Meier & Frank's store in Portland. Other instructors include Miss Viola Bronson, formerly of the Senator Hotel shop in Salem, and Miss Ione Powers and Mrs. Mar- garet Lyons.
The Medford school features up- to-date equipment and latest de- velopments in hair styling. Mrs. Moyer and instructors attending beauty shows regularly to keep abreast of the times.

NEW SHELL STATION IS LOCALLY BUILT PROJECT

The new service station being built at the corner of Siskiyou boulevard and East Main streets for the Shell Oil company by J. D. Mars, owner, is an entirely local project, it was explained this week by Mars, who said that although the Teller Construction company of Portland is supervising the job, but one employe, Bert Palmer, is here to represent the northern company.
All materials and labor on the station are being procured in Ash- land, including plumbing, wiring, glass, sash, lumber, cement, sand and gravel. Structural steel not available here, is the one product purchased from out of town.
