FATHER'S DAY

Speaking of Dads, Here's a Choice Group; Their Children Helped Make Them Famous

"I don't care much for Bankhead but I'd like to meet Tallulah." So ran the song from "I'd Rather Be Right." William Bankhead is speaker of the House. Daughter Tallulah is a stage actress.

SUNDAY, June 18, brings local observance of the twenty-ninth annual Father's Day, a custom originated at Spokane, Wash., in 1910 by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, now director of a funeral home. She started it in tribute to her father, a G.A.R. veteran named William J. Smart. Most fathers aren't illustrious, but they're Dad to someone and nothing else counts. Some fathers are famous in their own right. Others, strangely, grow in stature partly through notoriety achieved through their children. Here are five samples:

Joseph P. Kennedy, U. S. ambassador to Britain, millionaire, former S.E.T. chairman and maritime commission chairman, is quite a family man by sides. He'll get nine presents this Father's Day.

Umpire Emmett "Red" Ormsby of the American league knows his strikes and fouls but must sometimes think twice to remember his children's names. Good reason—they're 12 strong, ranging from 2 to 16 years.

Eighty-five-year-old Henry Morgenstau was famous years ago as ambassador to Turkey and an international peace worker. Son Henry, now secretary of the treasury, keeps Henry Sr.'s name in the limelight.

Father Oliva Dionne was just another man with a large family until the quints came along. Five of a kind would keep most men busy. But don't forget that Papa Dionne has seven other young mouths to feed!

day at the home of Mrs. Farmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Byrd, and at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Woodworth, who are constructing the Lodge Pole trailer camp, have completed work on rest rooms and showers. The new camp is located two miles south of the Ashland city limits on the Pacific highway.

The Bellview Home Extension unit held a picnic at the home of Mrs. Vincent Lanini of the Dead Indian district Friday. The covered dish dinner was served outdoors at 1 p. m. No business meeting was held and members did fancy work and visited during the afternoon. About 20 women were present.

The embroidery club held a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Edwin Dunn. During the day members made cold and tissue creams from a recipe given by Mrs. Mabel Mack, home demonstration agent. Those present included Mesdames Walter Longstreth, Mattie Crow, Herman Helm, Roy Crow, Ben Christlieb, Claude Conley and the hostess.

The annual school election will be held in the Bellview schoolhouse at 8 p. m. Monday, June 19. Bellview people will elect one director for a three-year term to replace Herman Helm, whose term expires, and a clerk to succeed Mrs. Charles Anderson.

Dale Anderson left Thursday for San Francisco where he will spend a month visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Hushower, and with other relatives and friends. Dale also will eye the fair while there.

ELECTRIC COOKING

COSTS ONLY 1/2 THAT MUCH!

And It's CLEAN • COOL CONVENIENT • ECONOMICAL

In warm, summer weather an electric range is a necessity in YOUR kitchen! It's CLEAN—no soot, ashes and grime, no scouring of pots and pans! COOL, too! Electric cooking ends the drudgery of preparing meals in an overheated, unhealthy kitchen. CONVENIENT in every way—instant heat exactly where you want it at the turn of a switch; automatic cooking, too, gives added hours of leisure. ECONOMICAL? Certainly! Only half as much as you'd guess it would cost!
