AND THEN THE FUN BEGAN!

I'll put this SHARE-THE-ROAD EMBLEM on your car FREE!

PULL into my station and let me sign you up as a new member of the Shell Share-the-Road Club. It's a nation-wide crusade AGAINST "Screwdrivers" and their traffic boners . . . FOR common-sense driving.

We can cut Stop-and-Go 25% right now, say leading traffic experts—if we all do our part. So let me attach the handsome Share-the-Road emblem to your car FREE. I'll also give you a free booklet showing how "Screwdrivers" and their traffic boners pile up needless Stop-and-Go.

Remember—for the Stop-and-Go you CAN'T avoid, you'll save with Super-Shell.

Ashland AAUW Told Of Potent Sessions At Convention in Salem

Miss Helen King, who recently returned from Salem where she attended the state convention of the American Association of University Women, April 14 and 15, to which she was a delegate from the Ashland branch, reports a busy and profitable convention.

Friday afternoon the delegates were entertained at tea in the home of President Bruce Baxter on the Willamette campus, members of the Salem branch being hostess. Friday evening a banquet was held in the mirror room of the Marion hotel, attended by 275 persons, among them Chancellor and Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter of the state system of higher education, President and Mrs. Bruce Baxter of the Willamette university, President and Mrs. George A. Peavey of the state college at Corvallis, and President and Mrs. Donald M. Erb from the University of Oregon at Eugene. The principal speaker at the banquet was Dr. Louise Pound, national vice president of the AAUW, professor of English at the University of Nebraska, and internationally known student of American speech. Dr. Pound is an advocate of the easy American manner of speech as opposed to a stilted or acquired accent, whether the so-called Oxford or other manner, and urges that Americans be proud of their own speech ways and strive to foster rather than to stamp out those regional distinctions which so interestingly characterize the different sections of the broad country. Dr. Pound, a witty speaker, and warmly applauded throughout her address, announced that she had eaten and spoken her way through Oregon different ways of using milk in home cooking.

● Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Martin and Louise and J. H. Williams visited Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Korth at Pinehurst.

● Mrs. C. H. Modrell returned Friday of last week from Klamath Falls where she was sent as a delegate from the Bellview PT-A to the state convention.

● Miss Nina Hazelwood spent Wednesday in Ashland at the home of Mrs. Hazel Ferns.

● Mrs. H. J. Kuni of Medford is visiting this week at the home of Mrs. C. H. Modrell. She is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Modrell's.

● Mrs. R. J. Modrell of Portland, who had been visiting for several days at the C. H. Modrell home, left Tuesday for Stockton, where she will spend an indefinite time. She is a sister-in-law to Mrs. Modrell.

and was enthusiastically enjoying her stay in the Pacific west.

Of special interest to the Ashland branch is the assurance that the new state president of AAUW, Miss Beryl Holt of Salem, will visit the local branch during the coming year. This visit will be the first made by the state president since the association was organized by the former state president, Mrs. V. D. Earl of Eugene, three years ago.

Miss King, who has been chairman of the International Relations group of the local AAUW during the past two years, states that she attended a breakfast with representatives of this group in Salem on Saturday morning, and reports that the state chairman was favorably impressed with the work accomplished by the Ashland chapter, requesting the Ashland delegate to repeat her report of the local branch to the assembled group.

At a business meeting of delegates, reports from 19 branches of Oregon contained information as to what other groups in the are doing, information which Ashland delegate hopes to valuable and helpful for the branch next year. Complete report of these matters is given at the next general meeting of the association.

The convention closed with luncheon at the Marion hotel Saturday noon.
